ACCUSE MURPHY OF INTIMIDATING DIES WITNESSES

Head of Committee Charges Meddling.

BY WILLARD EDWARDS.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Feb. 2.—[Special.]—Representative Martin Dies [D., Tex.] today accused the department of justice, under Attorney General Frank Murphy, of harassing and intimidating witnesses who appeared before the committee on un-American activities of which Dies was chairman.

Rep. Leo Allen questions Dies on politics in quiz.

Dies made his charges before the house rules committee which, by unanimous vote, approved a resolution extending the life of the committee. The resolution will be brought up in the house tomorrow and adopted, according to reliable reports, with not more than 60 votes being cast against it.

Funds to continue the inquiry will be determined later by the house committee on accounts. The amount is expected to be $100,000.

Quiz Aimed at Witnesses.

President Roosevelt announced several weeks ago that Attorney General Murphy would make an investigation of un-American activities. The investigation thus far, Dies told the committee, has been directed not at communism, Fascism, or Naziism, but at witnesses who told the Dies committee of these groups.

"In the last two weeks the department of justice has been harassing these witnesses," said Dies. "They have complained to me that they have been dragged in, grilled, and intimidated. This, no doubt, is an effort to make witnesses fearful of appearing at future hearings of the committee. No committee can conduct a real investigation when it faces the intimidation of its witnesses by the executive branch of the government."

House Quiz Expected.

It was indicated that Dies' charges will be investigated by the house appropriations committee when the department of justice makes its annual request for funds to carry it through the next fiscal year. The committee also will inquire into the refusal of the department of justice to lend investigators to the Dies committee last year, although the department was liberal with its aid to the La Follette committee which concentrated upon alleged espionage methods used by business against labor.

"Our committee was opposed by Secretaries Ickes and Perkins almost before we got started," Dies told the rules committee. "These two cabinet officers issued wilful and malicious statements concerning the work of the committee. Coöperation of government departments was refused despite a specific injunction of congress that such help be given. Instead, the committee was denounced by high government officials, from the President down."

Questioned About Politics.

Representative Leo E. Allen [R., Ill.], a member of the rules committee, questioned Dies about the charge that his investigation had functioned to the benefit of the Republican party and to the detriment of the Democratic party.

"There were five Democrats and two Republicans on the committee," Allen pointed out. "Did any member use methods calculated to help one party and hurt the other?"

"Emphatically no," replied Dies. "Would we have sought aid of the New Deal agencies if we had planned to besmirch the New Deal? That the evidence disclosed the communistic connections of some New Deal candidates was not the fault of the committee."

Dies said that the committee had made some mistakes.

"But what congressional committee doesn't make mistakes?" he asked. "Nothing ever is said about the fact, which is now uncontroverted, that certain witnesses before the La Follette committee who attacked American business men were well known communists."

AMERICAN FIRM TO CARRY MAIL AND PASSENGERS

Routes Will Include England, France.

BY WALTER TROHAN.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Feb. 2.—[Special.]—Trans-Atlantic passenger and mail service by air before June 1 was assured today when the state department announced that Great Britain has given permission for Pan-American Airways to start regular flights before similar service is started by the British Imperial Airways.

Pan-American Airways is physically ready to begin flights by March 1. However, the company has not obtained a certificate of convenience and necessity from the Civil Aeronautics authority. Hearings on the certificate and for the purpose of determining rate subsidies may prevent the start of regular flights until May 15.

Two Routes Available.

The British action made the northern Atlantic route available for use by American planes. Two weeks ago the southern route was made available on the conclusion of an agreement with the French government. It is believed the French agreement spurred the British into giving American interests the right of way in the northern Atlantic.

Both routes are to be flown by American planes. However, it is expected that the northern route will be the first to be used. British and French planes will make reciprocal flights as soon as they are prepared to do so. The British expect to be ready about June 1.

The American port of the northern route would be at North Beach on Long Island sound. The route would be from New York to Shediac, New Brunswick, to Botwood, Newfoundland, to Foynes at the mouth of the Shannon river, Ireland, and then to Southampton, England. The distance is approximately 3,500 miles.

Three Bases to Be Used.

The southern route would have a shifting American base. In winter flights would be from Baltimore and in the summer from New York. There also is a third base at Charleston, S. C., which can be used in the event weather is unfavorable elsewhere.

It is possible that Charleston may be chosen as the regular base if experience demonstrates that the city's year 'round weather conditions are more favorable.

The southern route will be from the American base to Bermuda, then to the Azores, then to Lisbon, Portugal, and thence to Marseilles, France. Planes will probably skirt the Mediterranean coast of Spain and France in flights to Marseilles.

Two Planes Ready to Fly.

Pan-American Airways has two trans-Atlantic planes ready to make flights and will have three more within a few months. The planes are 80,000 pound four motored clipper ships capable of a 4,000 mile nonstop range with passengers and air mail.

Imperial Airways is experimenting with two types of craft. One is the De Haviland Albatross, a fast four motored low wing cabin monoplane which would cruise at 220 miles an hour and have a range of 3,500 miles, and the other is the radical Mayo pick-a-back departure.

Pan-American Airways had hoped to start flights last year, but the British were not ready.

Owned by Industry.

Pan-American Airways is headed by Cornelius V. Whitney of New York. Juan T. Trippe is president and general manager. Directors include bankers, airplane, engine, and accessory manufacturers. Among them are Donald W. Douglas of Douglas Aircraft, S. W. Fairchild of Fairchild Aircraft, F. B. Rentschler of Pratt & Whitney.

Pan-American was incorporated in 1927 as the Aviation Corporation of America to buy the Aviation Corporation of the Americas and the Atlantic, Gulf and Caribbean Airways, Inc. The National Aviation corporation owns 50,000 shares of the stock, and Whitney and his associates own more than a million shares.

Collision Sinks Jap U-Boat; Forty Aboard

TOKIO, Feb. 3 [Friday].—(AP)—The first class Japanese submarine I-63 sank yesterday morning in Bungo channel, where the water averages 330 feet in depth, the admiralty announced today.

Forty men probably were aboard, the admiralty said. Rescue operations were begun at once.

The vessel sank after a collision with another submarine during maneuvers in the strait between the Japanese islands of Kiushu and Shikoku, 400 miles southwest of Tokio.

Admiral Mitsumasa Yonai, navy minister, called at the imperial palace, presumably to report the accident to Emperor Hirohito.

The I-63, which was completed in 1928, had a displacement of 1,635 tons. It carried eight 21 inch torpedo tubes and had a cruising radius enabling it to cross the Pacific ocean and return without refueling.

Plane Flies from St. Louis to Chicago in 70 Minutes

Officials of the Chicago and Southern Air Lines announced yesterday that their City of New Orleans, with eight passengers, set a new transport plane record of 1 hour and 10 minutes from St. Louis to Chicago on Wednesday. The distance is 288 miles. The last 144 miles were flown in 29 minutes. Regular time for the trip is 1 hour and 54 minutes.

Emergency crews liberated 600 automobiles stranded between Los Angeles and San Francisco, after a blizzard which left six inches of snow.

The Checkers Thinker-Upper Jumps to Fame

For thirty years William J. Wood has spent five nights a week at the checkers table. He played last night as usual—alone. But he had something he wouldn't have traded for opponents enough for the rest of his life.

William J. Wood.

It was a certificate that he is the National Checkers Problem Composer Champion. That is, the imaginary situations he conjures up are the meanest ones any authority in the whole country can think of for a checkers player.

If a checkers player ever gets into a spot that Wood devises he might just as well quit playing or get Wood's diagram of the way out.

He Liked the Game.

Wood never particularly wanted to be the champion. He began playing checkers because he liked it. Every night that he could he visited a different fire station to play checkers.

Well, sir, he got to be the best checkers player in Waukegan.

But soon he knew so many plays it wasn't any fun trying to beat him. He just attacked you with plan 37, or 63-A, and there you were. No one came to the parties in his home at 804 Clarke avenue, Waukegan.

Children Kept in Dark.

His wife decided long ago she didn't like the game and she wouldn't let the three children learn it. Wood began playing imaginary opponents. He thought of difficult plans of attack for them and then set out to foil them. In three decades he had some problems that would stump any one but him.

Last fall he sent the National Checkers association copies of all his problems and asked if he weren't a good problem composer. The association tried to figure them out for months and then replied that he's the champ—the granddaddy, indeed, of all checkers problem composers. It's a new title, and as you can see, a long one: National Checkers Problem Composer Champion.

Moscow Sees U. S. as Ally in European War

A Threat from Italy

ROME, Feb. 2.—(AP)—President Roosevelt's assertion that the American frontier is in France drew a Fascist threat today. It was that if the United States extended its first line to Europe Germany and Italy would move their defenses "up to the Panama Canal."

Virginio Gayda, regarded as Premier Mussolini's spokesman, writing in Il Giornale d'Italia under the heading "Peace Sabotaged by Washington," said: "Roosevelt's policy, which lavishes itself in creating new gratuitous complications in Europe, becomes responsible for the profoundest world alterations."

Charges that President Roosevelt was trying to provoke a world war to destroy totalitarian states burst simultaneously in all afternoon papers.

BY DONALD DAY.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

RIGA, Latvia, Feb. 2.—Although soviet Russia was not mentioned directly by President Roosevelt in his declaration that the frontier of the United States is in France and that America firmly stands behind the European democracies, the soviet press considers the Moscow government as one of these democracies.

Mr. Roosevelt's declaration to the senate military affairs committee on Tuesday is welcomed by Moscow as the first step toward forming an international democratic front for a war to the finish with Germany, Italy and Japan. The last three nations are members of the anti-communist pact.

Official soviet opinion, as announced by the communist internationale radio station in Moscow, is disappointed because the President did not mention the soviet government.

New Orders for Browder.

A special session of IKKI—executive committee of the communist internationale—today formulated new instructions for Earl Browder, general secretary of the communist party in the United States.

He is directed to organize communist rallies on Lincoln's birthday under this slogan: "Arrange alliances between Moscow, Washington, London and Paris against aggressor nations, and line up public opinion in the United States behind Mr. Roosevelt to sharpen his stand against aggressor nations."

The communist internationale radio station tonight called upon communist sympathizers in Germany to increase their acts of sabotage and to strengthen their secret organizations for the moment when Germany becomes involved in war. The broadcast, which was in the German language, described Mr. Roosevelt's declaration as the most cheerful news for revolutionary workers in months.

Praise for Roosevelt.

An official spokesman of the soviet foreign office commented on Mr. Roosevelt's action with the words, "Better late than never." He recalled repeated suggestions in the soviet press that America should join forces with the European democracies, including Russia, and overthrow the present governments of Germany, Italy and Japan.

The soviet spokesman indicated Mr. Roosevelt's declaration not only was a great diplomatic victory for England and France; he intimated that the soviet government also shares in the triumph since the ties binding the soviet government with the United States are growing ever closer.

He hinted that Moscow welcomes and cherishes the admiration and support which it has found among the American people in its struggle against the anti-communist pact nations.

SENATORS VOTE TODAY TO BARE AIR GIFT RECORD

Nye Charges British Get U. S. Device.

BY CHESLY MANLY.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Feb. 2.—[Special.]—With increasing demands in congress for a public statement of President Roosevelt's mysterious dealings with France and England, the senate military affairs committee tomorrow will vote to publish the record of its investigation of the French airplane scandal. A survey today indicated that at least ten of the eighteen members favored making the record public in an effort to put an end to secret diplomatic deals.

Sen. G. P. Nye Makes Charges.

The record is expected to show that President Roosevelt, over the objections of the war department, directed that a French air mission be authorized to try out with a view of purchasing American military planes even before the United States army had had opportunity to test them.

Roosevelt's Remarks Excluded.

When published, however, the record will not include the remarks of the most important witness the committee has heard—Mr. Roosevelt himself. He told the committee at a secret session in the White House Tuesday, that France and England constituted our first line of defense and that this government was prepared to give them all possible assistance to save civilization from the threatened aggressions of the totalitarian states—Nazi Germany and Fascist Italy.

As the military affairs committee prepared to resume its investigation of the French airplane deal, Senator Gerald P. Nye [R., N. D.] served notice that he would demand an investigation of reports that the army's new anti-aircraft gun detector, said to be this country's most important military secret, has been released for sale to the British.

Demands Investigation.

"I have received reports that the administration has released for sale to Great Britain the army's mechanical airplane detector, regarded as the army's greatest military secret," Senator Nye declared. "I intend to demand that these reports be investigated by the military affairs committee."

Members of the committee said the release of the anti-aircraft gun detector, if true, would be even more sensational than the privilege accorded to France to purchase American military planes designed for war department competition.

Reported Best in Existence.

At the last session of congress, when the late Senator Royal S. Copeland [D., N. Y.] led a successful fight to increase the army's appropriation, there were only thirty-six of the gun detectors in this country. They are said to be far superior to anything possessed by any other nation. Very little information concerning the detector has been made public, but it is said to locate an approaching airplane even in darkness by means of a radio beam. The operators of the gun can locate a plane and direct their fire upon it long before the plane itself comes into view.

Members of the military affairs committee today obtained the official regulations of the army and navy governing the release of aircraft and aircraft equipment to blast the administration's contention that the French airplane deal was an ordinary commercial transaction.

Regulations Are Cited.

Promulgated last Aug. 10 by Admiral William D. Leahy, acting secretary of the navy, and Louis Johnson, acting secretary of war, the regulations declare:

"Foreign inspection at aircraft plants manufacturing for the war or navy department will be permitted only when specifically authorized by the war or navy department and then only under special circumstances.

"Pilot and passenger flights by foreign representatives for demonstration purposes in aircraft coming within the scope of paragraph three above shall not be permitted, whether or not such aircraft have been released for foreign sale."

Paragraph three prescribes the scope of the release policy, including "articles the whole or any feature of which have been or are being developed or manufactured by or for the war department or the navy department or with the participation of either of those departments," and articles "which have been developed in accordance with army or navy specifications."

The Douglas light bomber, which crashed at Los Angeles with a French air ministry agent aboard, was constructed according to war department specifications for entry in the war department competitive tests for use by the army. Furthermore, the war department itself had paid for a large part of the technical experimentation.

Because of these circumstances and the army's rigid regulations, the war department refused permission for the French mission to test the Douglas bomber until President Roosevelt ordered it.

Secretary of the Treasury Henry Morgenthau Jr. denied today that the 2 billion dollar stabilization fund, which he manages secretly with no public accounting, was being used directly or indirectly to assist the French in their airplane purchases. Morgenthau, however, objected to a demand contained in a resolution by Senator Henry Cabot Lodge Jr. [R., Mass.] for a public accounting of the 2 billion dollar fund.

Morgenthau Favors Secrecy.

"If the congress should direct us to make available information or to make the information public, it is available for it," Morgenthau said. "But I don't believe it would be in the public interest to do so."

Morgenthau said the removal of secrecy would lessen the usefulness of the fund. "We act as agents for other governments for their account, with their money, and they want their operations kept secret," he said.

The possible use of the stabilization fund for extending credits to France had been hinted in senate debate because of Morgenthau's still mysterious part in the airplane deal.

A bipartisan senate group, under the leadership of Senator Arthur H. Vandenberg [R., Mich.] and Senator Patrick McCarran [D., Nev.], began a movement today to press President Roosevelt with demands that he tell the American people what he told the senate military affairs committee in secret on Monday.

"The people have a right to know what is going on," said Senator Vandenberg. "The complaint of democracies against dictatorships is that rulers take their people into war without their knowledge and consent. Democracies complain that dictators stimulate war through secret diplomacy. We seem to be threatened here at home with the very technique which we criticize."

Tell Advantages of Plan.

Senators believe that if Mr. Roosevelt is compelled to tell the American people what he told the military affairs committee the public reaction will put an end to his mysterious world saving endeavors with France and England. On the other hand, if he tells the American people a different story, the senate's distrust of his foreign policies will put an end to the pending "emergency" national defense program, according to the senate strategists.

Mr. Roosevelt refused today to tell a house appropriations subcommittee whether his administration would permit Germany and Italy to purchase airplanes in this country on the same basis afforded the French. When asked that question by a Republican member, he said it was an "if" question.

Mr. Roosevelt summoned the eight member subcommittee to the White House apparently for the purpose of allaying their suspicions and expediting action on a pending measure to make $50,000,000 available immediately to begin construction of airplanes during the current fiscal year. The whole national defense program calls for 3,000 additional army planes to cost 300 million dollars.

Republicans Attack Policy.

Republican members of the house foreign affairs committee, headed by Representative Hamilton Fish of New York, issued a statement deploring the "unneutral actions and secret methods employed by the President of the United States" in foreign relations.

"We urge the President to present all the facts openly to the American people and to uphold our traditional foreign policy of neutrality, non-intervention and peace," the Republican group added. "American people, irrespective of party, are opposed to being committed to any war program through secret diplomacy."

Atlantic Air Service Assured

Northern and southern Atlantic air routes for passenger and mail service. Service will be started on the northern route before June 1. Permission has been granted by Great Britain and France for American planes to fly both routes. French and British planes will make reciprocal flights. Three bases in the United States will be used on the southern route.

FRENCH AMBASSADOR IN CHICAGO, DODGES TALK ON SECRET PACT

Count René Doynel de St. Quentin, French ambassador to the United States, arrived here yesterday for a three day stay. He visited Mayor Kelly, lunched at the stockyards, attended a reception of the Alliance Française at the Arts club and dined at the Casino. Today he will lunch at the Chicago club, visit the Art institute, and dine with Mr. and Mrs. Charles S. Dewey.

Count de St. Quentin.

Count de St. Quentin was asked about alleged secret dealings by President Roosevelt with Great Britain and France over air armaments. He replied: "If there were secret agreements they would be secret."

At the Saddle and Sirloin club, where directors of Armour & Co. entertained him and a group of prominent Chicago business men, St. Quentin spoke of the recent trade treaty between France and this country. The United States still sells twice as much to France as it buys from France, but since the treaty went into effect the total trade both ways has increased, he said. Consul General René Weiller, whose proposed retirement because of age is being protested by Chicagoans in petitions to France, attended.

BRITAIN TO NAME 12 DICTATORS OF DEFENSE IN WAR

LONDON, Feb. 2.—(AP)—A proposed peacetime "shadow organization" of regional commissioners with absolute power in civil defense if communication with government departments is cut off in wartime was disclosed tonight.

Sir John Anderson, lord privy seal and minister for civilian defense, announced the scheme under which England, Scotland, and Wales were divided into twelve regions. Most of the regional commissioners will be appointed in March, he said.

They will receive war plans and will be prepared to run their respective areas as self-contained units in the event that air attacks disrupt normal communications.

Sir John also announced that 1,200,000 new type gas masks for children have been ordered.

Routed by Screams as He Strikes Woman in Park

Screams of Miss Agnes Hudziak, 24 years old, 5506 Henderson street, a clerk, drove off a young man last night after he ha dattempted to seize her as she was crossing a park at Fullerton and North Central avenues. He struck her several times.

CUBAN DICTATOR STARTS TEN DAY VISIT IN MEXICO

VERA CRUZ, Mexico, Feb. 2.—(AP)—Col. Fulgencio Batista, Cuban army strong man, received a military welcome as he stepped ashore at Vera Cruz today, starting a ten day good will visit to Mexico. Thousands lined the pier as planes circled overhead and cannon boomed a 15 gun salute.

Police kept a close watch because of a rumored plot on the life of the Cuban army chief and admitted the arrest of one man during the welcoming fanfare. The newspaper La Prensa of Mexico City reported eight or ten communists and one member of the Joven Cuba Youth movement had been arrested.

During a short stop over at Progreso, Yucatan, Batista said the purpose of his visit was to strengthen the material and spiritual bonds between Cuba and Mexico. He said he hoped to study at first hand Mexico's "interesting" solution of her social problems. Batista and his staf are scheduled to reach Mexico City tomorrow.

SAY ROOSEVELT HAS DECIDED TO VOID WAR DEBTS

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

RIGA, Latvia, Feb. 2.—The Polish press today praised President Roosevelt's declaration of American support for the threatened nations of Europe.

The assurance of American help in war, some Baltic newspapers said, means that Mr. Roosevelt has decided to forget the unpaid debts of the world war. The papers said the debts can be considered canceled the moment a new war begins. This, they added, will prove a great aid in starting a conflict.

A large section of the Polish press was enthusiastic about Mr. Roosevelt's declaration that France is America's eastern frontier. These papers said that Poland as a military ally of France also is benefited. America's eastern frontiers, through that alliance, are Poland's frontiers, they argued.

ADMITS CANADA WORKS WITH U. S. ON DEFENSE PLAN

OTTAWA, Ont., Feb. 2.—[Special.]—Prime Minister W. L. Mackenzie King today confirmed that the dominion of Canada and the United States have a working agreement regarding matters of defense, but he denied that this agreement involved any commitments on the part of Canada.

"I have not the least doubt that there has been an exchange of information between the authorities in the United States and the authorities in Canada, with respect to matters of common concern," said the prime minister, "and in any event that would be most desirable."

ANGRY GERMANS CALL ROOSEVELT PEACE FOE NO. 1

Nazi Paper Paints Him as Dictator Who Failed.

BY SIGRID SCHULTZ.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

BERLIN, Feb. 2.—"Peace Enemy No. 1" was the title bestowed upon President Roosevelt by the Hamburger Fremdenblatt today. The newspaper described him as "the dictator who failed."

The entire government controled press continued its campaign against Mr. Roosevelt. The drive was set off by reports of the President's meeting Tuesday with the senate military affairs committee. Dispatches from Washington, D. C., said that he had made commitments to both Great Britain and France which amount to a military alliance. Senators quoted him as determined to help democracies arm against any totalitarian aggression by facilitating the purchase of war supplies in the United States.

Sees U. S. Driven to War.

The semi-official Der Angriff said that "the abyss separating the people of the United States and their President is shown most clearly in the storm of indignation which broke after Roosevelt, goaded to blind war agitation by world Jewry, went so far as to claim 'America's borders are on the Rhine.'"

"Roosevelt is driving America toward war as the slaughter victim of world Jewry," said the headline in Der Angriff.

The newspaper published on its front page a cartoon by Carey Orr which appeared in THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE Friday, Jan. 6. The cartoon, entitled "All Dressed Up in His New Uniform," depicted Mr. Roosevelt wearing a uniform made in Moscow. It showed him carrying a sword reading, "Challenge to Hitler," and bearing a sign reading, "Save the World for Democracy." In the background stands Uncle Sam telling the President, "Take it off, Franklin; we're NOT goin' anywhere!"

Makes Economic Threat.

The Voelkischer Beobachter also described the President as "the enemy of peace." It asked, "Will he succeed in again driving the American people into a war psychosis?"

Though Germany has proclaimed economic self-sufficiency as the goal of its four year program, the Nazi newspapers threatened America with dire economic consequences for its cotton and wheat crops if "it allows itself to be cheated out of the German market."

The Fremdenblatt said: "The middle west and the southern states of America must ask themselves whether they can forego the eighty million customers in Germany who are able to pay and who are accustomed to a high standard of living."

Bermuda Clipper Landed to Escape Bad Weather

New York, Feb. 2.—(AP)—Pan-American Airways officials said the flying boat, Bermuda Clipper, made an emergency landing at Cape May, N. J., because of fast changing weather conditions, at 12:50 p. m. [Chicago time] today. There were no passengers aboard. The plane, returning from Hamilton, Bermuda, with a crew of seven, mail and freight, was undamaged.

REJECT PROPOSAL TO PIGEONHOLE PERKINS CHARGES

Washington, D. C., Feb. 2.—(AP)—Members of the house judiciary committee informally rejected today a demand by a Democratic member that it pigeonhole impeachment charges against Secretary of Labor Frances Perkins.

A few minutes later Chairman Hatton W. Sumners [D., Tex.] said the secretary of labor probably would appear before the committee Tuesday to testify on the impeachment resolution offered by Representative J. Paul Thomas [R., N. J.].

One Democratic member, who declined use of his name, said the committee felt that "the public had been so aroused" by the Thomas impeachment resolution that Secretary Perkins should be given a chance to explain her rulings on deportation proceedings.

Thomas said that in addition to previous charges he had placed before the committee 12 cases of alleged failure of the labor department to take "definite action" in alien-communist deportation proceedings in the Detroit, Mich., area.

Start Inquiry Into Train Mishap on South Shore Line

Officials of the South Shore electric railway were conducting an inquiry yesterday into the derailment of a three coach train at the Calumet river, near Hegewisch Wednesday. The train was run into a derailment switch. More than 100 passengers were shaken, but no one was hurt.

JEWISH REFUGEE PARLEY IS ENDED; NAZIS 'HOPEFUL'

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

BERLIN, Feb. 2.—George Rublee, American director of the intergovernmental refugee committee, today concluded three weeks of conversations with Nazi representatives on the problem of Jewish emigration from Germany. With two aids, Joseph Cotton Jr. and Robert T. Pell, Rublee left tonight for London.

On Feb. 12 he will present the results of the conference to officers of the international committee and the next day to the full committee, made up of representatives of thirty-two nations.

German sources tonight asserted that sufficient avenues for settlement of German Jews in foreign lands were discussed to warant an "optimistic view." One thing is certain, however, German officials asserted. That is that "all Jews will emigrate from Germany in the near future."

It was understood in German economic circles that no definite program was worked out and that Rublee is taking back to his committee merely a German memorandum outlining Germany's stand on the question of Jewish emigration.

SUITOR, 52, WHO KILLED WOMAN, DIES A SUICIDE

William Harlev, who shot and killed Miss Georgiana Fitz Hugh Sunday and then fired two bullets into his own head, died last night in the Bridewell hospital.

Harlev was a salesman, 52 years old, and lived at 1857 South Ridgeway avenue. The shooting took place in Miss Fitz Hugh's apartment at 5653 Kenmore avenue. Miss Fitz Hugh was 47 years old and a secretary. She had been going with Harlev, but stopped seeing him last summer after she learned he was married.

Testimony at the inquest into her death showed that Harlev had threatened to "get" her unless she consented to go to Florida with him.

ADVERTISE IN THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE

DENIAL DEEPENS MYSTERY OF U. S. STABILIZING FUND

Statement by Morgenthau Evokes Questions.

BY HOWARD WOOD.

Secretary Morgenthau's denial yesterday that the treasury's 2 billion dollar secret "stabilization fund" has been used to help France make military purchases in the United States only deepened the mystery surrounding the handling of the fund.

"The stabilization fund has not been used directly or indirectly, or in any way whatsoever, to help any country make purchases of merchandise," Morgenthau said.

Morgenthau's denial came as a result of an announcement Wednesday by the senate military affairs committee that it will call American aircraft manufacturers in an effort to learn how France is paying for planes purchased in this country and on what terms she is buying them. An assertion by President Roosevelt that both England and France must pay cash for planes purchased in the United States led to suspicions that unusual credit arrangements are being made for the benefit of the two countries.

Use of Fund Is Secret.

There was no way of delving behind Morgenthau's cryptic denial that the stabilization fund has been used to help other nations make American purchases. This was because the treasury department is not required to tell what it does with the fund.

The gold reserve act of 1934, which created the fund, provides that only the President can require the treasury to account for its handling. In the four years and three days since the passage of the act Roosevelt has asked for no such public accounting.

Through this wall of official secrecy, however, there have seeped occasional shreds of information that challenged the curiosity and anxiety of the public and of financial men.

In June, 1935, for example, an imprudent remark by the governor of the Bank of France suddenly informed the world that Messrs. Roosevelt and Morgenthau had used the fund to bolster French currency when it threatened to collapse.

Supply of Dollars Revealed.

Jean Tannery, head of the Bank of France, disclosed that in the "critical week from May 25 to June" the United States treasury had "constantly supplied the market with dollars to prevent the consequences of any cessation in gold purchases."

In September, 1936, there was another mysterious deal which never has been fully explained. On Saturday, Sept. 26, Morgenthau suddenly bought one million British pounds offered by Russia in the New York market.

First explanations were that this move was taken to prevent the Russians from forcing down the pound. Later the same day officials changed their minds and it was reported that the Russians were merely carrying out a routine business transaction.

What Is the Fund?

What is the so-called stabilization fund?

On the daily statement of the United States treasury there has appeared daily for several years this brief item:

"Exchange stabilization fund, $1,800,000,000."

To the outsider perusing the statement this is all that can be definitly traced of the 2 billion, 800 million dollars' "profit" realized by the treasury from reduction of the gold content of the dollar on Jan. 31, 1934. The first 800 million dollars was diverted into the treasury's general fund and was spent for the ordinary and emergency purposes of government. Another 200 millions was allocated by the treasury into a special working account within the stabilization fund itself.

How much of the latter 200 millions is still intact is not officially shown in the daily figures. Treasury officials have reported that the fund has shown a profit on its operations, but there is an item in the daily statement saying: "Balance of increment resulting from reduction in the weight of the gold dollar, $142,238,211."

Price of Gold Raised.

In 1933, after the bank moratorium, the treasury seized all the gold coin and bullion hitherto held by individuals, banks, corporations, and federal reserve banks. Then on Jan. 31, 1934, acting under powers granted in the gold reserve act, President Roosevelt decreed that the United States dollar should be worth only 15 5-21 grains of gold, instead of 25.8 grains as formerly. In other words, he raised the price of gold from $20.67 per ounce to $35 per ounce.

The treasury—holding virtually all the nation's monetary gold—thereupon sliced a "melon" for itself by writing up the dollar value of the gold approximately 2 billion, 800 million dollars. Out of this writeup there was created on the treasury's books the 2 billion stabilization fund.

The British government already had such an account, called the "equalization fund." France later set up a similar fund.

Authorized to Stabilize Dollar.

Under the law the treasury is authorized to use the stabilization fund to "stabilize" the value of the dollar in foreign exchange transactions. It can buy and sell dollars or foreign currencies or gold and can use the fund to manipulate the market for United States securities.

On Sept. 25, 1936, the governments of the United States, Great Britain and France issued a statement announcing a secret "gentlemen's agreement"—supposedly a pact to use their resources in a joint effort to stabilize each currency in relation to the others. This pact became known as the "Tri-Partite Agreement."

Since then the United States dollar has remained at a fixed level—$35 equaling one ounce of gold—but the pound and the franc have fluctuated violently.

VATICAN PAPER INSISTS HITLER WARS ON CHURCH

Lists the Grievances of German Catholics.

VATICAN CITY, Feb. 2.—(AP)—The Vatican newspaper L'Osservatore Romano today disputed Adolf Hitler's denial of religious persecution in Germany. The paper listed grievances which it said were protested.

[In his reichstag speech Monday night Hitler said "No one in Germany has hitherto been persecuted for his religious views only, nor will any one be persecuted on that account."]

Hitler's words insisting that churchmen must refrain from any conflict with Naziism were said by the newspaper to raise the question whether the Fuehrer meant to deprive the church of such liberties as it enjoys in the United States and France.

Grievances Are Listed.

Grievances listed by L'Osservatore were:

1. The prohibition it said had been placed on free practice of religion in Germany.
2. The "almost theatrical" trials of clergy.
3. Dissolution of Catholic Action, the Catholic lay organization.
4. Nazi marriage legislation "contrary to the sanctity of Christian marriage."
5. Abolition of confessional schools, removal of crucifixes from schools and limitation of instruction to "what does not contradict principles of Nazi doctrins."

The paper accused Hitler of "a campaign of apostasy."

Says Churches Are Empty.

"The extreme point of this persecution, which does not close churches and up to a short time ago declared it had not touched a hair of a priest, tends to leave the open churches empty, and not only makes a priest useless but also makes it useless to touch one of his hairs," the paper declared.

Germans, L'Osservatore said, are asked their religious beliefs in such a manner as to make Catholics feel themselves "foreigners" and "relics in all connections with the new life."

EX-SOLDIERS PUNCH PREMIER OF BELGIUM; DEMAND RESIGNATION

BRUSSELS, Feb. 2.—(AP)—Premier Paul Henri Spaak was punched several times in the face and slightly injured by a blow on the head today by a group of 200 embittered ex-soldiers demanding his resignation. The premier was driving home when the attackers stopped his automobile. He started to walk, but they pummeled him until he was rescued by police.

Paul Henri Spaak.

The veterans' displeasure had been aroused by the government's appointment of Dr. A. Martens, a member of the German created council of Flanders, during the German occupation in the world war, to membership in the Flemish academy.

Martens was condemned as a traitor and sentenced to death by a Flemish jury at Brabant in April, 1920, but was never executed.

LONDON SUBWAY STATIONS ROCKED BY BOMB BLAST

LONDON, Feb. 3 [Friday].—(AP)—Explosions rocked two subway stations in the heart of London early today, apparently marking a renewal of the widespread series of bombing and sabotage acts authorities have attributed to Irish republican agitators. Bombs exploded in Leicester Square and Tottenham Court road tube stations, a quarter of a mile apart in the center of London.

The explosions, almost simultaneous, occurred just as service was beginning for the day, and few persons were about. A ticket collector was injured.

The blast at Leicester Square, in the theatrical district, shattered windows opposite the station. Fire brigades and police went to the stations, through which train service was suspended.

The wave of recent violence was attributed to Irish terrorists and included an apparent attempt on the life of Premier Chamberlain's son, Frank, while he was a guest at a northern Ireland hotel Jan. 20. A bomb exploded at the rear of the hotel, but Chamberlain was uninjured.

FRANCO OFFERS PARDON TO FOES WHO SURRENDER

Eases Fears of Refugees on French Frontier.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

PERPIGNAN, France [at the Spanish frontier], Feb. 2.—Generalissimo Francisco Franco's Spanish rebel régime today promised to pardon loyalist soldiers who surrender.

Gen. Franco does not wish to persecute civilian refugees nor the retreating government army, an announcement said. It was added, however, that he "reserves punishment for those responsible for the revolution."

The announcement was made by Gen. Count Francisco Gomez Jordana, Franco's foreign minister. It was printed in newspapers of southern France and was circulated among refugees there and in northern Catalonia.

Relief for France.

The promise relieved the tensity among refugees at once. About one-fourth of the 4,000 loyalist militiamen who fled into France agreed to enter Spanish rebel territory by way of Hendaye, France.

Women, children, and aged refugees also made preparations to enter Franco ruled territory. This would reduce the number of refugees already in France and also lessen the jam of refugees pressed against the French frontier by Franco's drive.

Gen. Jordana's announcement was similar to the one which Gen. Fidel Davila made after the fall of Barcelona on Jan. 26. The Burgos radio station today directed a broadcast to Madrid offering "bread, pardon, and justice" to those who surrendered. Madrilenos were told that citizens of Barcelona were "joyous" after they came under Gen. Franco's rule.

Rebels Capture Berga.

The capture of Berga, a Pyrenees mountain town of about 6,000 population, was the chief gain today in the rebels' Catalonian drive.

Berga is twenty-three miles south of Puigcerda, the rail and highway gateway to France in the central Pyrenees sector, but there are difficult mountain roads between Berga and Puigcerda, and Berga and Ripoll, another junction town. Northwest of Berga and west of Puigcerda loyalists were holding out at Seo de Urgel, the gateway to the republic of Andorra.

To the east, a rebel column was pushing northward from Vich and a coastal column had reached Sils, 12 miles south of Gerona, the capital of the last Catalonian province in loyalist hands.

The last group of American members of the Spanish government's international brigade known to be in Spain crossed the French-Spanish frontier today and entrained for Paris. Among the fifteen men in the group were Emil Taudarich and Anton Zeronas of Chicago.

Valencia Bombed.

MADRID, Feb. 2.—(AP)—Eleven persons were killed and twenty-seven injured today when five Savoia [Italian] bombers raided Valencia, dropping about 100 bombs.

HELD TO JURY IN MAIL THEFTS.

David Robertson, colored, of 210 East 41st street, an ex-convict, was held to the federal grand jury in $5,000 bonds yesterday by United States Commissioner E. K. Walker on a charge of stealing 264 letters from a mail box.

FRANCE SENDS AN ENVOY TO FRANCO TO SEEK A PACT

May Grant Recognition to Rebel Spain.

PARIS, Feb. 2.—(AP)—Senator Leon Berard, personal friend of Gen. Francisco Franco, left Paris tonight on a semi-official mission which diplomatic sources said might result in the recognition of rebel Spain by France.

Berard was to go directly to Burgos where he expected to interview the rebel generalissimo.

Even after the senator left Paris after telling friends of his mission, the foreign office declined to confirm that his journey was the first step in a possible establishment of diplomatic relations between Burgos and Paris.

Report Daladier Approves.

Premier Edouard Daladier was reported to have approved Berard's journey during a conference with Foreign Minister Georges Bonnet.

A second French legislator, Deputy Pierre Taittinger, also was understood to be planning a trip to Burgos on a private mission to determine the possibility of quick establishment of relations between France and the rebel part of Spain. Taittinger is a member of the Republican federation which is recognized in parliament as sympathetic to the Franco régime.

In the fashion of British Prime Minister Chamberlain, Berard carried an umbrella which he termed "standard equipment on the kind of a trip I am making."

"To Arrange Better Relations."

Then he added more seriously, "I am going down there to try to arrange better relations between the two countries."

Berard was reported to have defined his mission as twofold:

1. To discuss with Franco conditions under which some kind of diplomatic and commercial accord might be reached.

2. To discuss the present problem in northern Catalonia where the rebel advance threatened to shove Spanish government soldiers onto French soil in mass retreat.

It was reported early today in diplomatic quarters that France had opened negotiations for an armistice in Catalonia which, it was understood, would provide for surrender of some government troops.

Men not turned over to the rebels would be interned in France or, with Franco's permission, sent to government Spain, according to reported versions of the proposal.

In the senate, Berard represents the Basses-Pyrenees department which is on the Spanish frontier.

Interior Minister Albert Sarraut and Health Minister Marc Rucart, after a tour of the refugee concentration points near the Spanish frontier, returned to Paris today to report to the cabinet.

Sarraut conferred lengthily with Premier Daladier concerning troops concentrated along the frontier and said later that any proposals to send additional French military forces would be discussed by the cabinet before taking effect.

ESTIMATE 3,000,000 NEED RELIEF FOOD IN BARCELONA AREA

BARCELONA, Feb. 2.—(AP)—Rebel authorities estimated today that 3,000,000 persons in the Barcelona area would have to be fed by relief agencies at least another month pending return of industrial normalcy and reorganization of the monetary system.

Long queues in front of food distributing centers continued to congest some Barcelona streets. Police and soldiers maintained order, often using butts of rifles to shove the crowds from doorways.

Rebel police meanwhile disclosed the arrest of a number of persons charged with "having stained their hands with the blood of their brothers." Many were expected to face firing squads within the next few weeks.

RUSSIA RECALLS BUDAPEST ENVOY IN BLOW AT FOES

Raps Hungary for Joining Anti-Red Powers.

MOSCOW, Feb. 2.—(AP)—Soviet Russia fired a warning round at the pact against communist internationale today by ordering its legation in Budapest closed and asking Hungary, the latest convert to the agreement, to close its Moscow legation.

Maxim Litvinov.

An official explanation said Hungary's decision on Jan. 13 to join the Italian-German-Japanese accord against international communism "was thrust upon the Hungarian government from the outside."

The soviet government decided that any diplomatic dealings with Hungary should be carried on indirectly.

Foreign Commissar Maxim Litvinov informed Dr. Michael Jungerth-Arnothy, Hungarian minister, that relations henceforth could be maintained through Hungarian and soviet representatives in some capital other than Moscow or Budapest.

Charge Independence Lost.

While this was not a formal rupture of relations it constituted a more serious jolt because of Moscow's reason for the move. This was described officially as a conviction that Hungary was under a foreign thumb and had "lost its independence to a considerable degree."

The official announcement said that as a result of the Munich agreement partitioning Czecho-Slovakia last September, Hungary had been subjected to "strong pressure by certain states" and yielded easily to join the so-called anti-comintern pact.

"In particular," said Tass, official Russian news agency, "it is pointed out that the decision of the Hungarian government to join the so-called anti-communist internationale pact cannot be justified by the interests of the Hungarian state itself, which by no means coincide with the aggressive aims pursued under the guise of this pact by its participants, in the first place by Japan, and that this decision consequently was thrust upon the Hungarian government from the outside."

Pact Dates to 1936.

The pact against communism dates to Nov. 25, 1936, when Germany and Japan signed it. Italy became the third signer—as a charter member—on Nov. 6, 1937.

The text of the agreement, as announced, said the pact was drawn because the signers recognize "the aim of the communist internationale is directed at disrupting and violating existing states with all means at its command."

The communist internationale arose from the bolshevik movement in Russia, and in 1919 was transformed under Nicolai Lenin into an international body to organize and lead a world revolutionary movement.

[The headquarters of communist internationale is in Moscow, and Josef Stalin, dictator of soviet Russia, is a member of the controling body of its executive committee.]

Hungary's Legation to Close.

BUDAPEST, Feb. 2.—(AP)—Informed that Russia was closing its legation in Budapest, the Hungarian government announced tonight that its legation in Moscow also would be closed.

RESCUE 11 ADRIFT FOR 30 HOURS ON GALE SWEPT LAKE

2 Craft at Storm's Mercy After Towline Snaps.

Frankfort, Mich., Feb. 2.—[Special.]—A desperate battle in stormy Lake Michigan was won late tonight by eleven weary sailors who for thirty hours had pitted their lives against twenty foot waves and forty mile winds. Two made shore. The nine others were being brought in by a United States coast guard cutter.

The eleven encountered trouble late yesterday when their tugboat, the Peter Reiss, and a huge derrick scow under tow ran into a gale on the way from Manitowoc, Wis., to Ludington, Mich. First one towline snapped, then a second, third, and fourth.

The breaking of the last line separated the tug, with nine aboard, and the scow, with two aboard. To make the misfortune worse, the line fouled the tug's propeller and rudder, making it as helpless as the scow.

Craft Peril Each Other.

Both craft were battered and tossed about at such close quarters that for a time each was in danger of being crushed by the other. The tug's crew managed to control it a bit, however, and eventually kept it at a safe distance. The scow drifted away.

The tug and the scow drifted all Wednesday night and this morning. Rescuers started out when they were reported overdue. The Pere Marquette car ferry No. 18 and the Ann Arbor ferry No. 5 were among the first to arrive. Then came the coast guard cutter Escanaba, commanded by Lieutenant Commander R. J. Mauerman, from Grand Haven, Mich., and later the cutter Antietem, commanded by Lieut. E. C. Whitfield, from Milwaukee, Wis.

The Escanaba stood by the scow and tonight sent over a small boat, but the two men aboard, Leo Paetz and Charles Christensen, chose to remain on the scow rather than risk the attempt to board the boat.

Scow Driven Ashore.

An hour later the scow was swept on shore about three miles south of here. Paetz and Christensen leaped to the ice blocks, where they were aided by a land crew of the Frankfort coast guard. Christensen was slightly hurt.

"It was tough out there thirty hours, and those waves were well over fifteen feet high," related Paetz tonight, "but we figured we'd get to shore okay."

The tugboat was taken in tow by the Antietem 25 miles southwest of here. This was done only after many hours of standing by during which it was impossible to connect a line because of the fouling of the tug's propeller and rudder. It was necessary to clear the rudder first, because any attempt to tow the tug otherwise might have caused it to turn over, coast guardsmen said.

OLD RULE PARTS REDHEADED BABY AND POLICEMAN

Policeman Joseph R. Faust's heart was warmed yesterday when a woman left a red haired baby girl 3 months old at the Warren avenue station.

"That's one of the sweetest kids I ever saw," he told his brother policemen. "I'll take her home and keep her if my wife will stand for it."

He called Mrs. Faust at their home, 5132 Deming place, and she said to be sure to bring the youngster; she would go out and purchase some supplies. The Fausts already have one adopted child.

Takes Baby to His Home.

So Faust went home with the little redhead, who seemed quite happy about it all.

Meanwhile other investigators were looking into the story of Mrs. Lucy Greenwald, 2433 Congress street, who had given up the infant.

"A woman who said she was Mrs. Irene Marino handed me this baby last Friday," she said. "We were both in the Catholic charities at 126 North Desplaines street. She called the child Gloria. She told me that if I would keep her she would pay $3 a week and furnish all the food and clothes she needed."

Fails to Hear from Mother.

But, Mrs. Greenwald said, she had not heard again from the mother, and had been unable to find her. She had to give up Gloria, she said, because she and her own children—four of them—were almost destitute.

The police also were unable to find Mrs. Marino. But then, studying the records, they found a standing order relating to the handling of little waifs. The desk sergeant telephoned Faust.

"Joe," he said, "you will have to take that baby to St. Vincent's orphanage. It's the commissioner's order."

"Aw, shucks," said Faust, "we're just getting used to her."

But he obeyed orders.

Waives Alimony

MRS. ANNA PATRICK.

When she found a pawnticket for her wedding ring in their home, Mrs. Anna Patrick, 24 years old, of 905 East 61st street, upbraided her husband, Frank. He knocked her down, Mrs. Patrick told Judge Oscar F. Nelson yesterday. On another occasion, she continued, Patrick knocked her senseless.

"This was no slapping matter, judge," said Attorney Victor Frolich. "That man really hit her." Judge Nelson then granted the divorce. Mrs. Patrick waived alimony.

ADVERTISE IN THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE

SHERIFS HOWL AT STATE DRIVE ON SLOT MACHINES

Object to Extension of Police Power.

Attorney General John E. Cassidy's threat to use the state highway police in a drive against slot machines was sharply criticized yesterday at a meeting held in Aurora of sheriffs from thirty northern Illinois counties.

Sheriff Edinger: "No slot machines in my county."

"This slot machine campaign is nothing more than a buildup for the centralization of police power in Springfield," asserted Sheriff Elmer Hoffman of Du Page county. "It's real object is to take our authority from us.

"If they go ahead with this plan, they will soon want to do something else, and before we know it our counties will be overrun with state policemen. We'll show them down there that we can take care of our own affairs."

Opposes Increase in Force.

Sheriff E. J. Welter of LaSalle county declared there was a movement to add 150 more state policemen to the present force of 350. Much better results, he said, would be obtained if counties were authorized to increase their details of deputy sheriffs.

"If the state highway police force contines to grow," he added, "there will soon be an overwhelming machine for political purposes."

The attorney general decreed several weeks ago that slot machines would have to go. If the sherifs of the various counties did not act, he announced, the state highway police would be instructed to make raids.

In most instances, in counties where the machines were running, sherifs took the hint and closed down the operations. A few raids were made by the state police in Cook county. As a net result of the campaign fewer slot machines have been operating in the state than at any time in recent years.

Assails "Bunch of Burocrats."

Although the state highway police have general law enforcing powers, they have heretofore confined their activties to patroling the roads and arresting and prosecuting trafic violators. State's Attorney Taylor Wilhelm of La Salle county condemned the new extension of effort.

"A half baked bunch of burocrats at Springfield is trying to run the state," he said.

Sherif Lester Edinger of McHenry county and Robert Nash of Winnebago county, former president of the Illinois State's Attorneys' association, said that slot machines were not and had not been operated in their territories.

Sherif Marcus Damisch of Kane county was the chairman of the committee that called the meeting.

Well Dressed Robber Gets $250 at Apartment Hotel

A well dressed man stepped up to the desk of the Mozart apartment hotel at 102 East Chestnut street last night and asked for Joe Brown. William Anderson, the manager, and Harold Jennings, the night clerk, told him no one of that name lived in the building. The well dressed man replied it didn't matter, drew a revolver, and robbed Anderson and Jennings of $250.

GETS 20 YEARS IN PRISON FOR SLAYING WIFE

Raymond Hodous, 35 years old, was sentenced to twenty years in the Stateville prison yesterday by Judge Denis J. Normoyle in the Criminal court for the murder of his wife, Clara. He pleaded guilty.

Raymond Hodous.

Hodous shot and killed his wife, and then wounded himself, in the home of her father, Mathew Nemec, at 7207 South Aberdeen street, on Dec. 12. According to Nemec, the couple had been living apart, and Hodous shot her when she refused a reconciliation. Hodous had been living with his father, Joseph, at 1215 South 58th court, Cicero.

SANITARY BOARD EXPENSES TOTAL 26 MILLION IN '38

During 1938 the Sanitary district spent $26,957,793 on operating costs, construction, supplies, and pay rolls, according to a report of disbursements and reecipts filed yesterday with the board of trustees. Receipts for the year totaled $21,028,886. Trustees explained the difference between the two figures will be balanced when all taxes and rents are collected. The major construction payment last year was $4,000,000 toward completion of the southwest side sewage treatment plant under construction at Stickney. The plant is to be in operation by next fall.

MURDER-SUICIDE VERDICT.

Verdicts of murder and suicide while temporarily insane were returned yesterday at a double inquest into the deaths of Mrs. Anna Schuch, 50 years old, and her husband Joseph, 52, who shot her and then killed himself last Tuesday. The shooting occured in their home at 6951 Lowe avenue.

Powder Stains Lacking, Asserts Attorney.

BY WILLIAM FULTON.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, Feb. 2.—[Special.]—The controversy over the suicide of George Weinberg, gangster and former business manager of the policy racket, flared anew today while the trial of Tammany Leader James J. Hines, alleged political protector for the racketeers, continued in General Sessions court.

Weinberg, who testified against Hines at the first trial last fall, killed himself Sunday in White Plains, N. Y. Investigators said he took a revolver from the overcoat of a detective assigned to guard him and shot himself with it.

District Attorney Thomas E. Dewey had kept his witness in a hideaway in White Plains because Weinberg feared underworld reprisals if held in jail.

Lehman Entry Called Politics.

Yesterday an attorney named George E. Mulry sent a telegram to Gov. Herbert H. Lehman saying he had learned from an anonymous source that no fingerprints were on the revolver with which Weinberg shot himself. The governor forwarded the telegram to Dewey with the remark that he assumed the district attorney was investigating.

Dewey sent a telegram to Lehman last night saying that the governor's assumption was correct and that suicide had been incontrovertibly established. Some observers chalked up Lehman's surprising entry into the case as politics. The governor was reelected by a narrow margin last fall in a contest with Dewey, the Republican nominee.

Today Mulry sent another telegram to Lehman saying that his unnamed source had disclosed that there was no spray of gunpowder on Weinberg's hands. The inference again was left that some hand other than Weinberg's squeezed the trigger that caused the gangster's death.

Experts Scoff at Suggestion.

Experts in Dewey's office scoffed at the suggestion. They said that the weapon, a .38 caliber detective special, was a new one. A new revolver does not spray the microscopic grains of powder about the hand wielding it, as an old one does, they said.

The fingerprint question apparently had been answered yesterday when District Attorney Walter Ferris of Westchester county reported that the gun had been examined immediately after the shot and that only one finger smudge, of no value, had been found.

While the controversy over Weinberg's death raged outside, the dead gangster's words at the first trial were being read to Judge Charles C. Nott and a jury in Hines' retrial. The first trial was thrown out by Tammany Judge Ferdinand Pecora on a technicality.

Reveal Engagement

MARION HEPBURN.

Hartford, Conn., Feb. 2.—[Special.]—The engagement of Miss Marion Houghton Hepburn, sister of Katharine Hepburn, the movie star, to Ellsworth Strong Grant of West Hartford was announced today by her parents, Dr. and Mrs. Thomas N. Hepburn.

The engaged couple will be graduated from colleges in June, Miss Hepburn from Bennington college at Bennington, Vt., and Grant from Harvard. Grant is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Horace R. Grant.

STRICKEN ON WALK, DIES.
Matthew Tyrczak, 55 years old, 2346 Walton street, died of a heart attack yesterday while walking near Western avenue and Cermak road.

BEATS 15,000-1 ODDS IN TRACING HIT AND RUN CAR

Painstaking investigation by a policeman sent George Besser, 116 West Ontario street, to the county jail for three months as a hit and run driver yesterday. Judge Jay A. Schiller in the Safety court found Besser guilty of leaving the scene of a fatal accident at Division and La Salle streets last Aug. 14.

Policeman Burton Buhrke, holding auto door handle and key.

The victim of the accident was Mervine Loper, 29 years old, 1250 North La Salle street. An automobile ran him down shortly after midnight, then sped on. But left behind at the scene was one good clew -- a broken door handle containing a lock.

Has Key Made for Lock.

Policeman Burton Buhrke of the accident prevention bureau found this lock. He had a key made to fit it. He then learned that motor car manufacturers make several locks that will take the same series of key, but that they ascertain that locks which are alike are not sold in the same part of the city.

Buhrke next found, by studying manufacturers' specifications, that the key he had made was for a 1935 model sold by a dealer somewhere on the north side.

The policeman made a list of north and northwest side agencies handling this make of car. He visited them all, and went through more than 15,000 invoices looking for the purchaser of a car with a key of the particular series. He found five possible suspects. Thus his search was narrowed, and he learned that one of the five had traded his car to an Elmwood Park agency and that the agency, in turn, had sold the car to Besser.

Finds Door Handle Repaired.

Policeman Buhrke then visited Besser. He discovered that the door handle on Besser's car had been repaired. Besser was questioned. He admitted driving in La Salle street about the time of the fatal accident, but denied he had hit any one. The case was given to the grand jury. Since the evidence was circumstantial, the jury refused to indict Besser on a manslaughter charge and Buhrke then charged Besser with leaving the scene of an accident.

Judge Schiller, in sentencing Besser yesterday, commented:

"The city needs more intelligent police work of this kind. If more law enforcement officers show the same diligence and intelligence Policeman Buhrke has demonstrated, fewer criminals will be at large."

BIBLE STUDENT ARRESTED AFTER AUTO ACCIDENT

David Boyd, 21 years old, a student in the Moody Bible institute, was arrested by the Chicago avenue police yesterday after the automobile he was driving struck and injured Frank Finan 53, of 6233 Ingleside avenue, at Wells and Oak streets. Boyd, who lives at 153 Institute place, will be arraigned in the Safety court today on a charge of leaving the scene of an accident.

Up to 4 p. m. yesterday ninety-five persons had been killed by automobiles in Cook county since Jan. 1. Of these seventy-seven were killed in Chicago, where 1,819 were injured in the same period.

LEGISLATIVE QUIZ ORDERED IN STATE HOSPITAL DEATH

A legislative committee inquiry was authorized in Springfield yesterday into formal charges that Miss Bertha Krause, a Chicago music teacher, died at the Manteno State hospital as the result of "neglect and improper medical treatment."

Miss Krause, who was 30 years old and lived at 1663 South Central Park avenue, died last July 17. She had entered the hospital on the previous June 10.

The inquiry was ordered on the strength of a petition presented by Attorney John H. Lyle, representing Miss Krause's family. According to A. L. Bowen, director of the state public welfare department, the charges are groundless. He said she had been given insulin shock treatments for dementia praecox. Five physicians tried to save her, he said.

FLEEING BANDIT CAPTURED.
Daniel Villarreal, a Mexican, of 2225 Ogden avenue, was captured by Traffic Policeman Patrick Hamilton last evening as he fled after robbing a restaurant at 377 Madison street of $9.

JUGO-SLAVIA AND RUMANIA UNITE TO RESIST GRABS

BELGRADE, Jugo-Slavia, Feb. 2.—(AP)—A four point agreement between Rumania and Jugo-Slavia, including a determination to defend their territorial integrity, was announced tonight at the conclusion of conferences between Rumanian Foreign Minister Grigore Gafencu and Milan Stoyadinovich, Jugo-Slav premier. Gafencu said the points included:

1. Reiteration of decisions to defend their present borders.
2. Determination to adopt a "conciliatory attitude" toward all countries in the Danubian basin, particularly Hungary and Bulgaria.
3. Approval of plans to build a highway connecting Trieste with the Black sea, to pass through Zagreb, Belgrade, and Bucharest.
4. Maintenance of present alliances between Rumania and Jugo-Slavia.

It was said that both countries wished to improve relations with Hungary, but that Hungarian demands for territorial revision were inacceptable.

ILLINOIS SPENDS 66 MILLIONS FOR RELIEF IN 1938

Total Rises Sharply from Preceding Year.

BY WILL O'NEIL.

Direct relief cost Illinois taxpayers $65,873,808 during 1938, an increase of more than 7 million dollars over 1937. Of the total, $44,524,458 was spent in Cook county, and $34,657,095 in Chicago.

This was shown yesterday in annual figures on relief costs released by the Illinois Emergency Relief commission. The figures were prepared by E. E. Ferebee, IERC statistician.

The costs given by Ferebee were for direct relief only. They did not include other forms of relief, such as WPA, old age assistance, or blind and mothers' pensions.

State taxes—principally the sales tax—provided 64.1 per cent, or $42,204,209, and local tax funds the remaining 35.9 per cent, or $23,669,599, of the total relief cost in the state. Chicago got 79.2 per cent, or $27,451,061, of its relief funds from the state and the remaining 20.8 per cent, or $7,206,034, from local tax funds.

Total Smaller in 1937.

Direct relief in Illinois cost $58,562,162 in 1937, according to the corresponding figures a year ago. Chicago spent $31,425,237 during 1937. The city got 74.7 per cent, or $23,489,724, from the state relief funds and paid the remaining 25.3 per cent, or $7,935,513, from local tax funds.

One cent of the three cent sales tax and all of the three per cent utilities tax are paid into the state emergency relief fund. State law provides that moneys from the general revenue fund of the state shall be shifted to the emergency relief fund when the latter does not contain enough money to pay relief appropriations. The state, through the IERC, distributed $3,000,000 a month until May, 1938, $3,500,000 each in May and June, and $3,900,000 a month the rest of the year.

Nearly all local tax funds devoted to relief purposes are derived from a special real estate tax of 30 cents on each $100 valuation. Chicago, by special act of the legislature, was permitted to spend approximately $1,900,000 of its share of the motor fuel taxes during 1938 in addition to the money derived from its 30 cent levy.

Peak Reached in March.

Relief loads usually reach a seasonal peak in March. Last year was no exception. During March, 1938, there were 210,971 cases, representing 650,141 persons, on the relief rolls throughout the state. In the same month—also the peak in Chicago—there were 96,520 cases, representing 262,010 persons, on the rolls of the Chicago Relief administration [C. R. A.].

Case is the term used by relief authorities to denote a group, family or nonfamily, or an individual receiving relief as a unit.

The C. R. A. spent $3,007,782 of its total funds of $34,657,095 for administrative purposes. The remaining $31,649,313 was spent in relief grants.

Ferebee pointed out in his report that the relief rolls are changing constantly. The average monthly number of home relief cases in the state during the year was 180,022, he said.

During the year 301,483 cases were opened and 291,662 closed. This meant that nearly a third of a million families left the relief rolls and a slightly smaller number were added.

Officials to Meet.

The IERC will meet this afternoon. It is expected to approve the request of Charles E. Miner, state WPA administrator, that certification of persons for WPA jobs be stopped by the IERC. The IERC now certifies, or approves, persons as eligible for WPA jobs. Miner pointed out in a letter to the commission that WPA rolls are being decreased and that there is no point to further certification now.

DEFECT IN SEARCH WARANT FREES 4 IN STORE THEFTS

Four persons charged with possession of stolen merchandise were freed yesterday when Judge Robert Jerome Dunne in the Criminal court sustained a motion to quash a defective search warant. The case was then nol prossed.

The defendants were William Donohue, 36 years old, an ex-convict and reputed pal of John Dillinger, slain gang leader; Henry Bjorklund, 35; Mrs. Anna Smith, 34, and Miss Barbara Wayne, 22.

The four were arrested in a raid on an apartment at 540 Melrose street where police and detectives from loop department stores seized merchandise allegedly taken from stores. Donohue and Bjorklund are to go on trial before Judge Dunne next Monday on a charge of robbing John G. Howey, 5348 South Halsted street, of $27 on Sept. 23.

LAWYER ABSENT; SUIT DISMISSED; JURORS GET $120

A panel of twenty-four jurors was assembled at Waukegan yesterday. They were to be examined for service in a personal injury suit brought by Thomas Atteridge, his daughter, Rita, and Robert Lundeen, all of Lake Forest.

At 9:30 Circuit Judge Ralph J. Dady called the case. At 9:45 Bailif Edward Dunne received a telephone message that the plaintifs' attorney, Alfred Roy Hulbert of Chicago, had been engaged in another trial for seven days and would be unable to be present. Judge Dady promptly dismissed the suit, for $8,500, with the comment that attorneys should notify him a day in advance in such cases.

It cost Lake county $120 in pay and expenses to assemble the jurors.

13 Seized in Dice Game Raid Freed by Judge

Thirteen men arrested early yesterday in a raid on the Ringside club, seventh floor, 36 West Randolph street, were warned and freed later by Judge Joseph B. Hermes. One was charged with disorderly conduct, the others with gambling. Police said they were shooting dice. Defense Attorney Michael H. Brodkin told the court the police had no warant and had seen no violation prior to the raid.

CONGRESS SENDS RELIEF MEASURE TO WHITE HOUSE

Expect Roosevelt to Bow to 150 Million Slash.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Feb. 2.—[Special.]—The resolution appropriating 725 million dollars to finance the Works Progress administration until June 30 was sent to the White House today. It was sent up after the house approved a conference report settling differences between it and the senate concerning the wording of the measure.

President Roosevelt is expected to sign the resolution, although it appropriated $150,000,000 less than the amount he had estimated as needed by the WPA in the next five months. By proclaiming the existence of an emergency and stating the facts constituting it, Mr. Roosevelt is authorized in the resolution to ask for more money if he wants it.

Increase Up to Congress.

"Congress has taken its responsibility in fixing this amount," Representative Clifton A. Woodrum [D., Va.] told the house. "The President can come back for more if he wishes to. Whether congress will appropriate it is for congress to determine at the proper time."

Representative Clarence Cannon [D., Mo.], who led the unsuccessful house fight to restore the 150 millions to the bill, again criticized the reduction. He said that the President's estimate of WPA needs should have been accepted.

"Congress is doing the legislating," Woodrum replied tartly. "Congress has established a principle which I hope it will never retreat from, and that is that the legislative body can legislate and that it does not have to delegate those powers to the Workers' alliance or the Mayors' conference."

Final Provisions of Bill.

In its final form the bill provides:

1. That $15,000,000 of the 725 million may be used for direct relief.

2. That not more than 5 per cent of WPA employés may be discharged during the winter months of February and March.

3. That the WPA administrator shall immediately make an investigation of the payrolls and eliminate employés found not to be in actual need.

4. That $28,000,000 of the amount may be allocated to other federal departments.

5. That WPA administrative employés may not be placed under civil service in order to make their jobs permanent.

6. That it shall be a felony, punishable by a year's imprisonment and $1,000 fine, for any person to offer WPA jobs as a political reward, to discharge or threaten to discharge WPA employés because of political activities, or to solicit campaign contributions from them. Administrative officials are forbidden to engage in politics under threat of removal from office.

Aliens to Be Excluded.

7. That aliens shall be excluded from the WPA rolls. All employés are required to make an affidavit as to their citizenship as a condition precedent to receiving compensation.

8. That no part of the appropriation may be used for the establishment of mills or factories which would manufacture articles in competion with existing industries.

9. That no person refusing offers of private employment shall be kept on the pay roll.

10. That no part of the appropriation may be used for the manufacture, purchase, or construction of any naval vessel, any armament, munitions, or implement of war for military or naval forces.

A provision that WPA wage rates should not differ more than 25 per cent in various sections of the country was knocked out by a roll call vote of 252 to 140. Woodrum said inquiry had developed that the provision was unworkable. It was sponsored by southern congressmen who complained that WPA employes in the south received vastly lower wages than those in the north.

CHICAGOAN TO DIRECT QUAKER RELIEF WORK AMONG NAZI REFUGEES

Robert W. Balderston, Chicago refrigeration engineer, left Chicago yesterday to serve the American Friends Service committee by directing the Quakers' relief work among political refugees in Germany. He will sail for London tomorrow with two other commissioners appointed by the committee.

The Quakers have raised a fund of several hundred thousand dollars to finance the activity, Balderston said. The committee will act as a liaison group for American relief organizations in the Reich, and will care for immediate wants of refugees.

Balderston spent eight months in Germany in 1920 helping the American Relief administration feed German children. The Quakers took part. Since then they have maintained a center in Berlin he said.

HUNGER STRIKE IN PRISON KEEPS 3,500 IN CELLS

Warden Court Smith.

San Quentin, Cal., Feb. 2.—[Special.]—Explosive tension prevailed tonight at San Quentin prison, largest in the country, where 3,500 sullen convicts were locked in their cells when they continued a hunger strike and refused to work. Only bread was given to those who wanted it.

The remainder of the prison's 5,300 inmates ate their meals and were assigned to jobs. Most of the 1,800 who worked today were not involved in yesterday's demonstration in protest against what strikers said was too much corned beef hash.

Warden Court Smith said he believed the food question was not at the bottom of the dissatisfaction. He attributed the uprising to a few organizers who hope to publicize the prison and thus gain attention that will bring more privileges and entertainment.

SUE TO LIFT CITY BAN ON MILK IN PAPER CARTONS

Company Files Action in Federal Court.

Dr. Robert A. Black.

A suit to restrain the city and the board of health from interfering with the use of paper milk containers in Chicago was filed yesterday in the Federal District court by the Fieldcrest Dairies, Inc., a subsidiary of the Dean Milk company.

Several companies have been selling milk in paper containers in the suburbs since November. The suit avers that the board of health and Dr. Robert A. Black, acting president, have repeatedly refused to allow such sale in the city. The dairy company charged that the city ordinance barring paper containers is discriminatory and thus unconstitutional.

Dr. Black, informed of the suit, said he would not comment until the issue had been settled in court.

The sale of the paper containers in the Chicago area began on Nov. 25. The companies offering the containers said they were more economical and easier to handle than glass bottles. At that time Dr. Herman N. Bundesen, president of the board of health who is on leave of absence, said that until manufacturers had demonstrated they were as sterile as glass bottles the milk ordinance would not be revised to permit their sale.

The Fieldcrest company declared that refusal to allow use of paper cartons had no basis from a health and sanitary standpoint. It pointed out further that paper containers are permitted under the standard milk ordinance of the United States public health service and the regulations of the state health department.

The suit was assigned to Federal Judge Charles E. Woodward.

Returns After 3 Years to Admit Killing Wife, Son

Pittsburgh, Pa., Feb. 3 [Friday].—(AP)—District Attorney Andrew T. Park said early today that Norman Stewart, 34 years old, a graduate dentist, who became a grocery clerk, had returned here and admitted that he had beaten and stabbed his wife and 4 year old son to death in 1935. Stewart said worry over debt caused his mind to go blank. He said he had been in Jacksonville, Fla. He came back to clear his conscience, he said.

Seize Suspect in Fatal Beating of Woman, 88

Town Hall police last night seized a suspect for questioning in connection with the murder of Mrs. Johanna Shoberg, 88 years old, Wednesday. She was found beaten to death in her small flat at 3262 North Clark street. Capt. Patrick O'Connell said her slayer was probably a moron. The man in custody was nabbed in his home some two blocks away from Mrs. Shoberg's flat. Police were told he resembled a man who had been seen in the vicinity.

EIGHT LETTERS THAT EQUAL TEN

By CALEB

CIVILIZATION is summarized in its skills. There are workers in metal who can grave a line so fine neither touch nor sight can find it. The artist adds a tint his onlooker cannot detect. The poet shifts a word, and a common line turns to magic. The watchmaker, surgeon, sculptor, juggler, singer, acrobat, pianist, electrician, machinist, scientist . . . every master wielder of a skill manages feats that leave the layman breathlessly exclaiming: "Perfection!"

That's when the artist in any of these vocations is performing; is doing his specialty, either for exhibition or in line of duty. Yet one and all, if you could invade the privacy of their thinking, would give you some version of the same answer to the inquiry: "How are you able to accomplish this thing that to everyone else looks so utterly impossible?"

When Jascha Heifetz was still tenant of his cradle, his father placed a miniature violin in his hands. Throughout his life since, he has played the violin—far oftener off the stage than on. The surgeon whose fifteen-minute operating fee runs into three figures, smiles: "I was twenty years preparing to do what I did." The Lindbergh who crossed to Paris had more than six thousand previous flights behind that one. "If I omit my practice for one day," said the immortal Paderewski, "I know the difference. If I omit it for two days, the critics know it. And if for three days, the audience knows it."

Just as in the philosophy of living there is no substitute for experience, so in the philosophy of that ten-letter word, perfection, there is no substitute for its eight-letter secret, practice. One is wholly—not partly, or occasionally, or incidentally — dependent on the other. For nothing else, or less, can bring out, and then maintain, the nicety of co-ordination, the delicacy of touch, the responsiveness of hand to eye—the synchrony—demanded by skill, under whatever guise and in whatever field it is exercised. . . .

Practice, incessant practice, then, is as applicable to the fine art of rendering service as to any other of man's activities. And as we daily employ it in our customer contacts, we eventually add much to our skill as merchandisers.

GREEN PROMISES TO TAKE SCHOOLS OUT OF POLITICS

Pledges Efficient Rule to Reduce Taxes.

Dwight H. Green, mayoral candidate of the regular Republican organization, promised last night that if elected, he will take politics out of the school system. He addressed 300 Republican workers at a meeting in the 35th ward G. O. P. headquarters, 4821 Diversey avenue.

He also pledged himself to an efficient, economical city administration. Such an administration, Green said, would help reduce taxes which now, he declared, are the highest for any city comparable in size to Chicago. Green said he is working constantly for success of the Republican campaign.

A Busy Day Ahead.

Today will be a busy day for Green. At noon he will address the Kappa Sigma fraternity in the University club. He will make a radio talk from station WMAQ from 6:15 to 6:30 p. m.

In this speech Green expects to throw down the gauntlet to Mayor Kelly and State's Attorney Courtney, rivals for the Democratic mayoralty nomination.

"It is time for a showdown on some of the major issues of the campaign as well as on some of the rumors and whisperings," Green said yesterday. "I will speak candidly to Mayor Kelly and State's Attorney Courtney in this radio address."

To Speak Before Women.

After the broadcast Green will address the Women's City club in the Hotel Sherman. At 9 p. m. he will speak at 3458 State street, in the 2d ward, and at 10 p. m. he will speak at 1608 Milwaukee avenue, in the 32d ward.

Green was informed yesterday that the 8th Ward Young Republican club has indorsed his candidacy.

EXPECT HORNER WILL RETURN TO STATE IN APRIL

Springfield, Ill., Feb. 2.—(AP)—Dr. Nathan Rosen, personal physician to Gov. Horner, said today he had learned the governor was "improving very nicely" at Miami Beach, Fla., but that it still was unlikely he would return here before April.

"The governor's blood pressure is coming down slowly," Dr. Rosen said, "and while he is improving very nicely, I do not expect that he will come back before April."

Recently the physician attending Mr. Horner at Miami Beach said he might be able to return to Springfield some time this month.

Two Jailed for Attempt to Sell Relief Groceries

Two men convicted of attempting to sell groceries issued to reliefers were sent to jail yesterday by Judge Leon Edelman in Chicago Avenue court to work out $25 fines. They are Walter Nelson and Edward Zuidema, both of 22 West Ontario street. Both men are on relief, and the groceries had been issued to Nelson. The two were arrested at Clark and Oak streets when police saw them trying to peddle the groceries to passersby.

MRS. BURGESS DIES IN ALLEGAN.

Allegan, Mich., Feb. 2.—[Special.]—Mrs. Helen Burgess, 84 years old, died last night. Funeral services will be held Saturday.

Threatened

Mrs. Ruth Friedlund Nilsson, who was threatened in attempted extortion plot.

[TRIBUNE Photos.]

Arthur Rath, messenger hired by attempted extortioner to bring him the money. A policeman dressed in Rath's clothes made the contact and arrested Russell O. Davis.

Russell O. Davis, 28 years old, who confessed Wednesday at the detective bureau that he tried to extort $2,134 from Mrs. Ruth Friedlund Nilsson of 5900 Sheridan road, was identified yesterday as a robber. John J. Hogan, night clerk at the Diversey Arms hotel, 644 Diversey parkway, asserted that Davis took $204 from him on Jan. 3.

In his extortion plot, Davis admitted, he had written a note to Mrs. Nilsson threatening to throw acid on her and her two children by a previous marriage. The children are Betty Friedlund, 13, and John Friedlund, 10. The threats were reported to Chief of Detectives John L. Sullivan by Attorney J. Arthur Friedlund, father of the children. Ten policemen were assigned to investigate.

Davis sent Arthur Rath, 20 years old, 5307 Winthrop avenue, to collect the money. Rath, who knew nothing of the plot, lent his bicycle and clothing to Detective Thomas Brown, who seized Davis at Thorndale and Winthrop avenues. He confessed soon after to Brown, Detective James Zegar, and Sergt. Andrew Aitken.

Kelly No. 1 Registrant for Legion Convention

Mayor Kelly yesterday was presented with the No. 1 registration card for the 1939 American Legion convention to be held in Chicago Sept. 25.

MAYOR RECALLS STRIDES MADE IN LAST SIX YEARS

Hits Back at Opponents for Criticisms.

Mayor Edward J. Kelly recalled the accomplishments of his administration and looked into the future last night at a meeting sponsored by the Twenty-eighth ward Democratic organization. Addressing a crowd in the Hayes school at Leavitt and Fulton streets, he said:

"In the last six years we have accomplished many things. I am proud that I have played a part in building up our lake front, both as president of the south park board and as mayor.

Seventy-Five Schools Erected.

"We have done more than that: Constructed seventy-five schools and done away with portable school buildings. We have built new police and fire stations.

"Now we are building the subway. And you will pay no more—you may pay less—when the transportation systems are coördinated.

"With our outer drive and the new outer drive bridge, Chicago has improved fifty years in the last six years. We have had the benefits of both government money and city funds, but we have used the money well."

Striking back at the attacks of opponents, Mayor Kelly said:

"In New York, Cleveland, Cincinnati and St. Louis, they speak of Chicago as a great town. But within our own boundaries, we hear criticism."

Pay Cuts Restored.

The mayor said his administration has endeavored to improve the lot of workers by stimulating employment. Police, firemen, and other city employés, he said, have benefited through restoration of wage cuts imposed during the depression.

"I come from a class of people," the mayor said, "which believes in a square deal for all—people who believe in being their neighbor's keeper."

State Senator George Maypole, who is serving as acting lieutenant governor, and Ludwig Schreiber, Democratic candidate for city clerk, were among the other speakers.

Corcoran Faces Operation at Johns Hopkins Today

Baltimore, Md., Feb. 2.—(AP)—Thomas G. Corcoran, special counsel to the Reconstruction Finance corporation and one of President Roosevelt's New Deal advisory family, will undergo a major operation at Johns Hopkins hospital here tomorrow morning.

Political Notes

State's Attorney Courtney spent most of yesterday preparing a radio talk on his candidacy for mayor. He will speak at 6:45 o'clock tonight from WMAQ.

Ludwig D. Schreiber, candidate for the Democratic nomination for city clerk on Mayor Kelly's ticket, said over the radio last night that since 1933 the mayor had saved more than $44,000,000 in the corporate fund alone through reduced city costs. "The mayor has redeemed the credit of the city and launched the biggest improvement program in Chicago's history," Schreiber asserted.

Mrs. Hannah G. Solomon, honorary president and founder of the National Council of Jewish Women, yesterday endorsed Courtney for the mayoralty nomination. Mrs. Solomon is 83 years old. She praised Courtney's record as state senator and as prosecutor. If elected mayor he will effect a severance between politics and the schools by appointing qualified persons to the board of education and thereafter protecting them from political influence, she said.

Leslie G. Goudie, president of the Teamsters' Joint Council, was elected chairman of the Courtney for Mayor Union Labor club yesterday at a meeting in the Hotel Sherman attended by more than 200 labor officials. John F. Hogan, vice president of the Building Trades council, was chosen vice chairman. It is claimed that more than 200,000 union workers are represented in the membership of the club.

Jack O'Keefe, president of the Cleaners' and Dyers' union, heads the finance committee and Joseph D. Keenan, secretary of the Chicago Federation of Labor, will direct the radio campaigning of the club. William Tate, organizer for the Upholsters' union, was made head of a committee to obtain additional labor support for the prosecutor.

Two additional labor groups endorsed Mayor Kelly yesterday. For the executive council of the Illinois State Council of Lathers, George T. Mcore said that a resolution has been passed urging all members to work for the mayor's reëlection.

M. J. Sexton, president, and William R. Daniels, secretary of local No. 13, United Brotherhood of Carpenters and Joiners, wrote the mayor of the adoption of a similar resolution.

THE DIES COMMITTEE.

The house rules committee has voted favorably on a resolution to extend the work of the Dies committee. New Deal revolutionaries, at the instigation of the White House, did everything in their power to stop this investigation into communist, Nazi, and Fascist activities in the United States. They used slander, ridicule, falsification, and deception. They tried intrigue, coercion, and rather silly strategy. They have belittled the results already obtained by the committee, insulted the witnesses, tried to scandalize the proceedings, and injure the reputation of any one who gave valuable service to the investigators.

The communists and their fellow travelers, the subversionists who are trying to appear as well intentioned progressives, the New Deal officials who are trying to run an undercover revolution, and all the gentry who are doing their best to prolong depression as the grand opportunity for remaking America, had been thoroughly alarmed by the work of the committee and were determined to stop it if they could.

One of the opposition maneuvers, which might even give the country a laugh, was found in an attempt to transfer the inquiry to the La Follette committee, which has been merely the tool for the attack upon democratic practices and principles. The La Follette committee has been plowing the ground and sowing the seed for the very people whose work and intentions have been disclosed by the Dies committee.

Mr. Dies and his associates have already provided the country with a three volume report revealing conditions which have come slowly to the attention of Americans unprepared to believe that both their government and their industrial plant had become so saturated with communist activity. It is believed that the house will accept the recommendation of its rules committee and will provide adequately for the continuation of the investigation. A great deal of interesting work remains ahead of the committee. If the people know what is going on they can come to their own decisions about it.

AVIATION EXPANSION.

Speaking extemporaneously the other day at a private gathering in Miami, Fla., Capt. Rickenbacker discussed the lines upon which he believes the proposed expansion of our military aviation should follow. As Capt. Rickenbacker is our greatest military aviator and our most successful civilian operator, his views will have the greatest following in the country and, we trust, the greatest weight with those who are responsible for the development of the proposed program. Our readers will be interested in a summary of his remarks which we offer herewith.

"I see many chances to repeat in our proposed aviation expansion program the mistakes made during the world war when we spent 800 million dollars to build an industry under the stress and strain of wartime conditions. And when we got through with that expenditure we didn't have an industry and we did not have military airplanes.

"An aviation industry cannot be built overnight, nor can 10,000 airplanes be manufactured overnight. Let's build something that will benefit the public. This is not direct criticism of the President's program, but a warning that we can easily repeat blunders of the past.

"I think those blunders could be avoided if we build our aviation program in a sane, sound, all round way. We should do it by putting all first class mail aboard airplanes that would feed into the trunk air lines. This would multiply the need for pilots, mechanics, radio operators, meteorologists, and every kind of personnel connected with air line operations.

"It would multiply the need for airplanes and spread the demand for new ships through all industry—into bricks and mortar for new airplane factories, into increases in factory personnel, into orders for airplane materials, engines, propellers, steel, aluminum.

"Then the government should create a separate feeder air line program. The feeder lines could carry only mail. It would create a new demand for small, fast airplanes and for pilots to fly them. Let the boys get out and wear a parachute and get the mail through. And again this would stimulate the industry.

"And on the North Atlantic ocean, instead of having one company get all the business, let the state, CAA, postoffice, navy, and other departments get together and grant 25 year contracts to a number of companies. Give one contract to an air line for flying between the United States and Germany. Another for an air line flying between the United States and England, and a third for flights between the United States and the Mediterranean. Let a dozen American companies into the field. This again would multiply the industry behind these lines.

"Such contracts would mean that money would be well spent. It would mean that the engineers, pilots, mechanics, airplanes, and all would be the best there are. And the public would get some real good from spending the money in this way.

"In the world war the automobile industry came to our rescue. Thousands upon thousands of trucks changed the whole strategy of war. Men, munitions, food, supplies, and guns were moved about twenty times faster than they could have been moved without the trucks.

"This same kind of technological background in aviation would mean that thousands and thousands of airplanes could be manufactured in wartime and we would have the trained pilots to fly them.

"After we get the industry developed it would be easy for the army and navy to keep small numbers of up to date airplanes on hand. And the industry would have the jigs and dies to turn out a large number of any of these current types on short notice. The factories could be tooled up to turn out one kind of machine—specialize, in other words.

"There could be three big factories set to build fighters, three or four others to build big bombers, half a dozen to build medium sized bombers, still others to make observation and attack planes.

"With a big industry established we'd have the facilities and the man power to do anything we wanted in time of war, yet we wouldn't be saddling the country with 10,000 planes, all of which would be obsolescent by the time they were built.

"This is something I've had on my mind for a long time. It's crystalized since the President's program was announced. I hope that those in authority will think over what I have said and it may do some good. It's not criticism. It's simply a supplemental plan that is fundamental and sound."

DEFENSE OF CIVIL LIBERTY.

The widespread and emphatic approval which has greeted the action of the American Bar association's committee on the bill of rights in the proceedings against the mayor and other officials of Jersey City ought to encourage the establishment of similar committees in the state and local bar associations throughout the country, as urged by Chairman Grenville Clark of the central committee.

We recommend this not only for the strengthening it will give to civil liberty but also the credit it will reflect upon the profession of the law, which has been criticized a good deal in recent years, with more justice than high-minded members have liked to think, for lack of public spirit. The lay citizen is justified in looking to the legal fraternity for an alert guardianship of the principles on which our American order is founded and by which our legislation and administration ought to be directed. We have said that the costly blunder of the prohibition experiment would not have occurred had the legal profession opposed it on the grounds of constitutional principle, bringing into its discussion the considerations which legal experience and reasoning presented to the legal profession. The American bar should have taken the leading part in analyzing the weakness and the hurtful implications of the 18th amendment, but evaded the issue. It cannot claim much credit for the correction of that great mistake. It should see to it that it is not absent from the great struggle for the defense of American liberties against the encroachments of collectivism. The brunt of the battle for freedom of utterance has been borne by the press, which is inevitable and desirable, but the profession of the law should be in the forefront of the defense of the American system of free government.

We welcome, therefore, the establishment of a standing committee of the American Bar association to watch over the guaranties of civil liberty and to help make them effectual on behalf of all citizens however poor or obscure. The very able brief of the committee on behalf of the right of assembly is a most heartening event, and the precedent the committee has set we believe will be historic. It should enlighten the organized bar in every community upon the profession's duty and opportunity.

We are glad to note that the Chicago Bar association already has a committee on civil liberties, and we hope every bar association in the country will create one. It has been a sardonic aspect of recent trends that the ostensible defense of liberty has been too often left to partisans of systems which invariably destroy liberty when they have seized upon power. Their victories are false. There is no real defense of liberty in this republic save by those who are true to the republic.

ILLINOIS OIL BOOM.

A few years ago when oil was struck in southern Illinois the incident attracted little attention outside of Egypt. Some one always seems to be boring a hole somewhere and finding oil after going down a way. And so the average man's reaction to the story from southern Illinois was something like this: "So there's oil in Illinois; eh, well, there's gold in Indiana, but not enough of either mineral in either state to get excited about. It's what comes from California, Texas, Oklahoma and Kansas that makes your car go."

The average man, if we have correctly read his mind, will be surprised at the recent figures on oil production in Illinois. It currently amounts to 138,000 barrels per day. Continued for a year that would be more oil than was produced in Mexico on the average for the past ten years. It is about equal to the production of Rumania, whose supplies Hitler is said to covet. The current volume makes Illinois one of the greatest petroleum producers. Only five states, Texas, California, Oklahoma, Louisiana, and Kansas, are pumping more oil than Illinois is. And the Illinois total is nearly as large as that of Kansas, a half of that of Louisiana, and one-third of the figure for Oklahoma, which was the leading oil state a few years back.

Periodically romantic stories come out of Oklahoma and the other petroleum states, involving the affairs of men who struck oil. We may now look for more romance from the south end of our state, and incidentally some reduction in the expenditures for unemployment relief. A chart published in THE TRIBUNE last Sunday showed that in a number of southern Illinois counties nearly half of the residents are on the relief roll.

PLENTY LOUD.

Chief—I am glad that you have been punctual lately, Mr. Brown.

Clerk—Yes, sir, I have bought myself a parrot.

Chief—A parrot? I recommended you to get yourself an alarm clock.

Clerk—I had an alarm clock but soon got used to it. Now I set the clock beside the parrot and when the clock goes off, what the parrot says is enough to rouse the house.—Lustige Koelner Zeitung, Cologne.

PRETTY TOUGH.

The tourist had stopped to change tires. "I suppose," he remarked to a native onlooker, "that in these isolated parts the necessities of life come pretty high."

"Y'er right, stranger," replied the native, gloomily, "an it ain't worth drinkin' when ye get it!"—Telephone Topics.

WORD WRESTLER DEFIES CRITICS.

In his corner between rounds, while his seconds worked over him, A. William Erdmann, the dictionary wrestler from Danville, now contending in this column for the world's championship, said hoarsely:

"Give 'em some more stuff; we've got 'em going. Tell them to read the rules; they can't ring in that word 'scion' on us. When I wrestled in that round I said, 'Words ending in the syllable 'cion.' 'Scion' is not a syllable, but a word. Now lemme at that book again! I'll bite its ears off."

Other critics of the mighty Erdmann, booing from the ringside, have charged him with omitting "bookkeeper" and "bookkeeping" from his list of words with three double letters. The mental giant points again to the rules: "Compound words barred."

Loud cries from the arena, "Tell 'em about me! Tell 'em about me!" were traced to a certain Otto Rentner, the only citizen of Chicago whose name forms two palindromes. The peerless athlete was keenly interested when informed of this circumstance, and said that it gave him an idea for his exhibition matches of next year—wrestling with an encyclopædia of biography.

Shrapnel on the Boulevard.

I wish to advise you that the great railway strike in Chicago [1-30-'39] was in the summer of 1894, not 1895. The explosion you mentioned occurred before the railway tracks were elevated across Grand boulevard, now South Park way. I happened to be there very soon after it occurred.

C. T. Ray.

[We accept the correction of the date. We, too, were on the scene, and are sure that we got there faster than Mr. Ray. Our time from the moment of the explosion was a world's record for small boys running two long blocks with their shoes off.]

WINTER EVENING.

Bare trees outlined against a cold gray sky,
Impersonal, austere, like palace guards
That question not, but find it in their cards
To stand erect, immobile heads held high,
Beside the gate where royalty goes by.
Sleek streamlined cars along the boulevards
Bespeak warm homes with generous rewards
Of industry and craft. The newsboys ply
On busy streets, and shiver as they shout.
Rough-handed hillfolk, coming in from chores,
Sniff at the coffee-scented air, pause, clout
Their caps on thighs and stamp off snow at doors.
While far above, and spanning all in flight,
A thrumming air mail sails into the night.

Tom Chekouras.

Chicago's Vision of the Erl King.

We stood at the window, sire, when the blizzard broke, and it seemed we were beholding all the glamorous horsemen of history once more on the ride.

In the beginning it was like the sudden flight of a frightened band of mustangs—a tattoo of hoof beats, indignant snorts—they were gone—in their wake clouds of frozen breath—the opening bars of the mad symphony which came out of the north. Then the outriders of the raging hordes of horsemen who rode out the night at the call of the Erl King—screaming, whirling, galloping—on the breasts of spinning tornadoes of snow. Then the furious ride of the night was on—by twos and threes, by companies, by troops, then vast armies of lusty lunged, lusty bodied riders and steeds came pouring across city and hamlet, field and forest.

At the climax came a new series of cold, biting boreal blasts, which seemed to awaken all the wild ferocity the world had known. Strung across the swirling panorama, now riding through it, were the Valkyries, hazy, misty, yet unmistakable, as they streamed athwart the gale driven snow, bearing across their proud bosoms the Valhalla giants. There were legions of them, and we could feel the strains of Wagner's wild music riding with them.

The storm reached its crest—millions of furious horsemen were on the ride—wave on wave of painted Sioux, shrieking the Dakotah war cry—Pickett and his gorgeous men—the Light Brigade—the nimble Cossacks from the cold steppes—the mighty hussars—the men of Clive—Wellington's invincibles from the sunken Waterloo road—Custer—Arthur and his knights—hardy Texas rangers—the conquistadores—the lone Johnstown flood hero—the trail riders—the mail riders—they were all present, sire, and more—and rode—rode—RODE—all through the night—hell bent for lether—devil take the hindmost—in one fierce, tremendous ride—a ride of all-time—a ride in which one could hear again the clashing of cymbals, the swish of arrows, the clank of spear on armor, the crash of ax on helmet, the crack of carbines, the shrill cry of victory, the hoarse scream of death!

Sire, it was a majestic night! Jake Irmiter.

Slang's Richest Vein.

Inspired by Mr. Pepys' remarks on "The Drunkard's Dictionary" in this column [1-24-'39], Contrib "S. Nosakcid" sat down and dashed off thirty-four slang synonyms for drunkenness; but omitted orey-eyed, had a snootful, ossified, stiff, lushed, jagged, etc., ad naus.

No more of this. More than 300 slang expressions in this category are given in Farmer and Henley's "Dictionary of Slang and Colloquial English."

"What, no breakfast in sight?" said the ground hog as he blinked in the sunshine and made a few tracks in the snow. "I think I'll take another little nap." He set his alarm clock for St. Patrick's day. CHARLES COLLINS.

CLEAN DISHES PREVENT SPREAD OF COLDS.

Of course, we ought to wash our eating utensils thoroughly at all times regardless of the season. But special precautions are needed now because bacilli are so plentiful, particularly those associated with coughs, colds, and sore throats. We can reduce our respiratory infections by 50 per cent if we will so handle soiled dishes and silverware that they cannot harbor harmful microbes. Despite admonitions to the contrary many homes, restaurants, and soda fountains do not make even a pretense of sterilizing drinking glasses, spoons, etc. Regardless of the amount of proof as to the dissemination of illness by table service, careless practice continues in some quarters—sowing disease-producers widely.

A recent report on the inspection of cafés, beverage rooms, and soda counters in one of our large cities presents a situation indicative of gross neglect. Tests made upon supposedly clean tableware in one establishment demonstrated that the spoons and tumblers averaged more than 200,000 bacteria; and the forks, over 100,000. The rinse water was found to be alive with vicious organisms including streptococci and the pus producing types—the staphylococci.

In another city more than a score of shops serving meals were investigated and a more menacing degree of contamination was uncovered. Bacteria counts showed the spoons were possessed of over 300,000, the forks 125,000, tumblers 600,000, and knives 660,000. The trouble seemed to lie chiefly in rinsing and drying and the only satisfactory low figures were obtained in some hotels where mechanical dishwashing equipment provided water above 150 degrees Fahrenheit.

Experiments were then conducted in the inspected eating houses, adding hypochlorite powder as a sterilizing agent to each bath. The solution was of such strength that an ounce of the chemical mixed with a gallon of fluid rendered available 400 parts of chlorine per million parts of the liquid. Following this procedure the bacteria were so scarce as to be negligible. Instead of 200,000 or 300,000 per spoon there were only 41. In place of three-quarters of a million in the rinse there were none. Almost as good results were secured by using 100 parts per million although this was considered unsafe in the presence of numerous colds and mouth infections among the customers.

It is interesting to note that spoons retained more germs than any other article although goblets—because of insufficient sudsing and their greater surface—supplied increased quantities. Before chlorine was tried towels were found to be badly polluted. It was decided, therefore, to allow the heated china to dry in the air rather than to wipe it with soiled cloths.

In the home, hand washing is feasible only if plenty of soap is employed and if the temperature of the suds is about 120 to 130 degrees Fahrenheit. If chlorine powder can be utilized so much the better. In fact, this should be the rule if a member of the family is suffering from a cold, pneumonia, or some other contagious malady. Rubber gloves and a small mop affixed to a short stick may be used so that the hands will not be injured. But even this device may be a source of danger unless it is thoroughly disinfected.

For the antiseptic factor, either sodium or calcium hypochlorite is suggested. Although these compounds will affect metals slightly, their action is not sufficiently strong to be considered. In hotels, restaurants, etc., where machinery is installed care must be exercised not to demand too much. In other words, the loaded racks must be immersed long enough to destroy all noxious elements. The desire of those in charge to get the work finished may occasion so much hurry that each step is improperly carried out. Furthermore, all particles of food should be removed as a preliminary measure as organic matter will neutralize chlorine rapidly.

PROBABLY A HABIT.

Mrs. V. writes: I have reared a nephew, now 13 years old, who is a fine normal boy except that he shakes his head continuously. I was told that this is St. Vitus' dance. Any suggestions you may make will be appreciated.

REPLY.

If the shaking is confined to the head we feel that this condition is not the result of chorea [St. Vitus' dance]. In this malady the movements are irregular and changing. If no organic basis can be found it is probably due to a habit. If the tendency can be controled by the will this should be practiced until victory is achieved. A psychiatrist may be able to help.

BLISTERS.

C. N. writes: A man 80 years old has developed blood and water blisters on the back of his hands and fingers. There is no soreness. What is the cause?

REPLY.

An irritation which may range from a parasitic infection to unusually fragile capillaries. There are so many possibilities that it would be unwise to hazard even a guess. A skilled physician should be consulted.

HERPES.

G. S. writes: What causes herpes of the eye? Is it curable? What is the treatment?

REPLY.

The cause is thought to be a filtrable virus which has attacked a nerve depot—a ganglion. It usually occurs in those who are elderly and who are quite feeble. Treatment should be under the direction of a competent eye specialist. Injection of a small quantity of the patient's own blood beneath his skin may be helpful.

DRIVING DURING PREGNANCY.

Mrs. P. writes: Would you advise a woman to drive a car during the period of pregnancy?

REPLY.

In the early months—yes. In the middle period avoid long journeys. For the last month or so, nonbumpy trips may be advantageous but as a passenger—not a driver.

ECZEMA.

J. A. D. writes: Is the cause of eczema known? Is there a diet for a victim to follow? Is there a cure?

REPLY.

Eczema is the reaction of the skin to some product to which the body is sensitive. By suitable tests [patch] the offender may be identified and hence eliminated. It may be an article of diet. If this is omitted the condition will be relieved.

WHINING BABY.

Mrs. R. writes: Our 15 month old baby whines a lot, mostly at night. What causes this?

REPLY.

This may be a habit. Make sure, however, that there is nothing wrong, and an examination by your doctor is in order. The youngster may be merely voicing his protest against going to bed.

EYESTRAIN.

G. A. N. writes: What causes a throbbing and drawing sensation in my eyes? It comes at intervals day or night.

REPLY.

This may be due to eyestrain, improperly fitted lenses, poor light, or be associated with nervousness.

PSORIASIS AND HAIR.

Mrs. A. B. writes: Does psoriasis of the scalp cause the hair to fall out?

REPLY.

Yes, frequently, although many who are afflicted with this malady can boast of a heavy thatch.

FROM ACROSS THE SEA

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON.—You can buy tripe, toffee-cream, sugar confections, and ice cream for your Sunday dinner in London and eat it with the smug assurance that you are keeping within the law, even though your stomach might not think so.

But you cannot go to the grocery and buy more conventional food after 10 a. m. on Sunday without breaking a few ordinances.

How to keep on good terms with your digestive system and be legal is the problem which now faces a London County Council court.

The whole matter arose in a test case on the Shops act, which restricts trading on the Sabbath. A Chelsea grocer and restaurant keeper was haled into court for selling chocolate eclairs, jam tarts, fruit cake, Swiss rolls, and veal and ham pies at 2 p. m. on a Sunday. He was acquitted when the judge of a lower court ruled that although these articles are included in schedule 2 of the act which forbids their sale, they also come under schedule 1, which allows the sale of a "meal or refreshment."

The prosecution now has appealed the decision, and the court must rule on what is a "meal or refreshment."

Court Justice Charles thinks a piece of bread and a glass of water are a meal, or at least refreshment, and, therefore, bread, which is classified as unsalable, might be sold under schedule 1. He also suggested two sardines, but later discovered their sale was illegal on the Sabbath.

"What about bread and oysters?" he cautiously proposed. "Together, or alone, I understand they can be a good meal.

"I see you can buy an airplane all day Sunday, and at the same time you can eat a piece of tripe. But you can't eat fish and chips all day. You can have tripe, toffee-cream, sugar confectionary, and finish with ice cream, and that would be perfectly lawful," he added, somewhat in desperation.

Lord Hewart, the lord chief justice of the court, said the case was a difficult one and reserved judgment. No one has suggested that the dilemma might be solved by doing Sunday shopping on Saturday.

JOINT PROPERTY.

Peoria, Ill., Jan. 27.—[Legal Friend of the People.]—1. Fifteen years ago I turned over my money to my husband to equip a farm. Everything is in my husband's name. Now he tells me I'm not entitled to anything [which my money paid for], and says I will not get a cent. The only proof I have is a check paid to me by a party who owed me money, which I cashed, and in turn gave my own personal check to my husband [which I have lost], but the first party has the canceled check given to me.

2. What steps must I take to get money?

3. What amount would I be allowed?

4. My husband says that he will not have to give me anything now, since our girl is nearly 18 years old. A. K.

1 and 2. Your chances are good enough to warant going over your facts in a personal interview with an attorney.

3. You should be able to establish a trust to the amount of your contribution.

4. See preceding answers.

ESTATE PROBATE.

Chicago, Jan. 21.—[Legal Friend of the People.]—1. After a will has been filed for probate in an Indiana court, how long does it take before letters testamentary of administration are issued to the administrator?

2. Are these papers mailed from the office of the judge of the court or from the county clerk's office?

3. The will in question was filed last August and we have had no letters as yet. I. E. S.

1. Depends on whether appearances of the heirs can be obtained and on the diligence of the attorney. The letters might be issued on the same day.

2. They would not necessarily be mailed at all.

3. If you have merely filed the will and have done nothing more, then the letters will not issue no matter how long you wait. The next step would be to file a petition to have the will admitted to probate and in due course present the attesting witnesses. We cannot advise to advantage without knowing what you have done.

UNPAID TAXES.

Chicago, Jan. 21.—[Legal Friend of the People.]—I own my bungalow and have no debts on same, having a clear title. If I have general taxes, say taxes unpaid for one year or more, [1] could the city where I reside take my bungalow away from me for unpaid taxes?

If so, [2] how soon after would I receive notice, if any, to pay the taxes?

3. Would I have to give up my bungalow for total amount I paid for it?

J. J. K.

1. The property could be sold for taxes and two years later a tax deed would issue, which would be a serious cloud on your title, but ordinarily there would be no interference with the owner's possession.

2. The statute does not provide for any notice.

3. If you have to give up the bungalow you will not necessarily get anything back. The interest and penalties on tax default accumulate rapidly, and in general we advise you to keep your taxes paid. If you cannot keep up, you should employ a broker to sell the property before they accumulate and are too large.

SCRAP IRON AND OTHER EXPORTS.

Chicago, Jan. 31.—On Jan. 27 you published an item, "United States Scrap Iron Flows Abroad for Armament." I read this article very carefully, as I am in the scrap business.

It is true the export business of scrap has been on the upward trend. While we do a little export, I am against exports, as I believe in conserving our scrap and natural resources for our own use if essential. Whether or not the scrap that is exported is going into armaments such as bombs, airplanes, and other weapons for war purposes is something that I believe you or I cannot answer.

You bring up the far eastern struggle and suggest the possibility that the bombs which struck the Panay were made out of scrap coming from this country. Well, let us take this one instance, going further into the matter. Possibly the planes which bombed the Panay might have been built in this country and, if they weren't built here, probably some other nation sold them to Japan. Let us go one step further; maybe the planes were built in Japan with American made machinery. We do know that American made machinery, both new and second hand, is being exported to Japan, Italy, and Germany in very great quantities and running into millions of dollars, so what difference does it make whether the raw material or the finished material is exported to make it?

You go on to say in your article that the exportation of scrap to Japan, Great Britain, Germany, the Netherlands, and Poland has brought a sharp rise in the prices of metal resulting in the increase of prices of metal products. In the department of commerce's monthly statement, No. 3200, you will find that you are mistaken. Furthermore, from official records, we can prove to you that the market today or in the year 1938 or the year 1936 or 1935 is below the average of a twenty year period, excluding war years. In 1937 the prices were higher.

You go on to say that if scrap exports were halted it would put 75,000 men to work per year. Frankly, if it weren't for scrap exports today more than 100,000 men working in the scrap industry now would probably be made idle because the scrap in Texas, Oklahoma, and the southwestern and southern states would be still lying there rusting away doing no one any good; the handling cost and freight rates to haul it to a market would be more than you could get for the scrap. Take a trip through Kentucky or through any of the hillbilly states and you will find that there are more than 75,000 men put to work gathering up scrap to put into a ready market.

Why pick on one product? Why not stop the exportation of anything connected with war such as tin, tin scrap, lead, copper, cotton, semi-finished iron and steel material such as ingots, blooms, castings, various alloys, together with, as stated above, finished steel, freight cars, rails, machinery, airplanes, aluminum, cellulose, and all other articles essential to war.

Preliminary figures released today by the minerals and metals division of the bureau of foreign and domestic commerce place the export of iron and steel products [scrap excepted] at 2,149,184 gross tons, and of this tonnage 40.3 per cent or 866,657 tons [as compared to 1,413,171 tons in 1937] went to Japan. In December Japan was our largest customer, taking 30,075 tons of tin plate.

It might be a very good idea to check just how this scrap gets to these various countries. It might be that American boats are being used to export much of this scrap. It might also be a good idea to check how much American machinery and dock equipment was sold to these countries for unloading these boats. W. ERMAN.

AGAINST THE LUDLOW BILL.

Dubuque, Ia., Jan. 31.—Referring to the cartoon in today's TRIBUNE:

If ever the matter of declaring war is referred to the people it will mean the death of the nation. It should be left entirely where it is, in the hands of the congress. When it is necessary to declare war, there is not time enough for a referendum to the people, and any hostile nation would take advantage of the United States if we only had such a provision in our constitution.

It is true the United States should avoid entangling alliances, but at once to declare a willingness to coöperate to fight a perfectly potent world menace is merely defending our own house. It is probably the best method to stave off war entirely, and, in the event war came, it will make it a much shorter one.

The allies blamed us in the world war because we did not go in earlier. I personally could not see that, because, until the constant sinking of our vessels by Germany's submarines without apology or promised reparation forced us into that war, I could not see that it was our war. But in this case it is different. Two nations, Germany and Japan, are manifestly seeking world conquest. Germany is attempting to create a protectorate over every German-born citizen in any country; is seeking to make "incidents" of every lawful restraint placed upon such "Sudeten" citizens; is interpenetrating every country with spies, and far worse than all this, is employing organizations to effect an alliance with every wicked, gangster-minded native of such countries. I believe it has been clearly and abundantly proved that all this has been and is taking place dangerously in our own country. H. R. D.

TOMFOOLERY.

Chicago, Feb. 1.—As an expatriate Londoner I wish to protest against the arrant tomfoolery concerning a crown of Canada, emblematic of the dominion. Surely King George VI. can manage to scrape along with the imperial crown, coronation crown, the crown of India, and a couple of others the names of which I have forgotten. What a consummate waste of money to purchase another very costly and very unserviceable bauble in the form of an elaborate gold filigreed, gem studded head ornament so that the regally robed monarch may impress the Canadians with his ostentatious display of spectacular brilliance. It has already cost Great Britain a sum approximating twenty million dollars to provide ceremonial headdress [embiazoned with precious stones] for the exclusive use of British kings.

It is sincerely to be hoped that the broadminded statesman, Sir Thomas Inskip, late minister of defense who was last week appointed secretary of dominions, will put a stop to this crass folly which is a disgrace to enlightened human beings of a progressive modernistic civilization.

I wonder what that aggressive humanitarian, Prime Minister Neville Chamberlain, thinks of this latest asininity in view of the destitution, squalor, and disease which abounds in the poverty stricken districts of Montreal, Toronto, Winnipeg, and Vancouver.

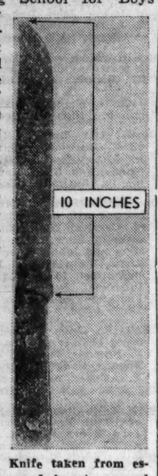
YOUNG HOODLUMS TREATED GENTLY AT ST. CHARLES

'Spare Rod and Spoil 'Em' Practices Bared.

(This is the third article of a series describing conditions in the penal institutions of Illinois.)

BY GEORGE WRIGHT.

An inspection tour through the St. Charles Training School for Boys makes it clear that the institution's motto is: "Spare the rod and spoil the young criminal." Although a large proportion of the 598 inmates are tough young hoodlums and either actual or incipient criminals, the attendants are forbidden to administer corporal punishment, no matter how severe the infraction of rules.



Knife taken from escaped inmate several years ago. Boy had brandished it while chasing St. Charles woman and her daughter.

An attendant [the institution's word for guard] may use physical force on a prisoner only in self-defense. If physical force is used the guard must justify himself later before the faculty of the school.

The corrective punishment for inmates who escape or violate disciplinary regulations is literally a slap on the wrist with a warning to be a good boy in future. Escapes are frequent, the school records show, since the institution, three miles west of St. Charles, is surrounded only by ordinary farm fencing.

Leniency in the treatment of prisoners is not characteristic of the St. Charles school alone. Apparently it has become a ruling obsession in the whole penal administration of Illinois, as will be shown in later articles. Some of the St. Charles officials and employés admit in private conversation that they are afraid of criticism from the class designated as "sob sisters."

Attendants may not carry clubs or any other kind of weapon for fear one might lose his temper and strike an inmate, says Capt. W. T. Harmon, managing officer of the school.

Vicious Activities Told.

Yet the townspeople of St. Charles, several of whom are former employés of the school, tell numerous stories of the vicious activities of the inmates themselves. They tell of the boy who hit a guard on the head with a hammer and put him in an Elgin hospital; of the boys with stolen foot-long butcher knives who terrorized their guards; of the boys who have attempted to assault women residents of the town. The school authorities deny most of the stories told by the townspeople, but they admit some of their boys are tough, too tough for St. Charles.

Boys and young men of all descriptions are scattered in living quarters over the beautiful grounds of the school. The age of commitment is from 10 to 17 years, and an inmate can be kept only until his 21st birthday. The average time required for so-called reformation is ten to twelve months, the records show.

Political Influence Seen.

As the inmates pass in parade, the size and appearance of some of them raise a question as to whether the committing judges were deaf when told their ages. The people of St. Charles say that politics must often influence judges in sending some of the young men to St. Charles instead of to a reformatory or penitentiary.

"I have nothing to say about who will be an inmate of this institution," said Capt. Harmon. "I have to take the boys as they are sent to me."

This is one of the things that is wrong at St. Charles, criminologists declare. The school was originally intended for underprivileged boys, but now has become a dumping ground for young thugs.

The records show that Cook county is the worst offender in sending the vicious type of boys and young men to the school. Not until the Juvenile court has exhausted all its other means of reformation and failed is a youth sent to St. Charles. When he gets there, the officials say, he is almost beyond help of a school where he gets good lodgings, good food, good entertainment, and considerable freedom and pleasure.

10% of Low Mentality.

Young men of such low mentality that they cannot make any further educational progress compose 10 per cent of the St. Charles school's inmates. Some of them cannot read or write, or have started to do so only since being sent to St. Charles. Between sixty and sixty-five inmates, who have reached the educational limit, mix with the other youths in their living quarters. They are kept on a work program.

St. Charles is not the place for the older criminally inclined youths, even Capt. Harmon admits.

"The state should have an intermediate walled institution—a place ranking between St. Charles and Pontiac reformatory," he said. "Boys or young men who will not reform belong behind walls."

St. Charles has its good side, however, and a place in the scheme of rehabilitating 10 to 15 year old first offenders. These aspects of the institution will be told in another article.

FIRE DAMAGES M'KINLEY HIGH, CITY'S OLDEST

Fire early today swept through the northeast section of the top floor of the McKinley High school, Adams street and Hoyne avenue, often called Chicago's original high school. The damage was estimated at more than $10,000 by Marshal Jerry McAuliffe of the Second division.

The fire started from undetermined causes in the chemical laboratory on the fifth floor. By the time firemen arrived flames were shooting from the roof. Firemen had to break through doors to get into the building. The fire was soon controled, but the area attacked by the flames was seriously damaged. Further damage was done by water. Some eight classrooms were said to be unfit for immediate use.

McKinley High school was founded in 1856 as the Chicago High school and became one of the most famous high schools in the United States.

CHARGES BOYS LEARN CRIME AT ST. CHARLES

The St. Charles Training School for Boys was described as a "grade school for crime" at a meeting of the Illinois County and Probate Judges' association in the Hotel Sherman yesterday. Judge Harlington Wood, county judge of Sangamon county, applied the description and asked the fifty other jurists attending the convention to urge the transformation of the school back to its original purpose as an institution for dependent boys.

Judge Harlington Wood.

A grave error is being made, he said, in utilizing the school as anything but a home for boys of juvenile court age who are dependent or are potentially delinquent. At present the school is a stopping place for more than 500 young thieves and hoodlums, many of whom graduate into careers in major crime.

Put to Wrong Use, He Says.

"The St. Charles school," Judge Wood said, "has become a grade school for crime because it is mistakenly regarded as one of the state's penal institutions. It should function only as was first intended.

[The school was founded in 1904 on ground donated by John W. (Bet a Million) Gates for boys who were in danger of becoming delinquent through dependence. Then in 1919 criminal courts were empowered to send boys between 10 and 17 years old to St. Charles. The result was that many young criminals were committed. An attempt was made in the legislature in 1935 to restore the school to its original purpose, but the bill failed. The school is surrounded only by farm fence and the guards, called attendants, are unarmed. Any inmate who can run faster than an attendant can escape.]

"In far too many cases delinquent boys go into an institution knowing how to steal a bicycle and come out knowing how to rob a bank. There should be a greater use of foster homes for the training of wayward boys and girls.

"We also need intermediary institutions—two camps, one downstate and the other near Chicago—for that type of delinquent boys who should not be in private homes, yet should not be exposed to the hardening influence of institutional life. A bill to create such camps might be introduced at this session of the legislature if proper backing could be obtained."

"We should get away from the old system of catching, convicting, and confining. That does not solve the crime situation. The proper solution is through measures for the prevention of crime. If St. Charles were restored to its original idea and if we had the intermediary camps we could stop crime at its source—the misguided juvenile.

Urges Formation of Councils.

"Coördinating councils should be established in all communities to work on the preventive side of the situation. The membership of these councils would consist of church and civic leaders and all persons interested in child and juvenile welfare."

The judges were welcomed to the meeting by Probate Judge Benjamin S. DeBoice of Sangamon county, president of the association. Other speakers were Probate Judge M. J. Hinchcliff of Winnebago county and County Judge Everett Lewis of Franklin county. The convention will close tomorrow.

EX-SEN. STEIWER, COURT PACKING OPPONENT, DEAD

Keynoter at Republican Convention of 1936.

Washington, D. C., Feb. 3 [Friday].—(AP)—Frederick Steiwer, former Republican senator from Oregon, died early today in Walter Reed hospital. He was 55 years old. He had been in ill health since he resigned from the senate a year ago to enter private law practice here. He was near the end of his second six year term.

Frederick Steiwer.

Former Senator Steiwer, whose physique reflected the bigness of the west, was one of the most capable constitutional lawyers of his time in congress.

Contributor to Famed Report.

A fierce opponent of all legislation which he thought might disturb the balance of power among the three branches of American government, Steiwer's profound knowledge of constitutional law was perhaps best illustrated in the historic fight over President Roosevelt's Supreme court reorganization plan. He performed a large part of the work of preparing the history making senate committee report which in 1937 opposed the President's plan and started it off to legislative oblivion.

The constitution was Steiwer's political philosophy, and in his eleven years as the junior senator from Oregon, 1926-'38, he became famous for his defense of it. In committee and on the senate floor he stalked his Democratic and independent Republican foes, challenging their delegation of legislative authority to the executive branch in the turbulent years of the New Deal.

So vigorous were his expressions that in 1936 the Republicans chose him at their national convention to deliver the keynote address.

In 1938, nine months before his second term expired, he suddenly resigned, pleading the necessity of finding a less costly living for his family and the impairment of his health, which had broken in 1936. He left congress to become a partner in a Washington law firm.

Lawyer and War Veteran.

Steiwer was born on a 2,000 acre ranch in the Williamette valley twelve miles south of Salem, Ore., on Oct. 13, 1883. He went to Oregon State college and at 19 was graduated as a mechanical engineer. Later he entered the University of Oregon to study law. In 1909 he was admitted to the Oregon bar and hung out his shingle at Pendleton.

The next year he enlisted in the world war, leaving behind him his wife and an infant daughter. A son, Frederick Herbert Steiwer, was born while the father was in the service.

Steiwer saw action in France, including the fighting in the Argonne. In 1919 he returned to his Pendleton practice, emerging from it in 1926 to be elected United States senator. In 1932 he was one of the few Republican candidates in Oregon to escape the Democratic landslide.

GROUND HOG FANS LEARN TOO LATE THAT HE IS DEAD

Chicagoans who went to see the Lincoln park zoo's groundhog take his groundhog day weather observations yesterday were saddened to learn that he died during the heat wave last August. The five groundhogs at the Chicago Zoölogical park in Brookfield—one an albino—bounced out in the sunshine and cast shadows hopefully, but no one paid the slightest attention. Only hibernating groundhogs are recognized by the Groundhog Day Groundhogs' Protective association, and the Brookfield groundhogs don't hibernate because they have steam heat and tasty meals.

But the sun did shine. And so a hibernating groundhog might have predicted six more weeks of cold weather by casting a shadow. Forecaster H. A. Downs said there'd probably be six weeks more anyway, but curbed his tongue about groundhog quacks when he learned of the Lincoln park groundhog's death. Park officials warned motorists to burrow like groundhogs and get snowbound cars out of the boulevards by 8 a. m. today.

LEGION MEETING TO DISCUSS AID FOR UNEMPLOYED

The problem of taking the unemployed off relief and giving them jobs in private industry will be discussed at a meeting today in the Morrison hotel, sponsored by the employment and relief committees of the American Legion of Illinois. Among those invited are: Dr. A. H. R. Atwood, director of the Illinois state employment service; Leo Lyons, administrator of the Chicago Relief administration; Charles E. Minor, WPA director in Illinois, and representatives of employers and manufacturers' associations.

'M. DE PARIS,' WHO GUILLOTINED 401 IN 40 YEARS, DIES

PARIS, Feb. 2.—(AP)—Anatole Deibler, France's "hereditary executioner of high justice," died today as he was starting out for his 402d execution with the guillotine.

Son, grandson, and great-grandson of France's masters of the guillotine, Deibler was forced into his gruesome career simply because all other doors were closed to him.

With the passing of "Monsieur de Paris," the position of high executioner passes to a name other than Deibler, but the job still will be in the family. In 1936 Deibler persuaded his nephew, Andre Obrecht, to carry on and Obrecht, 40 years old, became an assistant.

For forty years and a month Deibler followed his strange calling—to the public, a sinister figure, but to those who knew him, a dignified gray bearded man who lived quietly with his family and liked to putter about his garden.

HORLICK HEIRESS' WILL ADMITTED TO PROBATE ON SETTLEMENT BASIS

Racine, Wis., Feb. 2.—[Special.]—The will of Mrs. Mabelle Horlick Sidley, heiress to the Horlick malted milk fortune, was admitted to probate here today on the basis of a settlement which on Jan. 24 halted a court fight over her 3 to 9 million dollar estate.

Though attorneys for both sides continued to be silent, it was known the agreement hinged on renunciation of his one-third share by W. Perkins Bull, Canadian barrister. It was in Bull's Toronto, Ont., home that Mrs. Sidley spent the last year and a half of her life.

In bringing the will contest, her son, William Horlick Sidley, charged she was dominated by Bull and was of unsound mind when she made her will last April 7, three months before her death.

When court convened this morning attorneys handed Judge J. Allan Simpson a sheaf of papers, including Bull's renunciation. Judge Simpson then read his decision admitting the will to probate.

A Stranger in the Dark

By Frank R. Adams

(Copyright: 1939: By Frank R. Adams.)

SYNOPSIS.

The hero, pursued by Detective Mike Clancy, is stopped in a Chicago railway depot by a young man, apparently dying, who gives him his wallet and baggage check to get him his medicine. He gets the sick man's bags, then, seeing the man being carried away on a stretcher, he uses the man's ticket, and is on his way to Clovis, N. M., as John Bowman—an innocent fugitive, having taken the blame for missing bank funds to save his father. Before reaching Clovis he confesses his identity to Sheriff Tom Johnson, who boards the train to welcome John Bowman, whose father, Pete Bowman, is dying and longs to see the son separated from him by divorce since babyhood. The sheriff persuades him to take on the rôle. John's sister, Mary, and her fiancé, Charles Ferdinand, manager of her father's ranch, meet him in Amarillo and fly him to the ranch in Charles' plane. Mrs. Lodge, wife of Pete's physician and guest, is with them. Our hero falls instantly in love with Mary and dislikes Charles, a handsome show-off, who is the pet of Pete's sister, Matilda, who had loved Charles' father. The hero meets paralyzed old Pete Bowman, kept a virtual prisoner by Matilda. Pete asks him to stay and help Mary, and gives him his guns. Charles is carrying on an affair with Mrs. Lodge and even Dr. Lodge knows about it. In the middle of the night Pete sends his nurse for "John" and has him open the safe and burn a paper. When Matilda finds him there she fires the nurse. Charles and Mary are to be married next morning. Detective Clancy appears after the wedding, just as word comes that old Pete has died.

DEPARTING GUESTS.

"Nurses all lie, every last one of 'em," continued Aunt Matilda. "All they think about is dressing up in their pretty white uniforms so the men will pay attention to 'em."

Dr. Lodge waited wearily. Finally he was allowed to complete his report. "I came to this room as soon as Nurse Welton called me. But your father, Mary, had gone before I got here. It doesn't matter much when it happened. It would have been soon anyway. He must have thought so himself, because when I got here I found this message on the scratch pad he was holding in his hand. It's for you, John." He held a piece of paper out to me.

I took it mechanically.

On the paper was scrawled, "I can go peacefully now. There's a Bowman in the saddle again."

It must have been a heart breaking job for the dying man to have written that much.

"Well, what does it say?" Aunt Matilda asked when she could stand it no longer.

"The message," I said, "is private." I put it in my pocket. There is no written communication which I cherish so proudly, although I was not rightfully entitled to it.

"Who will make the necessary arrangements?" Dr. Lodge asked.

"I will, of course," I said without thinking.

"Why not me?" demanded Charles, whether in kindness or truculence I could not tell.

"Because, for the moment, I am the head of the house," I replied, and I was proud to say it even though I lied.

I guess Charles was nettled. Searching for something to vent his irritation on, he discovered Clancy for the first time. "Who is this man and what is he doing here at a time like this?"

"This is Mr. Clancy, Mr. Ferdinand," I said formally, "and, if you insist on knowing his business, he's a detective."

That, I think, startled Charles. "Working for you?" he demanded.

"In a way, yes." I warned Clancy with a glance to keep his mouth shut.

I saw Charles look at Aunt Matilda. She was staring, mouth open, at Clancy. They were afraid of something. It was sardonically amusing that poor clumsy Clancy, who was a menace to no one but me, should have given them any concern.

"Mary," I said gently, "would you like to be alone for a few minutes with your father?"

"Yes, with him and you."

"Would the rest of you mind?" I said with a suggestive glance toward the door.

"We ought to open the safe first," protested Aunt Matilda stubbornly.

"Nothing is going to be opened except in the presence of Pete Bowman's attorney," I said harshly.

"How do we know you won't open it while we're out of the room?" asked Charles.

"I can make sure of that for you." It was Clancy who replied.

He produced his wallet from a hip pocket and took out several postage stamps in a strip which he stuck across the dial of the safe and onto the door itself. When they were glued fast he found a fountain pen in his vest pocket and wrote his initials across the strip.

"This won't be tampered with by him," Clancy said positively, "or by any one else," he added.

"Thanks, Clancy," I told him pleasantly.

They left.

As soon as the door was closed and before Mary could speak I went to the bedside table and yanked out the dictagraph, breaking the wires. I don't think she knew what I was doing, but she asked no questions and I certainly did not intend to have any vultures listening in on her grief.

We were alone, the three of us, for perhaps a quarter of an hour. And the strange thing about it was that I felt as if I belonged there.

It was a different world that we came out to when Mary and I had finally completed our covenants with the dead and left Pete Bowman alone with the things he had loved.

Most of the guests were already gone, scurrying away like a panic stricken horde before a plague. Even the tenants of the bungalows were packing their belongings in their automobiles.

We watched the clouds of dust disappearing down the ranch highway for a few moments. Then Mary decided to go to her room for a while.

I took her to her door and went to the office desk. From there I called an undertaker in Clovis—the one the clerk obligingly said handled all funerals at the ranch—and he said he would come over immediately.

After that I went outside again. This time Clancy picked me up at the entrance. He, with unexpected tact, did not say anything, but I knew that he was waiting for me to depart with him and was taking no chances that I would light out in some other direction.

Dr. and Mrs. Lodge were at the ranchhouse door in their car. A chauffeur was in the driver's seat.

I went over to say good-by just as Charles emerged from the ranchhouse with a check and a statement in his hand.

"My aunt is prostrated and cannot see you, doctor," he explained, "but she asked me to hand you this check and a memorandum of your account."

"My account?" repeated the doctor, a little thickly. I have said that he was nearer drunk than I had seen him before.

"Yes, for accommodations at the ranch, bar checks, etc., during your stay here, which I trust has been very pleasant."

Mrs. Lodge looked over her husband's shoulder. "Why, the check is for only $50."

"Only $50, my dear?" said the doctor mockingly. "Why, that's a lot. We've only been here a month."

Charles was slightly embarrassed. "I thought it ought to be more, but that's what Aunt Matilda said it was worth—considering hard times and everything."

"I'm sure it's very generous," declared the doctor, "counting the deductions, of course." He glanced at the bill. "There is no item here for your personal services, Charles."

"Personal services?"

"Yes—to my wife." He handed Charles the check. "Tell Aunt Matilda with my compliments that this is about what I think they were worth—also considering hard times and everything." He reached out a hand to me. "Good-by, John. I'll stop and make out a death certificate in Clovis. Your father is a very lucky man tonight. If you and your detective friend decide he was murdered, I'll be glad to act as a witness. Drive on, Chester."

The chauffeur started the car. The doctor was laughing uproariously but mirthlessly. Mrs. Lodge looked back, her heart in her eyes, but Charles didn't see her—he was gazing stupidly at the check in his hand.

Clancy was frankly puzzled. "I don't get this," he said to me in a low voice. "Was the guy in the white pants cheatin' with the sawbone's wife? And the doctor said something about murder."

'UPSIDE DOWN' CAKE RESPONDS TO VARIATIONS

BY MARY MEADE.

Seems to me it's about time we talked about upside down cakes again. They are a welcome dessert at any dinner and they have so many variations that at each reappearance they may seem quite unfamiliar.

Pineapple upside down cake always has been a favorite, but canned peaches or apricots, cherries, blueberries, dried fruit of one kind or another, may be used in exactly the same way to give results which will be met with just as much fervor at the dinner table.

One standard pattern will do for all of these topsy-turvy desserts.

Upside Down Cake.

1¼ cups cake flour
1¼ teaspoons baking powder
½ teaspoon salt
⅓ cup shortening
⅔ cup sugar
1 beaten egg
½ cup milk
1 teaspoon vanilla
¼ cup butter
½ cup brown sugar
Fruit

Sift dry ingredients together. Cream shortening and sugar and add egg. Beat until light. Alternate dry ingredients with milk, beating until smooth after each addition. Add vanilla. Melt butter in iron skillet and add brown sugar. Stir until melted. Arrange fruit in the butter and sugar. Pour in cake batter. Bake in a moderate oven, 350 degrees, about forty-five minutes. Turn out on a serving plate. Serve warm or cold, topped with whipped cream. Cut in wedges.

It is possible to make very attractive designs in fruit for the cake topping. Peaches and maraschino cherries, pineapple slices and maraschino cherries, dried apricots and prunes, or other combinations of color may be used. The fruit should be drained. Sirup from canned fruits may be used to make a sauce which may substitute for a whipped cream topping, if desired.

The same recipe may be used for other similar desserts, such as cottage pudding or cup cakes, for example. In this case butter, brown sugar and fruit would be omitted, and the batter would be baked in regulation cake pan or pans.

For cottage pudding, dust the freshly baked cake with confectioners' sugar and serve it in squares with lemon, orange, or other fruit sauce. Fruit may be added to the batter [about three-fourth cup, drained] to make a fruit cottage pudding.

The baked cake may be split into two layers and filled with whipped cream and fruit [sliced bananas, canned peaches or strawberries] then topped with more of the cream and a garnish of the fruit. Or it may be spread, while still warm, with a mixture of three tablespoons melted butter, one-half cup packed brown sugar, two tablespoons cream, and three tablespoons coconut, and placed under the broiling unit until this frosting is bubbly. This last is a simple but delicious treatment for any plain cake.

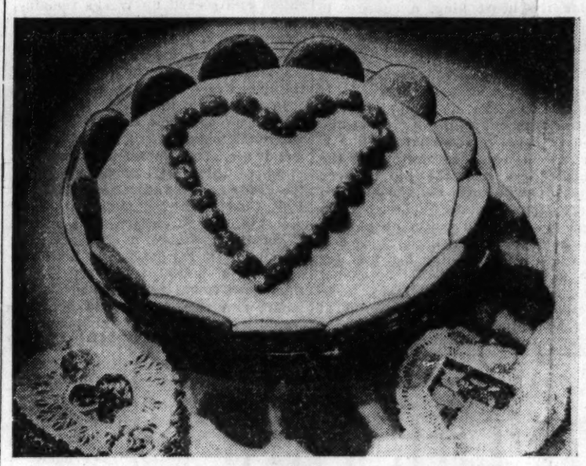
Made-in-a-Hurry Pie



This is one of those made-in-a-hurry pies, with a candied cherry decoration which suggests Valentine's day. To make it, blend 1 can (1 1-3 cups) sweetened condensed milk with ⅓ cup lemon juice and the grated rind of a lemon. Stir until thickened, pour into a cookie or graham cracker crust, and decorate with candied cherries. Chill and serve with whipped cream. No cooking is needed for this filling. The lemon juice thickens the sweet condensed milk.

Vaccination Is Ordered in Smallpox Epidemic

RECTOR TO TELL HOW TO GET THE MOST OUT OF HAM

The heavenly country ham that made you want to visit grandfather down on the farm was a product of hard, tedious labor. Grandfather butchered his own hogs and cured the meat over smoldering hickory chips in the pungent smokehouse. Before grandmother boiled it, she soaked it and trimmed it almost endlessly.

George Rector, the famous chef, breathes a sigh of appreciation for the scientific method that makes the present day ham almost ready for the table when it is brought into the home. Recently he broiled ham steak in twelve minutes and was delighted to find it not only delightfully flavorsome, but tender enough to cut with a fork.

In his column in the woman's section of Sunday's TRIBUNE Mr. Rector will present recipes for making the best use of the marvelous hams offered by your market. They include a baked ham, a creamed dish, and ham risotto, together with a recipe for a mousse which will utilize the last delicious fragment.

CASH AND CARRY SHOPPING BOOST EXPECTED IN CITY

BY FRANK RIDGWAY.

Food merchants are prepared for big crowds of cash and carry shoppers today and tomorrow. Snow blocked streets in residential sections of the city and suburbs kept many shoppers at home early this week and pantry stocks have run low.

A long list of stores this week announced that they will no longer take orders for food over the telephone.

Housewives will find many new price tags when they tour the food shopping districts over the week-end. Grocery men and retail meat market men have made many revisions in their prices this week—some up, some down.. But there are no significant changes.

Regular Items Cheaper.

Prices have been marked down on several foods on the shopper's regular list. Most grades of flour are 2 to 10 cents less for a 24½ pound sack in many places. Some have reduced their prices on five pound sacks of flour. Five pound packages of sugar are on sale and lard is off 1½ cents a pound in several places. Merchants quite generally cut their egg prices 1 to 3 cents a dozen. In several stores prices have been cut on lower priced brands of coffee.

Stores in the Chicago area still are generously supplied with fresh fruits and vegetables. Green grocers made further reductions in the prices of several products this week. Oranges are cheaper generally. Parsnips are cheaper, carrots are down a penny a bunch, and white turnips are 1 cent a pound less in many stores.

Several Stores Cut Prices.

Several stores cut their prices 4 cents a pack on red and Idaho potatoes of the old crop.

These price reductions were offset to some extent by the advances made on other items. Roll butter is up 1 cent a pound and package butter is up 1½ cents a pound. Bananas jumped up 1 cent a pound, and green beans and green peas 2 cents a pound in some stores.

Spinach is up more than a penny a pound and green onions are higher in a few stores. Cauliflower is higher; most merchants marked their prices up 2 cents a head.

Vegetable Prices Increased.

Merchants in many cases added 1 to 2 cents a pound to their Brussels sprouts and raised cucumber prices. In several places wax and lima beans will be found 2 cents a pound higher and rhubarb up 1 cent a pound.

Head lettuce and celery are higher in some stores and lower in others.

Shopping for meat will pay thrifty housewives this week-end because prices vary in the different shops. A few butchers are offering beef pot roast at reduced prices while others have added 2 to 4 cents a pound to their prices since this time last week.

Frying and stewing chickens are 1 to 2 cents a pound higher than a week ago and pork loin roasts have been raised a similar amount in most shops.

Round Steaks Mostly Higher.

Round steaks are up 2 to 4 cents a pound in most shops. Some butchers raised their prices on leg of lamb and others reduced their loin lamb chops 4 cents a pound.

Head lettuce prices are beginning to go higher on the central market as a result of growers plowing under every third row of their crop in the Imperial valley of California and Arizona, according to reports received by A. B. Farlinger, federal fruit and vegetable market reporter.

Other fruits and vegetables reported higher on the wholesale market include grapefruit and Delicious and Jonathan apples. Farlinger reports reductions in the wholesale prices of only a few fruits and vegetables, including celery, green beans, peas, strawberries, and new potatoes.

Live Stock Prices Steady.

Although the snow storm held up many shipments of live stock coming to the Union stockyards, market experts report no significant changes in the prices paid farmers for cattle, hogs, and sheep.

In Packingtown, pork loins are quoted at 50 cents higher per hundred pounds for the heavier cuts and $1.50 a hundred higher for the lighter cuts. Light weight dressed lamb carcasses are the same, and the medium to heavy are down 50 cents a hundred. Good and choice yearling steer carcasses of dressed beef of the lighter weights are 50 cents lower per hundred pounds than a week ago and the heavy carcasses are the same.

Parent Owes a Child Loyalty and Justice

BY GLADYS HUNTINGTON BEVANS.
[Copyright: 1939: By The Chicago Tribune-N. Y. News Syndicate, Inc.]

We were talking yesterday about the grownups who tease or "rough house" a child on his own level, and then get offended when he doesn't know when to stop, but says or does something that offends their dignity. And we were concerned, too, with the mother's or father's part in the little fracas that too often results.

How many parents there are who would have felt it incumbent upon them to scold the little Mary who appeared in yesterday's anecdote! And how few there are who have the gumption and sense of justice to say in such situations, "You have brought it all on yourself," when the adult is in the wrong.

I believe children should learn to be courteous and exercise a reasonable degree of self-control [and should make some allowance for grownups!], but I believe, also, that parents should be more just and loyal than they are on a great many occasions that arise involving adults and children.

This includes not only minor social relationships like those we described yesterday, but more serious concerns. Among these is the matter of conflict between a child's word and that of a grownup.

Suppose your child had been accused of something—it may be large or small: a piece of mischief or a more serious offense. The complaining neighbor, we'll say, face to face with your child and in your presence declares he is guilty, and he declares he is not. She may even go so far as to say to you, "Would you take a child's word against mine?"

When you are confronted with a choice like this and you have nothing to go on but the word of each, your answer should be, "If John tells me he didn't, I believe him."

If there is any doubt in your mind, then you might say, "I can't either believe or disbelieve you, Mrs. Watson, until I have talked it over with John. I could not take the chance of not being fair to him." And do not discuss it with him before her.

You owe your child trust, justice, and loyalty. If you don't give it to him, who will? But if you do, he will become worthy of your faith in him.

According to CULBERTSON

[Copyright: 1939: By Ely Culbertson.]

The last question of the examination seems to have been too easy for thousands of players. The correct line of play involved nothing more than a simple finesse, but, to my intense surprise, many examinees objected to my answer on the ground that a squeeze play would offer a greater chance of success. The question was:

Both sides vulnerable. You are West, declarer at a four spade contract in rubber bridge. [Opponents made no bids.] Your hand and dummy are:

Declarer [West]	Dummy [East]
♠ A Q J 10 6 5	♠ K
♥ 7	♥ A Q 6 5 4 2
♦ A K 6	♦ 7 5 2
♣ J 6 4	♣ 10 8 3

North opens a club and the defenders collect three club tricks. South then leads a diamond. You win. What is your next play, and your plan?

In my answer I pointed out: "The only chance for victory [except for a very remote squeeze] appears to be a successful heart finesse, which will permit the discard of West's losing diamond on the heart ace." I'm afraid that the players who insisted on going after a squeeze in this hand were just a wee bit Smart Alec. They probably could not credit me with having devised a hand in which so simple a play as a garden variety finesse would be the official answer. They were wrong! The squeeze which I call "very remote" is not only that but, even if it exists, cannot be executed with assurance. I did not think it necessary to go into detail before, but now I point out that the only possibility of a squeeze is for South to hold five or six diamonds and the heart king. [If North holds the heart king, a squeeze is silly, since a simple finesse produces the same result.]

Now let us concede that South's holding is precisely as outlined. If south knows what he is doing he will discard without squirming or hesitation until, when the final position is reached in which declarer holds the diamond six and the heart seven while dummy holds the ace-queen of hearts, South actually will have the high diamond and the blank king of hearts, but how will declarer KNOW that South's remaining heart is the king? The answer is that he cannot know such a thing. Hence, even though he has South squeezed at this point, he will be unable to take advantage of the fact, except by peeping into South's hand. Thus, not only is the possibility of the squeeze remote, but the execution of it is virtually a double-dummy play. This was one time, at least, when I had anticipated certain answers and was quite ready for them!

The bidding:

North	East	South	West
1 club	1 spade	2 hearts	Pass
2 no trump	Pass	3 hearts	Pass
4 hearts	Pass	Pass	Pass

Few bids can be more costly than overcalls which influence bad opening leads. East's spade overcall in this case was an example. It induced West to lead his fourth best spade, and when this was allowed to ride to the queen, the defenders could fold their tents and fade away. As a matter of fact, declarer actually succeeded in making an overtrick, due to East's subsequent misplay. The spade queen holding the first trick, declarer led his remaining spade to the ace and returned a heart from dummy. East ducked and the king held. The heart queen drove out the ace, and East led a third spade. Declarer ruffed and picked up West's remaining trump, discarding a diamond from dummy. He then led a club to the king and returned a low club toward the jack. East hopped up with the queen and made the horrible return of his fourth spade. It should have been apparent to East that it was vital to knock out dummy's diamond ace, but apparently he was blind to this fact. Declarer ruffed the spade return and cashed the club jack, then entered dummy with the diamond ace and discarded his losing diamond on dummy's club ace. If East had left his partner to his own selection of a lead, it is very likely that West would have opened a diamond, and reasonably good defense would have defeated the contract.

Individuality Leads in Film 'Ten Best' List

BY ANTOINETTE DONNELLY.
[Copyright: 1939: By The Chicago Tribune-N. Y. News Syndicate, Inc.]

Since the beginning of the year there's been a flood of ten-best-this-and thats. Interesting copy, true, but a good deal of objection arises over the limited ground covered by the judges, especially if it happens to be a ten-best-dressed list that's offered. Nothing seems sillier to us, for example, than naming the ten-best-dressed women in the world by couturiers who necessarily must include their clients and exclude those without the means to patronize the expensive foreign dress houses. But, we repeat, it makes good copy and we read it along with the rest.

We like better a certain ten-best-verdict coming out of Hollywood which carries a lesson with the nomination of each of the ten included. They say that 1938 was the banner year for accenting individuality. The following list obviously was based on just this modern appreciation of women who do not follow the crowd or imitate their best friend or worst enemy.

Fay Bainter gets a place in the ten because her clothes are exquisite, simple and befitting a mature woman.

Loretta Young — because her clothes are consistently luxurious, accenting her own rich coloring with furs and jewels, as befits a beauty of Loretta's richness.

Joan Bennett is chosen because her Dresden figure and her feminine delicacy are the themes for her dress, pastel colors and sheer fabrics.

Rosemary Lane is found in the line-up labeled "Miss Streamline," who wears the best, most modish and yet simplest of everything.

Olivia de Havilland, because she's a period lass who carries quaintness into her own wardrobe.

Dorothy Lamour has an accredited mystery personality, which she accents with sleek costumer and exotic jewelry.

Bette Davis—the perfect fashion sophisticate. [This surprises us as we think of Bette Davis as disinterested in clothes but in love with her art.]

Priscilla Lane has marked originality in dress; Bonita Granville is the typical sub-deb with her ballerina length evening clothes and of course, Shirley Temple, as best dressed little girl, has no rivals.

Spring Ensemble Pieces

WOMAN'S AND MISS' ENSEMBLE.

With spring just around the corner in the fashion scheme of things, it's high time to begin thinking seriously of your ensemble for the new season. This ensemble will consist of a skirt, jacket of some type, and a blouse. The pattern offerings today suggest several items you can unite according to your own preferences.

The blouse at the upper left is a feminine and fitted model with no collar, but a trio of self-fabric bows down the front. The sleeves are short and puffed, and the entire garment is given the distinctive trimming of stitching. Two pieces to keep this blouse company are shown at the right. The brief jacket does the bolero idea one better by having a soft rolled collar, long sleeves, and twin pockets set high. The skirt has a snug waistline and flares just enough to be attractively tailored.

The two jackets illustrated are as different as night and day. One should be made of silk or cotton. It has no collar and is cut bolero fashion, with short puffed sleeves and a matching sash. The other model is cardigan in line. It is collarless, and buttons all the way down the front. The fit is snug. Plain and checked woolens are best for this pattern.

The day when many folks are bent
On wallowing in sentiment,
With doves and roses interlaced,
And suitors bowing from the waist.
Forget Surrealistic Art,
And concentrate on Cupid's dart,
Ignore the loud, insistent drum
Of War and Commerce, and succumb
To sweet romance. Reject the rule
Of current Speed, and be a fool
About some silly little gift
To prelude love or patch a rift.
Uncork the best of vintage wine!

Front Views and Profiles
By June Provines

Slender, dark-eyed Monroe Wheeler of the Museum of Modern Art talking yesterday on Georges Rouault at the Arts club, where a superb collection of Rouault prints is on exhibition, told the story of the little girl who was a visitor to the museum. One of a group of children who had been asked to write their reactions to the pictures they saw, she wrote after looking at a head by Maillol, "Don't like this; face too plain; no struggle in it." That criticism cannot be made of Rouault's work, as Mr. Wheeler pointed out.

• • •

Then there was the little boy, asked "Do you like modern art?", who replied, "It doesn't bother me either way."

• • •

Early in his talk Mr. Wheeler mentioned the lady of title who attended the first performance of Stravinsky's Le Sacre du Printemps in Paris and who stood up in her box and said, "I am not used to being insulted publicly." Perhaps he was gently reminding his audience that the new in art sometimes arouses antagonism. A woman behind us was unimpressed. As Rouault pictures illustrating his talk were thrown on a screen she made hissing noises and small sounds of disgust at each new picture, accompanied by a loudly whispered "Disgusting!" "Ridiculous!" One wondered why she came, and would have preferred the French countess' method of making a good, round, loud denouncement and having done with it.

Pessimistic.

Aldine Travis reports the patron of the rental library who asked for The Hearse and Buggy Doctor.

A WAIL

From the Neighborhood Workers.

It goes hickory, dickory, dock!
A curse on the Wrigley clock.
Are its works grown sticky with chewing gum?
Can it be that in winter its hands are numb?
They roam o'er its face with a gesture Beery,
An aimless wandering, embarrassed and weary.
It speeds or it lags till it drives us frantic;
We can't keep up with its whimsy and antic.
O, Mr. Wrigley, please fix your clock
That goes hickory, dickory, dock!

Ryerson's party for Cornelia Otis Skinner. . . . R. N. Linscott and Hardwick Moseley, publishing company representatives, lunching at the Yar and discussing the Houghton-Mifflin suit against Stackpole Sons to prevent its publication of Hitler's Mein Kampf.

• • •

The Mein Kampf suit will be of international interest because the decision will rest upon so fine a point, according to Linscott. Houghton-Mifflin, which is publishing an unexpurgated edition in March, brought out the first volume of an expurgated edition in 1925 and the copyright listed Hitler as a "disenfranchised German." The copyright for the second volume, published in 1927, listed him as an Austrian citizen. The publishers who are trying to overthrow the Houghton-Mifflin copyright claim that copyright protection is only accorded citizens of countries and that Hitler lost his Austrian citizenship when he served in a foreign army, that being the Austrian law. The case probably will go to the Supreme court.

Speaking of publishing firms, the personnel manager of Compton's Encyclopedia in Chicago is named Cora Appel.

Chicago Snow Is Big News at Winter Resorts

What! No Snow?

After India Moffett had filed her story telling how winter resorts enjoy reading about Chicago weather both Arizona and Southern California were blessed with a little variety in weather. Both sections got snow. Details on Page 1.

BY INDIA MOFFETT.

Phoenix, Ariz., Feb. 2.—[Special.]—"Chicago paralyzed by blizzard." I read the headlines in the Phoenix papers. Pooh, we say, they probably have had an inch of snow at home.

We read the Florida papers last winter, and the winter before, and worried about the bad weather Chicago was having, only to discover when we returned home that the weather had been mild and there had been little snow.

The Los Angeles papers also report that Chicago is fighting the worst storm in seven years, so we began to worry a little. The little worry grows to real anxiety when some Chicagoans arrive and tell us of the weather they had left.

Mrs. J. Ogden Armour came to the Biltmore hotel on Wednesday, saying the little rain that was falling was beautiful and welcome compared to the snow she had left on Monday. Two hours after she arrived, though, the rain had stopped and the sun was shining brilliantly, proving that Phoenicians were not wrong when they named this region the valley of the sun. Those early Phoenicians, however, never anticipated a hailstorm such as they had for a few moments at noon on Wednesday.

Soon the Biltmore hotel's two mile concrete walk to the foothills north of the hotel will be like North Michigan avenue, for every other person will be a Chicagoan. The junior Edward A. Cudahys, Col. and Mrs. George T. Buckingham, Mr. and Mrs. Walter J. Cummings, Mrs. Louis Eckstein, Judge and Mrs. George A. Carpenter, Mr. and Mrs. Robert F. Bensinger, Mr. and Mrs. Harold E. Foreman, the junior Addison L. Gardners, the James G. McMillans, Mrs. William O. Goodman, the Adolph O. Hartmanns, Mrs. William R. Harper, Mrs. Franklin H. Martin, the Charles S. Pearces, Mrs. August Von Glahn, the Gilbert Scribners, Neil C. Hurley Jr., the Earl Krumrines, Carleton L. Elmes, the William M. Spencers, and the Nelson L. Bucks are some of the many who have reservations for winter vacations at this hotel.

A vacationist known to many Chicagoans is Howard Gould of England, who with Mrs. Gould came to Phoenix to see Mr. Gould's niece, Mrs. W. MacFarlane Barker [Gloria Gould of New York], who with her husband and family have a lovely winter home in North Orange road.

Other interesting winter visitors are the H. Edward Manvilles, who have a house on the Biltmore grounds.

Gen. and Mrs. Leigh Gignilliat of Culver, Ind., are coming to Arcadia lodge in about ten days. Their son, Henry, is arriving in a day or two from Chicago and will await the arrival of his parents from the Pacific coast. There are sleeping accommodations for only a few guests at the lodge, for Jarvis Hunt Jr. is specializ-

Good Girdle Is First Essential of Spring Style

BY RHEA SEEGER.

Fashions of today, as well as all signs for the future, emphasize a smooth streamline and small waistlines. The well defined, neat waistlines are not to be camouflaged under belt, sash, folds, shirrings, or other tricks of disguise.

From now on it's impossible, for your peace of mind, to be without proper foundation layers. This means corsets, girdles, or the all-togethers.

Everything has been done to make these sheaths not only beautiful but glamorous. Expert designers, skilful cutting, flawless streamlining, and telling details make them the slickest, smoothest underlayers ever presented.

And a corset or foundation wardrobe is as necessary as a varied wardrobe of gowns or hats. What you wear for active sports is not sufficient for the streamlining of a daytime dress. Nor is the satin beauty you wear for dress parade daytime clothes the right sort of a model for evening gowns.

Average figures and the difficult as well as the young silhouettes can be fitted as smoothly as though you were being fitted for a costume.

Foundation sheaths are exceptionally feminine. Sleek easy-to-slip-on satin fashions many of the loveliest models. Fine hand work and typically feminine laces make the expertly designed brassiere tops, and when panels of satin lastex or brocade lastex are inset, they're as alluring in color and texture as the satin. Carefully concealed zippers and flat hooks and eyes assure smooth side or offside closing.

Pale blue, a blush pink, all kinds of ivory white, black combined with flesh, and a beautiful new orchid tint are featured in the newest spring showings. All fit as easily as a gown. Discomfort, rigidity, and harsh fabrics have vanished. You acquire the streamline of a sylph with flexible satins that redistribute all excess flesh, with almost unbelievable ease and smoothness.

Looking at Hollywood
By Ed Sullivan

What Have They Got That Gets You?

Hollywood, Cal., Feb. 2.—With Myrna Loy it's that funny turned up nose that seems to have been going some place and then suddenly decided to go some place else . . . that and her gray-blue eyes.

Norma Shearer is concentrated femininity. . . . It's Ginger Rogers' chassis, and her clean grace of carriage. . . . Olivia De Havilland projects a quality of young beauty and helplessness. . . . With Carole Lombard it's the blonde hair, the trim ankles, and the unusual shape of her chin.

It's Cole Porter's catchy lyrics and the warmth of the chords in such a song as "Night and Day." . . . It's the way Edward G. Robinson rolls a cigar in his mouth before he rasps a threat. . . . With Irving Berlin it's the sorrow and lament of a Russian street chilled by a cold Russian moon.

It's Disney's sense of color and caricature, his "feel" for the underdogs of the animal kingdom. . . . In Gary Cooper's case it is the feeling you get that his Main street canniness will triumph over the city slickers who are out to fleece him.

With Mickey Rooney it is the fact that from his unruly hair to his feet here is a free soul, thumbing his nose at teacher's pets and regimentation.

It's Fredric March's smile. . . . It's the wet and parted lips of Alice Faye and the throaty way she sings a love song. . . . It's the curious tone of voice that Jean Arthur uses, and the fresh cleanness which Barbara Stanwyck conveys.

It's the roughened voice of W. C. Fields and the Gaelic exaggerations in which he indulges. . . . It is the sultriness of Dorothy Lamour and the amazing beauty of Hedy Lamarr when her features are in repose.

It's the inner glow that lights up Paul Muni's face and the earnestness in his voice. . . . It's the youthful eagerness of Priscilla Lane as she embarks upon the great adventure of living and loving and lamenting.

It's the slightly off-key way that Guy Lombardo plays a tune and the slightly off-key way in which Carmen sings a song. . . . It's the brass section of Lyman's band that hits those soaring, high notes right on the button. . . . It's the way that Phil Harris says "Yeah-h!"

It's Crosby's manner of monkeying around with those low notes and the way Tony Martin sneaks up on those high notes. . . . It's Kenny Baker's clear, youthful voice in the lyrics of a love song.

It's Connie Bennett's lack of effort in wearing a dress that would make other femmes so-o self-conscious that they'd stumble as they entered the room. . . . It's the formful Frenchiness of Danielle Darrieux and the vivid Hoydenishness of Annabella.

It's David Niven's laugh and the way his eyes wrinkle. . . . It's the honesty that's penned on Franchot Tone's irregular features. . . . It's the sprawling length of Joel McCrea and the cameo quality of Frances Dee's tiny dark oval of a face. . . . It's the gentleness of Leslie Howard and the rude strength of Victor McLaglen. . . . It's the assured impertinence of Robert Young. . . . It's the way that Jeanette MacDonald sings a Victor Herbert song and photographs in technicolor [she's really somethin'].

It's Loretta Young's unerring instinct to befriend a loser rather than a winner [look over her list of boy friends and you'll always find her mothering somebody]. . . . It's the boyishness of Cary Grant, the hemannishness of Clark Gable.

It's the April shower cleanness of Deanna Durbin and the November gravity of Charles Coburn. . . . It's the voice of Gale Page and that awfully nice Spokane smile. . . . It's the s. a. of Marlene Dietrich. . . . It's Jack Benny's willingness always to be the Patsy. . . . It's Jimmy Stewart's backwardness and Robert Montgomery's forwardness. . . . What have they got that gets you? I guess the answer would be—puh-lenty.

Humane Society Gives Aid to 3,050 Children; Helps Train Parents

More than 3,050 children were benefited during the last year by the Illinois Humane society, said the annual report issued yesterday. Of these more than two-thirds were rescued from ill treatment until their parents could be instructed in proper care and treatment. A total of 152 cases of cruelty and neglect to children were prosecuted.

Chicagoans were kinder to animals than in the past, the report showed. There were fewer complaints of neglected horses, dogs, and poultry. Cats, however, continued to find themselves in difficulties. Seventy-nine of them had to be brought down from tree tops and telephone poles.

THROUGH THE LOOKING GLASS

The day we fail to thrill at least a little bit to fine scented soaps we'll know old age is upon us. There's something about soaps that always gets us; when we make our million or are willed it [and THAT will certainly restore our faith in miracles!] we'll have deep closets filled with it . . . cakes of all sizes, shapes, colors, and scents.

On the days when we want to feel bright and brisk we'll reach for one special shelf stocked with fat, firm tablets of good soap scented with lavender. When you feel much too limp to cope with the day's chores a good scrubbing with a soap of creamy lather and the clean fragrance of lavender sets you up wonderfully.

If you react this way to the rather jaunty but always satisfactorily feminine fragrance of lavender blossoms you, like us, will want to make an immediate dive for a special kind of beauty bargain that's just come to the cosmetic counters.

This gives you a head start on your collecting of fine soaps, what with three cakes in a box at a nice inviting price. What's more, tucked into one end of said box there's a little flacon of lavender perfume.

You can have really luxurious baths for weeks to come and you can scent your handkerchiefs and lingerie as well. All for a small sum; you'll feel awfully rich, but you won't be extravagant. ELEANOR NANGLE.

[For information about these soaps telephone Eleanor Nangle, Superior 0100.]

Another Bach's Music Heard in Orchestra Hall

BY EDWARD BARRY.

Johann Christian Bach was born 203 years ago. It is high time, then, that he should be enshrined in the program books of the Chicago Symphony orchestra. That organization thinks the same and, for the second time this season, is this week including a work of his in its regular subscription concerts.

Last night's Orchestra hall audience heard J. C. Bach's Sinfonia in D major, a little piece in three movements marked by an eighteenth century simplicity and clarity. Its melodies are of the honest sort which endear themselves to a listener immediately.

Hans Lange directed the sinfonia in a clean, efficient, and imaginative way. The last adjective is justified because the conductor, believing that music of even the most "classical" type should be personalized to a reasonable degree, gave the piece flexibility and humanness, made it say something to its hearers. It was much more than a mere pattern pleasing tone.

Johann Christian Bach, by the way, was one of the last of the twenty children of Johann Sebastian. He is known as "the London Bach," because of the great temporary success he won while living in the English capital.

The small orchestra required for the presentation of the Bach work was immediately augmented to full strength for the Ralph Vaughan Williams symphony which followed. This was the unassuming "Pastoral," which has been overshadowed here by the greater popularity of the same composer's "London" symphony.

A quiet and lovely work, evocative as the sight of an English countryside and full of the same sort of misted beauty, the "Pastoral" symphony can please, but never stampede an audience. The audience exulted in the hundred delicate woodwind and string effects in which the score is so rich and rewarded the performance with a reasonable amount of applause.

ADVERTISE IN THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE

Newell Childs Takes Bride in New York Today

BY JUDITH CASS.

A NUMBER of Chicagoans are in New York City for the wedding this afternoon of F. Newell Childs, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. Frederick Childs of Lake Forest, and Miss Jean Joers, daughter of Mrs. William H. Joers and the late Mr. Joers of New York.

Mr. Childs' sister, Mrs. William A. P. Pullman, and Mr. Pullman; the junior Albert B. Dicks, the Edison Dicks, Theodore S. Proxmire Jr., who is to be the best man, and Addis J. Browne Jr., who is to be the only Chicago usher, are some who will be present. They and the other members of the wedding party were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Childs at a dinner last night in the Crystal Gardens of the Ritz Carlton hotel.

The ceremony is to take place at 4 o'clock in the chantry of St. Thomas church, and a reception will follow in the ballroom of the Colony club. The words: "Through the courtesy of Mrs. Huntington Tappen" which appeared on the wedding invitations are explained by the fact that the Colony is one of the few clubs that still insist on this formality when a reception is arranged by a member for a non-member.

White peach blossoms, snapdragons, Easter lilies, green ferns and smilax will be the decorations in the church and at the club. The bride is to wear a gown of white satin, made with a long train. Orange blossoms will hold a tulle veil to her head, and she will carry white orchids and lilies of the valley.

The bridesmaids will be gowned in cloud blue marquisette. They will wear blue velvet and tulle hats and their flowers will be gardenias. Mr. Childs is taking his bride to Honolulu on their honeymoon. They will make their home in New York.

Mrs. Oldenburg Ill; Unable to Sing Today.

Because of illness Mrs. Gosta Oldenburg, wife of the Swedish Consul in Chicago, will not be able to make her debut as a singer at the Cordon club tea today.

An exhibition of paintings by Julia T. Turner is on view at the club. At next Friday's tea Miss Marion Hotch and her Seeing Eye dog, Tabitha, will give the program.

Mrs. Marx E. Obendorfer will be hostess for the Cliff Dwellers at tea time today. Assisting her will be Mrs. Arthur M. Burton, Mrs. Frank V. Dudley, Mrs. William N. Fuqua, Mrs. Victor Carwood, Mrs. John Ryerson, Mrs. George B. Utley, Mrs. Harry T. Fitzsimons, and Mrs. George N. Holt.

International Theater Gives Play Tonight.

René Fauchois' play, "Prenez Garde à la Peinture" will be given tonight at 8:30, tomorrow afternoon at 2:30, and on Monday afternoon by the International theater at the Goodman Studio theater. Some of those who will give dinner parties before the play are Mrs. Laird Bell, Mrs. Chauncey Blair, Mrs. James Otis Hinkley, Mrs. Edward A. Leight, Mrs. Philip Maher and Mrs. Alden Swift.

Barrett H. Clark, author and critic, will speak on "The American Theater Grows Up" at a meeting of the Chicago Drama league at 11 o'clock on Feb. 13 at the Arts club. The open forum will be led by Harold A. Ehrensperger. Luncheon will be served.

The first of a series of Chamber Orchestra concerts under the direction of Hans Lange will be given next Wednesday afternoon in the Crystal ballroom of the Blackstone hotel. The opening concert was scheduled for last Monday, but was postponed because of the snow.

Mrs. John Halsey Blair is in Chestnut Hills, Pa., visiting her son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Phillips Field. A son was born to the Fields last Sunday. The baby will be named for his father. His paternal grandmother is Mrs. William A. Field of State parkway.

WEDDING

Mrs. Neil Harol of London, England, has announced the marriage last Dec. 29 of her granddaughter, Eleanor Harol, to Dr. Lawrence Donat Ryan, son of Judge Joseph Ryan of Kewanee. The ceremony took place in the Sacred Heart Catholic church in Tampa, Fla. Dr. Ryan and his bride are at home in Oak Park.

Mrs. Ryan, who has lived in Tampa and Chicago, is a daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Neil Harol of Boston. She attended Notre Dame academy and Boston university. Dr. Ryan attended the University of Illinois Medical school.

Methodist Leaders Consider Plans for Unified School Control

Problems of coördinating the operation and control of 139 higher educational institutions of the three Methodist churches were considered yesterday at the annual session of the board of education of the Methodist Episcopal church. The three churches will merge next April.

The Methodist Episcopal church, parent body and largest of the three denominations, has eighty-five schools, colleges and universities with capital assets of more than 180 million dollars and 64,822 students.

Chicago has been the headquarters of this group of institutions. The uniting conference at Kansas City next April will select the national headquarters of the new board of education. The Southern Methodist church has forty-nine schools, colleges and universities and 27,279 students, and the third church, the Methodist Protestant, has five with 1,330 students.

Activities of the Sally Joy Brown department are sponsored by Chicago Tribune Charities, Inc.

Miss D., a case worker, is anxious to secure beds and springs for two needy families. Mattresses can be supplied.

In one family the father recently contracted tuberculosis and must sleep alone. The mother and two daughters have been crowded into one single bed. A double bed with springs would solve their problem.

Another family of nine members also has a shortage of sleeping accommodations and would appreciate a single bed with springs. The worker will arrange transportation.

ing on the restaurant end of the business this year.

The Maurice H. Karkers and their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Boyd of Barrington, were among those who left Chicago in the snowstorm. They arrived Wednesday at the Camelback inn. Mrs. Frederick D. Corley and her debutante daughter, Miss Marie Louise Corley, are coming on Feb. 15 to spend several weeks at the inn.

Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Tevis of Burlingame and Los Angeles are spending their honeymoon at the inn after having been married in Tucson. Mrs. Tevis is well known in Chicago, for when she was Mrs. Daniel Ericourt she and her husband spent a winter there. Mr. and Mrs. Nicholas J. Conrad and Miss Jane Conrad of Winnetka have left the inn to spend the rest of their vacation in California and Honolulu.

The Donald McKay Frosts of Boston—she was a Miss Ryerson of Chicago—also have left for the Pacific coast after a lengthy stay in Phoenix, where they were at the Jokake inn. The Kenneth Hendersons of Winnetka are due at the inn on Feb. 13 and Mrs. William Burry Jr. of Lake Forest is arriving on the 16th.

Two days later the Walter H. Johnsons will join the Chicago colony there. The W. A. Leverings of Winnetka are expected on Feb. 8. President and Mrs. Robert M. Hutchins of the University of Chicago undoubtedly will be paying a visit to the inn some time during the winter for their elder daughter, Franja, is at the Jokake school, which adjoins the inn.

Mrs. Bartholomay Osborne is arriving Saturday for a holiday at the Remuda ranch at Wickenburg, about sixty miles north of Phoenix. Mrs. Hollis Kirk has been at the ranch since right after Christmas.

Sixty miles in the west is nothing, so "dudes" from Wickenburg think nothing of dashing down to Phoenix for luncheon or dinner, and those who are wintering in the more civilized environs of Phoenix think as little of driving to Wickenburg for the day. Consequently, Mrs. Osborne probably will see a great deal of her brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Simeon B. Chapin Jr., who are staying at the Biltmore. Mrs. Chapin is the former Elsa Bartholomay of Chicago, and although she and her husband live in Greenwich, Conn., they also have a summer home at Lake Geneva, Wis.

Dozens of Chicagoans have houses in and near Phoenix. One of the loveliest is that of Mr. and Mrs. John J. Jr., and Miss Margaret Valentine, also Louis of Evanston who, with their three sons, are settled for the winter in their new home in Lafayette road, just south of Camelback road. The boys go to the Judson school, which is on the desert northeast of Camelback mountain. The two young Valentines, Gordon and Pat, who are at the Camelback inn with their mother and aunt, Mrs. Patrick A. Valentine are pursuing their studies at the Judson school. Next door to the Louis house is that of a former Chicagoan, Mrs. Victor Armstrong, and Mr. Armstrong. She was Mrs. Robert Shedd when she lived in Chicago.

The Burridge Butlers of Hinsdale are spending the winter as usual in their charming house on the slope of Camelback. At the foot of the mountain is the estate of Mr. and Mrs. Loomis Bowes, former Chicagoans who came west to live about ten years ago. He was a portrait photographer when he came, but since then he has developed into an architect. His own house and Camelback inn are two of his products, and just now he is busy supervising the building of a house on the Biltmore grounds for the Tom Kellands.

Friend Steals Girl's Beaux; What to Do?

BY DORIS BLAKE.

[Copyright: 1939: By The Chicago Tribune-N. Y. News Syndicate, Inc.]

"I have a girl chum who has been a neighbor and pal from our earliest school days. She isn't so pretty, but she has a way with her that captivates all the men. If I do say it myself, I am not hard to look at and the boys like me, too. That is, they like me until they meet my chum. Then they cannot see me for dust.

"Four times, of late, we have gone out on foursomes and every blessed time this girl got my escort away from me. She flirts shamelessly. She is fun and I like her, and I do not want to lose her friendship, but I would like to know how to stop her flirting with my escorts. I did try having a talk with her, but she is a stubborn minx and will not listen to reason. I am afraid that what will happen will be that I shall be left on the shelf. As a matter of fact, I have missed out on a few dates because the boy I expected to ask me asked her instead. LORELEI."

It isn't really as serious as all that, Lorelei. You won't be left on the shelf unless you continue to let the girl's behavior addle your little head too much.

You are a group, or a foursome, who all go out for just a good time. None of you is engaged yet, we assume. Just all pals! The boys eventually may step off with girls quite outside your current environments. You girls may meet your fate elsewhere, too. So it boils down to escorts for your immediate dates, yes? Well, that is something, too, in which you would normally be interested.

It seems to us, then, that if you can't change the girl's flirting habits with a heart-to-heart talk you will have to assume a different mental attitude toward her.

You're sure, down deep, you aren't jealous and you mind awfully that you aren't tops always with the boy or boys? You're sure you haven't just a bit of an inferiority feeling when that chum is around?

You keep on liking the girl, so she must have her points which the boys, too, recognize.

Otherwise, if the problem can't be cured or endured, you'll have to take on some other fair maid for the foursomes, won't you?

ADMITS REHIRING WPA MEN FIRED OVER POLITICS

Ex-Boss Witness in Fraud Trial in New Mexico.

Albuquerque, N. M., Feb. 2.—[Special.]—A federal jury trying thirty-five persons accused of WPA frauds was told today that Fred A. Healy, ousted head of the New Mexico relief agency, had ordered the rehiring of WPA workers after they were dismissed for asserted political activities.

E. A. Rose, former zone supervisor for WPA here, testified that eight workers were discharged last April on the recommendation of federal agents, who investigated reports of political pressure on relief clients. Within a month five of the eight had been rehired. The eight men and Healy are among the thirty-five defendants.

"Who rehired them?" demanded United States Attorney Everett Grantham.

"Mr. Healy handled that himself," Rose replied.

Identifies Healy Telegram.

Rose said the five men were Salamon Tafoya, a nephew of United States Senator Dennis Chavez; Lot Gonzales, B. W. Means, Neil McNerney, and Joe De Armond. Three other relatives of Senator Chavez are on trial accused of conspiracy to use the WPA for political purposes.

The witness identified a telegram addressed to him from Washington, D. C., and bearing Healy's signature which advised him to reinstate McNerney as a sidewalk project safety inspector and to reassign De Armond to some position other than that of assistant clerk, which he had held previously.

Rose said he sent a telegraphic reply informing Healy that McNerney was being rehired and asking for specific instructions concerning the type of work to which De Armond should be reassigned.

Opposing Attorneys Clash.

A clash between opposing attorneys over Rose's testimony resulted in an order by the trial judge that the jury consider only that part of his statements which referred to Healy.

Another group of WPA workers, put on the stand by the government, corroborated testimony previously given by fellow workers to the alleged sale of benefit dance tickets and assessment of wages for political campaign funds.

The witnesses said they bought the tickets at 25 cents each from their foreman because they were afraid they would lose their jobs. Many of the workers were required to buy eight tickets, although they did not attend the dances and had no expectation of going, they said.

AX RAIDERS VISIT BUILDING OWNED BY REP. WEBER

The state's attorney's ax squads raided four handbooks yesterday, but there was some dispute as to just where one of the raids took place.

Sergt. Ernest Sloey reported that his men drove seventy-five men and ten women from a handbook at 2924 Southport avenue. This is two doors from the real estate offices of State Representative Charles H. Weber and the address of a tavern operated by his brother, Clarence Weber.

Representative Weber said the raid was not at 2924 Southport avenue, but at 1402 Oakdale avenue, just around the corner. He said that a store room back of the tavern opens on the Oakdale avenue address. He denied there was a handbook in the tavern, but admitted that he owned the entire building.

The other raids were at 3126 North Ashland avenue, 2726 North Clark street, and 1357 Henderson street.

Golfer Divorced

MRS. ELAINE REINHARDT.

Mrs. Elaine R. Reinhardt, who as Elaine Rosenthal was once western woman's golf champion, was granted an uncontested divorce from S. Louis Reinhardt yesterday by Circuit Judge Ralph J. Dady in Waukegan. Mrs. Reinhardt charged desertion. She waived settlement and alimony and was granted custody of two children, Peter, 15, and Melissa, 8. She testified that her husband, a broker, left their home at 425 Egandale road, Highland Park, on Jan. 29, 1938, and never returned. He lives at the Lake Shore Drive hotel.

ADMITS BUYING HOME, CAR WITH STOLEN NICKELS

New York, Feb. 2.—[Special.]—A former maintenance man on the city owned and operated independent subway system, who was one of those discharged upon detection of organized theft of nickels from turnstiles, lived like a man of substantial means on the basis of his $25,000 peculations. This was revealed tonight by his confession to District Attorney Thomas E. Dewey.

Edward J. Rigney, 54 years old, of Queens Village, bought his $4,000 summer bungalow near Sag Harbor, Long Island, and a $1,000 automobile with the nickels he took from turnstiles. The turnstiles took in an average of $75 a day. Rigney covered the thefts by turning back the recording meters.

The nickel thefts first came to light on Jan. 13. District Attorney Dewey contended that 5 million nickels had been stolen by a ring composed of maintenance men and station agents.

ADMITS OWNING COUNTERFEITING PLATES, HELD

Stanley Dale Purvis, 23 years old, 6242 Kenwood avenue, was held to the federal grand jury by United States Commissioner Edwin K. Walker yesterday on his plea of guilty to possessing engraved plates for the manufacture of counterfeit $5 bills. His bond was fixed at $5,000. Purvis was arrested last week when he attempted to cash stolen checks in a currency exchange at 203 South Wabash. A search of his room revealed the counterfeiting equipment. Purvis, an artist, had come here recently from Kansas City, Mo.

BAR COMMITTEE URGES CAMPAIGN FOR BACK TAXES

Suggests Special Agency to Conduct Drive.

The county should start an immediate campaign for the collection of delinquent taxes. This recommendation was made yesterday by the Chicago Bar association's committee on delinquent taxes, headed by Lawrence C. Mills.

The committee, in a report to the association board of managers, said the total general tax delinquency in Cook county now exceeds 500 million dollars. This total includes estimated penalties and interest.

Although large amounts of delinquent real estate taxes were paid last year, there was an increase in the accumulation of unpaid taxes because of real and personal taxes for 1936 and 1937 that remained uncollected, the committee asserted. The increase was estimated at 40 million dollars.

New Bureau Suggested.

The committee suggested that a new bureau be set up by the county board to carry out the program. The report said additional recommendations, including changes in tax laws to strengthen collection machinery, would be made soon.

The new bureau, the committee said, should be composed of one representative each of the county treasurer, clerk, and assessor, one from the county board finance committee, and several assistant state's attorneys. At least fifteen persons should be assigned to work for the bureau if it is to function effectively, the report said.

Study Cut in Early Delinquencies.

The law committee asserted that it may be advisable to provide for reduction of penalties on unpaid taxes for 1935 and prior years. Such adjustments should be made in accordance with standards to be established by the new bureau, the report added.

If the property owner is unable or unwilling to settle the old tax claims on an adjusted basis, then the property should be sold through foreclosure proceedings to satisfy the claim, the report said.

U. OF C. INTENDS ITS AWARDS FOR THINKERS ONLY

Award of University of Chicago scholarships to high school students will be based henceforth upon the students' ability to think rather than upon their fund of knowledge. This was announced yesterday by Dean Leon T. Smith. He said psychological tests will be substituted for the present examinations.

The reason, he said, is this: Many high schools have special coaching courses to give their students an advantage in passing the examinations on fact. But the psychological tests will reflect ability, not training.

BLAST OF CHEMICALS WRECKS PLANT ROOF; ONE WORKMAN HURT

A workman was seriously injured and property damage of several thousand dollars was caused yesterday afternoon when a large tank of chemicals exploded in the plant of the Jordan company at 2630 Arthington street.

The injured man, Hyman Purcell, 29 years old, colored, was taken to the Alexian Brothers hospital, where it was said his face was severely burned.

A skylight and part of the plant roof were blown away, and more than 100 windows in adjoining buildings were shattered. The Jordan company is a manufacturer of heavy chemicals.

Viaduct Railing Keeps Tank Car Out of Street

Three cars of an Illinois Central freight train were derailed yesterday on the viaduct of the spur track at 41st street and Lake Park avenue. One of the cars, a tank car, was prevented from falling off the viaduct into Lake Park avenue by the viaduct railing guard. Railroad officials began an investigation.

BORAH REPORTED MUCH IMPROVED IN GRIP ATTACK

Washington, D. C., Feb. 2.—[Special.]—United States Senator William E. Borah of Idaho passed a restful and painless day in Emergency hospital today where he is convalescing from an attack of grip. He was rushed in an ambulance to the hospital yesterday in the fear he might develop pneumonia.

Mrs. Borah reported that the senator was much improved and had spent an easy night. Dr. George W. Calver, capitol physician, said the senate dean, who is 73 years old, would remain in the hospital for only a short period of convalescence.

Vice President John Garner, who also was on the capitol sick list, was reported today to have recovered from a severe cold but he remained in his hoted suite to avoid a drizzling rain.

George F. Harding Better, May Leave Hospital Today

George F. Harding, Republican national committeeman for Illinois, may leave Passavant hospital today. His physician, Dr. W. H. Holmes, said yesterday that he was "coming along nicely." Mr. Harding, who is 70 years old, was operated on Jan. 21 for a gall bladder ailment.

LAZY WORKMAN DOOMED TO DIE BY FIRING SQUAD

MOSCOW, Feb. 2.—(AP)—The first death sentence resulting from soviet Russia's campaign against lazy workmen was announced tonight in a radio broadcast by the Moscow government station.

The doomed man was S. V. Morozov, lether factory employé who attacked his manager and injured him seriously after being punished for a breach of labor discipline. He was convicted of terrorism and sentenced to be shot.

Prison sentences for a collective farm manager and his assistant were meted out today when witnesses testified they caused the death of nine old women by forcing them to work in a cornfield.

For this Winter:

THIS seems a most appropriate time to remind The Homestead's clientele and all its friends that winter is the best of seasons for taking Spa treatments—or for just a luxurious period of resting and relaxing in these ever-beautiful mountains.

The Homestead, still a haven of refuge from the distractions of a mad world, continues its way unchanged; and invites your consideration of its superlative peace and quiet at some time this year.

THE MAN WHO WAITS MAY WAIT LONGER

Going on last fall's experience we thought we ought to warn you—the flowers that bloom in the spring are pretty sure to see some mighty big crowds gathering at Buick dealers'!

Right now, of course, you can get delivery almost any time you want it—but once spring starts urging folks to get out behind this lithe and lively straight-eight, things are going to be very, very different.

Besides, you can get rid of a lot of fussing and fretting by trading now—old tires, worn brakes, slow-starting engines and all that. Your new Buick of course will start like a flash and run buoyant as an antelope, and we've yet to see the winter going that can make it fret or falter.

"Better buy Buick—NOW!"

*The name "Deak Johnson" is not intended to refer to any specific individual, but merely to a type; the type of "man who cares".

A Name of Fine Traditions since 1788

"DEAK" JOHNSON* goes "riding to hounds" whenever the drag season is on. But that doesn't make him a softy or snob. He indulges in this most vigorous of sports in order to keep fit.

"Deak" practices moderation in all things. When he works, the fur flies. But he doesn't overwork or overeat. And when he drinks, he drinks with judgment. "Deak" is a man who cares.

Since the days when white wigs were formal instead of white ties, Carstairs has been a name of character to men who care. Such forthright men have always found their own kind of trustworthiness in whiskies sponsored by Carstairs.

The same trustworthiness is in the present day Carstairs Whiskey. A blend of illustrious whiskies, Carstairs is notably rich in flavor, yet light in body. A blend of the highest craftsmanship and character.

CARSTAIRS is a blend of several distinguished whiskies, all of them 4 years or more old. It is a combination of straight whiskies, selected for mellow richness, blended with other whiskies of distinctive character, specially distilled to impart light body, delicate bouquet and exquisite flavor.

WEST SIDE FIGHTS REDUCE GOLDEN GLOVES FIELD

OPEN, NOVICE BOYS PROVIDE NIGHT OF ACTION

Next Bouts Tuesday on South Side.

BY HOWARD BARRY.

West Side Golden Gloves fighters moved on toward the Tournament of Champions last night with a series of bouts that were sometimes spectacular, sometimes amusing, and always packed with action. The crowd that gathered in the Madison Athletic club saw the west sectional eliminations reach their halfway point.

Two more nights of fighting—Wednesday and Thursday of next week—will decide the makeup of the team that will go into the Tournament of Champions in the Stadium on Feb. 27, Feb. 28, and March 1.

Both open and novice division fighters entertained last night's spectators with a variety performance. In the course of the evening the fans saw just about everything boxing has to offer. Boys who were knocked down in the first round got up off the canvas to win fights. There were straight, powerful punches given and taken. There was clever defensive work. The awkward flailing of some of the novices was often as exciting as the carefully planned blows of the more expert open division fighters.

How's This One?

Reuben Moreland, Sidney Geller, and the referee drew a torrent of advice from the crowd during a heavyweight novice bout. A blow to the head had Moreland so groggy in the first round that he seemed at the mercy of Geller as he wandered about the ring. Just for an instant Geller came too close and in that instant Moreland hung one neatly on his jaw. Geller went down for a seven count. When he got up he was as groggy as his opponent.

They were both on their bicycles in the second round, but the crowd did not mind that. Every one in the house seemed to have adopted one or the other of the fighters and was highly solicitous to have his man keep out of range of a sudden blow. Moreland shot a right that missed, then swung his glove the other way as Geller was coming up from ducking. The backhand punch connected and Geller blinked with surprise.

Down He Goes.

After the advice from the galleries had reached tumultuous proportions in the third round Moreland slammed a right to Geller's head. As Geller staggered, Moreland hit him with his left. Geller dropped for keeps.

Henry Leslie, a 160 pound novice, won two bouts last night. After scoring a technical knockout over Charles Szelog of the C. Y. O. in the first round, he came back to take a three round decision from Dan Boots.

John Guidara, who had won his first bout on Wednesday evening by a knockout, ran against a tough customer last night in Sylvester Baker, an agile colored boy. Guidara, a good natured red haired Italian, took things coolly for the first two rounds, grinning when wisecracks came from the galleries and occasionally turning his head just a bit to answer his hecklers.

As the third round began the cries of "You're losin', Red!" grew more frequent. Then Red wiped the smile off his face and settled down to some studious boxing. He made a strong finish to get the decision.

Burns Up Energy.

Earl Lites, a colored boy, dashed out of his corner to hammer Charles Wilkinson with both fists for about 15 seconds without a return. Wilkinson simply put both gloves up, protected his jaws with his forearms, and crouched down while a harmless and ceaseless tatoo beat about his well guarded ears.

When Lites had burned off some of his excess energy Wilkinson took the offensive and began pounding the colored boy severely, but Lites also had

Meade Rides 4 More Winners; 40 at Hialeah

Miami, Fla., Feb. 2.—[Special.]—Jocky Don Meade made certain today of a new Hialeah Park riding record when he rode four winners for the second time during the meeting. He also has many doubles and triples to his credit.

Meade's winners total forty, and the meeting is less than half over. One more winner and he will have ridden more winners than any other jocky has brought home at Hialeah in any previous year. Meade won on Stoney Brush, Knight Gallant, Manseo, and Continuity today.

Unusual as his feat was, the racing of the afternoon played second fiddle, in the eyes of many, to the undeclared racing war between Hialeah and the Gulfstream Parks, only seventeen miles apart.

New Track's Betting Declines.

Gulfstream's hopes suffered a terrific blow this afternoon when the total wagering on the eight races fell to less than $66,000. The attendance was approximately 3,500. On the opening day, when free tickets were widely distributed, the mutuel handle was $224,287. The official turnstile count on the first day was 13,964.

The opening at Gulfstream yesterday cut the Hialeah betting total 37½ per cent from the figures of a year ago. Today the Hialeah betting total was $369,229, or about 20 per cent under the $469,969 a year ago. Hialeah's attendance today was 8,272, against 10,889 a year ago.

Gulfstream, at today's rate, would not take in enough revenue to meet running expenses.

Free Ticket War Looms.

The revenue from gate receipts is negligible because of the number of free tickets. While no official statement was forthcoming, it is believed likely that Hialeah is going to fight fire with fire and quietly distribute large numbers of free tickets.

Meade narrowly missed a fifth winner at Hialeah today, being second in the seventh race with the favored Hi-Tide. The winner was Fleet Step at $196.60.

Ticket Seller J. R. Brain felt only gloom while this race was going on, but he wound up $973 richer, instead of $10 poorer. A man had come to Brain's window and asked for a $10 ticket. Brain punched the wrong number, Fleet Step's number. The purchaser vehemently refused the ticket. Under the rules, ticket sellers must stand losses caused by their mistakes.

The Turning of the Street.

I saw Him pass this way with bleeding feet
And all the stones were crimson where He trod;
The flowers grew incarnadine and sweet
From touching of the garments of their God.

I saw His mother standing in the way,
The white tears coursing down her pallid cheek;
She said no word, there was no word to say,
And yet I think He heard her crushed heart speak.

"Are these the feet I kissed in Bethlehem?
Are these the hands I tenderly caressed?
What has He done that men should shatter them?"—
These were the thoughts that rose within her breast.

And then the eyes of son and mother met
For just an instant and were swept apart;
It was a meeting He could not forget,
For well He knew it broke His mother's heart.

HERMAN STEPS ON SCALES; HE'S ALMOST SKINNY

Weighs Only 185 Pounds; Hungers for Action.

BY IRVING VAUGHAN.

Billy Herman of Cub fame came to town yesterday to show himself off as a real 1939 streamlined model. He showed up in the wake of his letter in which he elaborated on the program he had followed to shake off his 1938 curse—excessive weight—and one look at the gentleman from Indiana was sufficient proof that his off-season activities were successful as well as strenuous.

Bill's method for restoring his boyish figure was simple, a transformation he believes will enable him to chase ground balls and swing a bat more effectively than last season, which was a low mark in his career. He did a lot of hunting and refrained from drinking large quantities of water during meals.

Scale Proves His Case.

Herman revealed his sylphlike figure, properly attired, of course, to Cub officials, and to eliminate all doubt he dropped a penny in a weighing machine before witnesses. The poundage totaled 185, which is twenty-seven less than he scaled a year ago at this time and five under his weight at the finish of the strenuous 1938 pennant scramble.

One more Cub contract, duly signed, reached Cub headquarters yesterday, leaving a dozen of the boys among the rebels. The signed document came from Outfielder Joe Marty, who took what was offered and didn't even go to the trouble of enclosing a note of thanks or a hint that he expected more.

South Side Stricken, Too.

The holdout epidemic apparently has spread from the north to the south side. Owner J. Louis Comiskey of the White Sox admitted yesterday that he was feeling the effects of the spring baseball bug. Uncle Lou's case, however, is mild and he has no fear of complications. All except three of his thirty players and two coaches have accepted terms.

The three absentees are Shortstop Luke Appling, Pitcher Thornton Lee, and Outfielder Rip Radcliff. Appling, who had a bad season as the result of an injury and who had been subsisting on the fat salary resulting from his league batting championship several years ago, was given a pay slice. Lee didn't get as much of a boost as he expected. Radcliff wants a little more.

TOBIN A HOLDOUT

Oakland, Cal., Feb. 2.—[Special.]—Pitcher Jim Tobin of the Pittsburgh Pirates joined baseball's list of holdouts today. He returned his fourth unsigned contract to Pittsburgh today. Tobin won 14 and lost 12 games last year.

ERNIE KOY SIGNS

New York, Feb. 2.—[Special.]—The Brooklyn National league baseball club received the signed contract of Ernie Koy, outfielder, today. Koy was purchased from the New York Yankees for $15,000 last year.

LLOYD WANER DISSENTS

Oklahoma City, Okla., Feb. 2.—(AP)—Lloyd Waner, Pittsburgh Pirate outfielder, said tonight he was mailing back his third contract offer unsigned.

Waner declined to say how much salary he was seeking or what the Pirates had offered.

FOUR MORE YANKEES SIGN

New York, Feb. 2.—[Special.]—Four more signed contracts were delivered to the New York Yankees' offices today. The players satisfied with 1939 terms offered by the world champions were Outfielder George Selkirk and Pitchers Oral Hildebrand, Steve Sundra, and George Washburn.

U. S. Trip Just Friendly Call to Schmeling

New York, Feb. 2.—[Special.]—Max Schmeling, German fighter and former world heavyweight champion who arrived on the liner Normandie today, expressed surprise when asked about reports that he had been arrested in Berlin for remarks about Propaganda Minister Paul Joseph Goebbels.

Max Schmeling.

Schmeling professed to be bewildered by the questions, but eventually showed that he knew all about the stories and that he had an explanation ready.

It Started in a Restaurant.

Schmeling was reported to have been in a Berlin restaurant with friends discussing reports that Goebbels had been beaten by Gustav Froelich, an actor, because of the propaganda minister's attentions to the actor's wife, Actress Lida Baarova, and that Schmeling commented:

"It's a lucky thing for Dr. Goebbels that he never tried to start anything with Anny, because I would have broken his neck."

Anny Ondra, wife of Schmeling, is a movie actress and thus is subject to the jurisdiction of the propaganda minister.

When Schmeling was asked whether he had been put in a concentration camp for talking about Dr. Goebbels, he asked to have the question translated into German, although he ordinarily has no difficulty in understanding English.

Don't Be Silly, Says Max.

When it was translated he put on an air of bewilderment and inquired why he wasn't asked something about fighting. He replied, finally: "That is silly. I never have been in a concentration camp. How did such a story start?

"I never said such a thing, because there never was any occasion for saying it."

He was asked about the rumor that Dr. Goebbels had been beaten for attentions to the actor's wife, and replied:

"I saw Dr. Goebbels six weeks ago at a big party. In fact, it was a supper with several hundred people there. Dr. Goebbels was in the center of all activities. I am sure that he never was in an altercation with anybody."

It Sounds Logical.

When asked how the reports about the concentration camp started he replied:

"From what I learned in Paris it was all started out of nothing by a French newspaper. How it happened, as near as I can explain myself, is that I went from the city about that time to my country house. Probably they were trying to get me in the city and couldn't find me.

"I think the whole story is silly. When you get into these political matters why ask me? Why don't you ask the German ambassador?"

It was explained to Schmeling that the German ambassador had been called home after America's ambassador had been brought from Berlin.

"Probably he's on vacation," Schmeling said.

Just a Friendly Visit.

The German fighter said that he had come here principally to visit friends whom he had not been able to see after he was injured in losing the championship to Joe Louis. He will remain only a week or two.

He made it clear that he would be glad to arrange for another fight "with Louis again or Max Baer or anybody."

"Of course I'll have to retire as a fighter some day," he said, "but there is one thing I know and that is that I can beat Louis. If I ever get the chance again I'll prove it."

Schmeling looked fit, but admitted that he had been under care of a physician ever since his fight with Louis last summer.

MARQUETTE JARS NORTHWESTERN QUINTET, 36 TO 26

N. U. Fades After Getting Early Lead.

Marquette's basketball team unleashed a furious second half attack to defeat Northwestern, 36 to 26, before 4,000 in Patten gymnasium last night. Dave Quabius, rangy guard, led the assault with three long baskets and a free throw which, with three goals in the first period, gave him scoring honors with 13 points.

It wasn't until late in the first period that the Hilltoppers uncorked the sharpshooting which rolled up a top-heavy lead. The Wildcats got off to a 10 to 4 lead early in the game and clung to a 13 to 11 advantage with three minutes of the first half remaining. Then Quabius rifled in two baskets from far out which, with goals by Adams and Komenich, placed the visitors in an 18 to 13 lead at the half.

Just Can't Miss.

The drive continued into the second period as Quabius hit a pair of baskets from his favorite spot in mid court. Adams scored a tip in shot and Komenich hit from the side to run the lead to 26 to 13. Thirteen minutes elapsed before the Wildcats scored their first points of the half on a pair of free throws by Bob Voigts.

The Hilltoppers continued their successful bombardment of the basket and rolled up a 33 to 15 lead. With 16 minutes of the period gone Bob Koble scored a pivot shot for Northwestern's first basket of the half. This was the signal for a belated Wildcat rally which accounted for eleven straight points, but the drive came too late.

MONTREAL, Que., Feb. 2.—(AP)—The Chicago Blackhawks enhanced their own National Hocky league playoff hopes and dimmed those of the Montreal tonight by handing the Canadiens a 4 to 2 defeat before a crowd of 8,000.

Bolstered by the addition of Defense Man Joe Cooper, obtained in a trade for Alex Levinsky, the Hawks gained a tie for fifth place with the Detroit Red Wings. They now are five points ahead of the Canadiens, to whom they lost, 1 to 0, last week in Chicago.

Desilets Scores Twice.

Leading the Chicago attack was Joffre [Dizzy] Desilets, who played last season with the Canadiens, and the veterans Mush March and Johnny Gottselig. Desilets got two goals and aided in two others. Gottselig had a goal and three assists, while March had a goal and an assist.

Rod Lorrain, brought back recently by the Canadiens from New Haven, got one score and Herb Cain the other.

The turning point in the game was a second period penalty to big Cliff Goupille. While Cliff was off, Desilets and March scored their second period goals and put the Hawks up, 4 to 1.

Gottselig and Desilets scored on long shots in the first period. Cain's goal came in the last minute of the first period and Lorrain scored in the thirteenth minute of the final session.

LEVINSKY CHANGES MIND

BY CHARLES BARTLETT.

Alex Levinsky, veteran defense man of the Chicago Blackhawks, will leave Chicago today for Philadelphia, where he will join the Ramblers of the International-American league.

Levinsky, who was traded to the Ramblers, a New York Ranger farm team, following Tuesday night's game between the Rangers and the Hawks in Madison Square Garden, had refused to report to the Ramblers earlier yesterday.

He Hopes to Come Back.

Last evening, however, he said that he had received word from Lester Patrick, manager of the Rangers and director of their farm system, that Patrick would do everything in his power to see that Alex is returned to the majors. Patrick said, however, that it would take him a few days to arrange a deal. On this basis, Levinsky, who had said that he never would play with a minor league team, agreed to go to Philadelphia. Levinsky said that he would send his wife, child, and mother, who are in Chicago with him now, to the family home in Toronto.

Levinsky was suspended by the Hawks on Dec. 2, for what was termed "indifferent work," on a reported basis of no pay for the suspension. William Tobin, president of the Hawks, said last night, however, no deductions had been made from Levinsky's salary during the suspension. He also said that the Blackhawks had paid Levinsky a voluntary bonus at the end of last season and added that the Hawks would pay Alex's regular major league salary from the time he reports to Philadelphia until the end of the season.

Alex Can't Understand It.

The trade involving Levinsky sent him to Philadelphia along with an unnamed amount of cash for Joe Cooper, who had been playing with the Ramblers after having been up with the Rangers for a couple of seasons.

Levinsky said that he could not understand the Hawk management's idea in trading defense men when they should be seeking scoring players. The Chicagoans had scored eight goals in the ten games before last night. He said that Paul Thompson, coach of the Hawks, in announcing the deal to him, told him that he had been playing well, but that the Hawks needed new faces "in order to keep the crowds coming."

Two undefeated sectional leaders in the City High School Basketball league were dropped yesterday, the Roosevelt juniors falling before Schurz, 34 to 28, and the Marshall seniors bowing to Austin's fourth quarter rally, 38 to 35.

Austin Rallies to Win.

Marshall led Austin, 23 to 17, at the half and 27 to 23 going into the final period, in which Austin scored 15 points to Marshall's 8. Duckett led the winners with 13 points and Lauchiskis topped the losers with the same number.

The Phillips and Tilden seniors maintained their undefeated pace in the central section by beating Harrison, 35 to 30, and Kelly, 37 to 20, respectively. It was the fourth triumph for both.

Scores in Wrong Basket.

A break occurred in the Schurz-Roosevelt senior game, which the former won, 26 to 24, to stay in the north section race. In the third quarter, with the score 11 to 10 in favor of Roosevelt, Jack Needham, Roosevelt forward, dashed in following a free throw by Schurz, and accidentally batted the ball into the Roosevelt hoop. The goal was credited to Capt. Larry Puls of Schurz.

De Paul academy scored its second victory in five starts in the senior division, north section of the Catholic High School league last night by turning back Loyola, 34 to 30, at Loyola. De Paul also won the junior game, 26 to 21. Lineups:

LOYOLA, DE PAUL BATTLE STRONG RIVALS TONIGHT

Meet City College, Butler on Armory Court.

If there be any citizens who think the basketball teams of Loyola and De Paul universities, which will meet next Wednesday evening in the Chicago Stadium, are just frittering away their time with routine gymnasium exercises, they need only journey out to the Madison street armory tonight to discover that they are in error.

The boys who play basketball for Butler university of Indianapolis and the City College of New York are not in the habit of playing stooge for any team in the land. That is why they will be on hand tonight to play De Paul and Loyola, respectively, in the armory, and for keeps.

De Paul is scheduled to meet the Butler visitors at 8 o'clock, and Loyola and the City College of New York team will clash approximately an hour later.

Both of the local adversaries, whose game on the Stadium court next Wednesday is sponsored by the Catholic Youth organization, would do well to forget that feud in view of this evening's pair of games. The Loyola lads, coached by Lennie Sachs, have yet to be trimmed in thirteen consecutive games against some of the leading teams of the country. The Blue Demons, directed by Tom Haggerty, after a faltering opening have come on with a rush.

IRISH MEET ILLINI

Notre Dame, Ind., Feb. 2.—[Special.]—Notre Dame's basketball team will be cast in the rôle of giant killer tomorrow night when Illinois plays here.

The Irish lost three of their first six starts, but have won seven straight in the last month. Minnesota's conference leading Gophers were the latest victims of the Irish, 55 to 33.

Illinois, Minnesota, and Marquette were the three teams to defeat the Irish in twenty-two starts last year. Minnesota has been disposed of, and there is a home-and-home series with Marquette coming up later this month. The revenge motif, however, centers around the Illini for the moment. Tomorrow's opponents are evenly matched in height, both teams being below average, but both have speed to burn.

Bob Richmond will replace Capt. Tom Nisbet of Illinois, who was declared scholastically ineligible today.

INDIANA PLAYS XAVIER

Bloomington, Ind., Feb. 2.—[Special.]—In its final nonconference game of the season, Indiana university's basketball team will meet the strong defensive Xavier quintet in Cincinnati tomorrow night and then return here to renew its Big Ten campaign Monday night against Ohio State.

Xavier, with a record of seven victories in ten starts, losing only to Washington and Lee, DePaul and Wisconsin, has demonstrated a tight defense that may halt Indiana's speed under the basket.

MICHIGAN STATE CARRIES FIGHT ON HURLER TO LANDIS

East Lansing, Mich., Feb. 2.—(AP)—Ralph H. Young, director of athletics at Michigan State college, today wrote Judge Kenesaw Mountain Landis, commissioner of baseball, protesting against the Cleveland Indians signing the Spartans' star pitcher, Glen Rankin, and asking "What may we expect from the Indians in the future?"

After a conference with Baseball Coach John Kobs, Young said his protest was based on the fact that the Indians "influenced" Rankin to leave college while he still had two years of study ahead of him. Dean R. C. Huston, chairman of the athletic council, disputed assertions made at Cleveland by Frank Kohlbecker, business manager of the Indians, that Rankin was behind in his studies and had decided to leave school. Huston produced Rankin's scholastic record for the fall term, showing he had made two B's, two C's and one D, and was "definitely not failing."

Young said he stressed to Landis that other clubs, notably the Detroit Tigers and the Chicago White Sox, always had urged student players in whom they were interested to complete their education.

MRS. MARKT WINS FIRST MATCH IN BADMINTON PLAY

In anything you do or say—

In everything you try to do—

Ten Years Ago Today — Loretta Neitzel of Detroit smashed three world records in the national amateur speed skating championship at Minneapolis. . . . Paddy Harmon announced that he had obtained the services of Tommy White to train his squad of fifty boxers for THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE'S second annual Golden Gloves tournament.

De Correvont's a Student, Too; Passes Tests

Bill DeCorrevont, former Austin High school football star, successfully completed his first semester studies at Northwestern university, where he is enrolled in the engineering school. Grades posted yesterday revealed that Bill obtained a B minus average. He received one A, two B's, and two C's.

Because of his exploits in leading Austin to the Chicago High school championship in 1937, De Correvont attained national attention and his choice of a college was followed with interest.

The midyear examinations cost the Wildcat basketball team the services of Don McCarnes, sophomore center, who will be ineligible for the remainder of the season. McCarnes had seen considerable action in the games to date and his loss will weaken the position as the only experienced player available is Bob Koble, a senior.

Another Northwestern athlete whose services are lost, although not through ineligibility, is Capt. Herb Wolfson of the swimming team who was operated on yesterday for appendicitis in the Evanston hospital.

CARNEGIE HARD HIT

Pittsburgh, Pa., Feb. 2.—(AP)—Ineligibility struck hard at Carnegie Tech's football squad today when a reserve and two freshman players were forced out of school and ten members of the varsity team were placed on probation.

The biggest worry to Coach Bill Kern, who signed his new one year contract today, was the loss of John Henrion, reserve guard, who had been counted on to bolster the Skibo line. Henrion was dropped because of poor grades.

The Skibos, who went through the last regular season with only one defeat—at the hands of Notre Dame—have been considered one of the east's most potent prospects for 1939. Their defeat of Pitt sent them to the Sugar Bowl, in which Tech lost to Texas Christian.

The ten players placed on probation must make up their grades by midsemester or face expulsion.

BOZEMAN FACES HALL TODAY IN BILLIARDS MEET

Jay Bozeman, with a record of fifteen victories and five defeats in the round robin world championship three cushion billiards tournament, will open his home stand today in Bensinger's Wabash Avenue Recreation, meeting Allen Hall in afternoon and evening games, starting at 3:30 and 8 o'clock. Hall has won ten games and lost eight.

HALL BEATS DENTON.

Kansas City, Mo., Feb. 2.—(AP)—Allen Hall, Chicago, took a 50 to 33 forty-six inning match from Tiff Denton, Kansas City, tonight in the world three-cushion billiards tournament.

Denton, whose high run of the night was only three, lost one point on a foul when he touched the wrong ball with his cue in the fourth inning. Hall had two high runs of six.

JACKSON WINS TWO.

Detroit, Mich., Feb. 2.—(AP)—Clarence Jackson of Detroit won two games in a row in the national three-cushion billiards round robin tournament when he defeated Charlie McCourt of Cleveland, 50 to 44, this afternoon and 50 to 45 tonight. The afternoon game lasted 75 innings and McCourt had a high run of 5, while Jackson had three 4s.

REISELT BEATS LAYTON.

New York, Feb. 2.—(AP)—Otto Reiselt of Philadelphia scored a double victory today over John Layton of Sedalia, Mo., to extend his record in the national three-cushion billiard tournament to seven victories in twelve games. He came from behind tonight for a 50 to 42 triumph in 38 innings to deal Layton his sixth setback in ten games. The afternoon score was 50 to 37 in 53 innings.

HERZL DEFEATS WILSON, 47 TO 46, IN LAST MINUTE

A basket in the final minute by Morris Tabas enabled Herzl to defeat Wilson, 47 to 46, yesterday on the Herzl floor. It was an Illinois Junior College conference game. Wilson led 22 to 18, at the half. Wexler led the Herzl attack with six baskets and a free throw. Jordan led the Wilson squad with fifteen points. Score:

OKLAHOMA A. & M. PAYS TRIBUTE TO WRESTLING COACH

Stillwater, Okla., Feb. 2.—(AP)—Oklahoma will pay tribute tomorrow to Edward Clark Gallagher, dean of American wrestling coaches who never was a wrestler. It will be Gallagher day at Oklahoma Agricultural and Mechanical college, where the 54 year old veteran has spent half his life teaching wrestlers the leverage principles he learned when an engineering student.

Hundreds of his former pupils, many of whom now are turning out winning teams of their own, will return for the occasion. A capacity crowd of 9,600 is expected to fill the new half million dollar fieldhouse to watch Gallagher's 1939 mat squad open the home schedule in a dual meet with Indiana university. Odds on the outcome may be indicated by the Aggies' dual meet record under Gallagher—121 victories, 4 ties, and 5 defeats.

Gallagher, whose 1938 squad won both the National Intercollegiate and National A. A. U. championships, has spent 32 years at A. & M. He has been head wrestling coach 23 years.

American National Bank Table Tennis Team Wins

The American National Bank defeated the Homer Landau Printers, 20 to 0, in a Metropolitan Industrial Table Tennis league game in the Stay and Play courts last night. The Campbells Soup team scored twice, defeating the Linnea Sport Club, 14 to 6, and the WPA Administration, 15 to 5.

Yates Plans to Defend British Amateur Title

Atlanta, Ga., Feb. 2.—(AP)—Charles Richardson Yates of Atlanta, who last spring brought home the British amateur golf championship, will cross the Atlantic again to defend the crown.

"The odds are always greatly against any one player winning a big tournament like the British amateur," he said. "But you can be sure that I'll do my darnedest to stay in there with the boys. I understand the Hoylake course at Liverpool where the tournament will be played is a long and tough one. I have never played there."

The tournament is scheduled for May 22-27. Yates said he hoped to reach the scene at least a week in advance to get the feel of the course and warm up the old putter that served him so well last year.

Because of the pressure of his banking duties Yates has become a week-end golfer, but has managed to do some fancy par cracking in recent rounds. Of his last twelve rounds he has nine in the 60s. His best score was a 65, which is six strokes under regulation figures for the East Lake course.

Yates will have one tournament under his belt before sailing for England. Late in March he will compete in the Augusta national tournament along with Bobby Jones and a selected group of professionals and amateurs.

CASTEEL QUITS MICHIGAN STATE FOR ARIZONA JOB

East Lansing, Mich., Feb. 2.—(AP)—Miles W. [Mike] Casteel, assistant football and assistant track coach at Michigan State college since 1924, announced his resignation tonight to become head football coach at the University of Arizona.

J. F. McKale, director of athletics at Arizona, announced at Tucson that Lou Zarza, former left end at Michigan State, would come with Casteel as an assistant. Casteel also will appoint a freshman coach, McKale relinquishing that job to devote all his time to the athletic directorship.

Casteel will be assured a three year tenure at Arizona, where state law forbids the board of regents to offer more than a one year contract. He succeeds Orian Landreth, who resigned last month to return to high school coaching at Long Beach, Cal.

RIGGS WILL FACE STIFF CHALLENGE IN INDOOR MEET

A field of seventy-five, including Bobby Riggs, America's No. 2 singles star in 1938, and most of Chicagoland's high ranking players, will open competition in the annual midwestern indoor tennis tournament in the 108th Regiment armory, 34th street and Wentworth avenue, tomorrow night.

Riggs, who is expected to carry the bulk of the burden in the United States' defense of the Davis cup this summer, is paired in the doubles with Seymour Greenberg, Northwestern university freshman. Greenberg reached the semi-finals of the recent national indoor junior tournament and is ranked fourth nationally in his division.

Others who will compete in the men's division of both singles and doubles are Marvin Wachman of Milwaukee, and Frank Froehling, who is said to have the hardest service of any player competing today. Froehling is captain of the Northwestern tennis squad and Wachman, a graduate of the national boys' tournaments, is a star member of the Purple varsity.

Heading the women's contingent will be Helen Fulton, Chicago's No. 1 player, who will have competition from a number of the members of the recently organized Junior Wightman squad. These include Marian Woolheiser of Indian Hill and Frances Engelman, and Marion Hart of the south side.

URGES CHICAGO AS CENTER FOR PLANE BUILDING

Business Leaders Appear Before War Secretary.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Feb. 2.—[Special.]—Chicago's advantages for becoming the aviation manufacturing center of the nation as well as the operating center were placed before Assistant Secretary of War Louis Johnson today by a delegation from the Chicago Association of Commerce.

The group offered the city's pledge to coöperate in any possible way with the federal program to strengthen the nation's air forces on sea and land. At the same time they pointed out that because of its central location and facilities Chicago would be the ideal capital for plane and airplane parts manufacturing.

Enlist Senator Lewis' Aid.

Oscar G. Mayer, president of the Association of Commerce, headed the committee. Other members were Fred Fagg, chairman of the association's committee on aviation and dean of Northwestern university school of commerce; James P. Haynes, executive vice president of the association, and Richard Hackett, vice president in charge of industrial development.

The committee also presented its case to Edward J. Noble, chairman of the civil aeronautics authority, and enlisted the coöperation of Senator James Hamilton Lewis [D., Ill.]. The association is seeking to get navy aviation expansion at the Great Lakes Naval Training station through Assistant Secretary of the Navy Charles Edison.

In the conference with Mr. Johnson the committee detailed its plans for aeronautical day in Chicago March 1, during which the assistant secretary is to address representatives of Chicago industry and meet representatives of plane and airplant parts manufacturers.

Will Appear at Later Date.

Senator Lewis asked that he might be permitted to follow the assistant secretary to speak at a later date on the advisability of giving the central area of the country in general and Chicago in particular an important part in the air expansion program.

Members of the committee reminded the secretary that Illinois now has become the army's air capital and pointed out that it would be to the advantage of the army to encourage central location of manufacturers to coördinate all elements of air strength.

They recalled that Chicago is now the commercial air capital and is being served by eight major air lines. This, they said, is another reason that it should be to the army's interest to have manufacturing centered in the city.

The committee asked that expansion of the army air force be reflected in development at Fort Sheridan. In contacts with the navy, the association is seeking to have the Great Lakes Naval Training station be made a base for seaplane training and operation.

Placed in Secretary's Lap.

The city's petition was placed in the lap of Mr. Johnson because he has made a comprehensive study of the Chicago situation in relation to the mobilization of industry in the event of war.

"We had a most favorable conference and received encouragement from the assistant secretary," said Mr. Haynes. "We were given ideas which will help us in our campaign in contacting manufacturing groups with the purpose of having them establish plants in Chicago.

"The campaign will be pressed with renewed vigor and with every expectation that we will meet with success."

NEWSPAPER PLANT BURNS.

MARTIN FAVORS GOING SLOW ON LABOR CONTROL

Tells Legislators He's Fighting Reds.

Lansing, Mich., Feb. 2.—[Special.]—Homer Martin, who is fighting the favorites of John L. Lewis, C. I. O. generalissimo, for continued control of the United Automobile Workers of America told a legislative committee here today that his battle is one "against forces attempting to deliver the U. A. W. into the hands of communists."

Martin appeared here unexpectedly to speak at a house labor committee hearing on Gov. Frank D. Fitzgerald's proposed labor relations bill, following closely a delegation representing the rival faction of his organization. He urged careful consideration of any legislation to regulate labor, although conceding that a labor relations bill might be helpful if it did not arouse "fear and class hatred" within union ranks. In such case, he said, left wingers in organized labor would take advantage of the situation to stir up trouble.

Decries Government Rule.

Chief objection of Martin to the Republican administration's bill seemed to be that "too much legislation" regulating employer-employé relationships might lead to a tight governmental control of all industry. He said automobile workers have a number of objections to the bill in its present form, but he did not summarize them, promising to analyze the measure closely later and submit a detailed statement to the committee.

After his committee appearance he voiced belief that supplementing the federal Wagner act with a state law might be unwise, particularly if it were "poorly drawn."

Rivals Demand Safeguard.

Representative Elton R. Eaton [R., Plymouth] asked Martin if the legislature could do anything helpful in his battle against communists. Martin expressed faith the union could settle its difficulties unaided and "in a democratic way" and that "disturbing elements" would be ejected.

Members of the rival U. A. W. delegation had demanded insertion of a safeguard in the labor bill against use of strike breakers by employers. They also viewed the entire bill as more of a handicap to unions than to employers.

INSURANCE POLICIES LINKED TO DEATH IN MURDER RING INQUIRY

Philadelphia, Pa., Feb. 2.—[Special.]—The stepmother of Philip Ingrao, 18 years old, who died of arsenic poisoning, had applied for eighteen insurance policies on his life in the year and half before his death, the commonwealth charged today at a coroner's inquest. Another victim of arsenic poisoning, Ferdinand Alfonse, died, it was asserted, without knowing he was insured for $5,500, with his wife as the beneficiary.

Twenty-five witnesses took the stand at the inquiry into the deaths of four of the alleged ten or twelve victims of a suspected arsenic murder ring.

Herman Petrillo, Mrs. Stella Alfonsi, and Mrs. Corina Fravato are under arrest as the chief members of the alleged ring. Mrs. Fravato was Ingrao's stepmother.

JOHNSON NAMES 3 TO TEACHERS' COLLEGE STAF

Three appointments to the staf of the Chicago Teachers' college were announced yesterday by Superintendent of Schools William H. Johnson. One of those named is Raymond M. Cook, now a teacher at Hyde Park High school. He will be a supervisor of practice teaching at the teachers' college.

Cook formerly supervised an experimental program, now discontinued, involving apprentice teachers selected from neighboring universities.

Last year he lost a suit against the board of education in which he contended he was entitled to be certified on the eligible principals' list following an examination held in 1936. His new position was established in accordance with requirements of the American Association of Teachers' Colleges, for a supervisor for every fourteen practice teachers or cadets.

Alexandria C. Moll and Coleman Hewitt, both of the school board bureau of curriculum, were assigned to the teachers' college as instructors in home mechanics courses.

FREED OF ASSAULT CHARGE.

Michael Fundach, 810 North Dearborn street, was freed yesterday by Judge Matthew D. Hartigan in the Felony court on charges of assault with intent to kill. Fundach said he stabbed two men in self defense during a quarrel. Both have recovered.

DIES OF AUTO INJURIES.

Logansport, Ind., Feb. 2.—[Special.]—Mrs. Myrlea Fountaine, 35 years old, wife of Frank Fountaine, local business man, died last night from internal injuries suffered when an automobile driven by Mrs. Dewey Schmidt, wife of the Cass county sheriff, skidded on the icy pavement and overturned.

NIGHT COUGHING CAN OFTEN BE PREVENTED

If your child often coughs at night because of even a slight cold—do this at bedtime: Thoroughly massage Vicks VapoRub on throat, chest, and back. VapoRub's poultice-vapor action tends to keep the air-passages clear, helping to maintain normal breathing through the nose, and so reducing mouth-breathing (the frequent cause of night coughs). Try it tonight—learn for yourself another reason why VapoRub is a family standby in more homes than all other medications of its kind put together.

HUNTLEY CHAPIN AGREES TO $13,800 SUPPORT AWARD

An agreement to pay $13,800 toward the support of his son during the next 138 months appeared yesterday to have ended nine years of court battles for Huntley Chapin. Judge Oscar F. Nelson told attorneys he would approve the settlement if it is signed by Huntley's first wife, Mrs. Myrtle McLaughlin Chapin Cummings. Chapin, beneficiary of a Buffalo, N. Y., utilities fortune, has married twice since his first divorce in 1931.

He had been paying $200 a month for support of his son, Huntley Jr., but had asked a reduction. The new contract will be made an assignment and prior lien against a $200,000 trust fund of which Chapin is a beneficiary. Attorney William C. Napier will take the agreement to Tampa, Fla., for Mrs. Cummings' signature. Chapin lives with his third wife in Hollywood.

AGREEMENT ENDS THREAT OF RADIO PLAYERS' STRIKE

New York, Feb. 2.—[Special.]—The threat of a nation-wide strike of radio entertainers was ended today. The American Federation of Radio Artists and a committee representing most of the large advertising agencies in the country which sponsor commercial radio programs reached an agreement on wages and working conditions for radio performers after more than thirty hours of negotiation.

Although there was no official announcement of the terms of the agreement, it was reported that the performers won most of their demands. When the conference started it was said that the advertising agencies were opposed to recognizing the union as the sole collective bargaining agency. While it was said the settlement did not formally recognize the union as a closed or a preferential shop, this question was passed, it was reported, to the broadcasting companies which already have given the union a preferential shop on networks for sustaining programs.

NORTHWESTERN PLANS BUILDING TO HONOR SCOTT

Evanston Edifice to Cost $750,000.

BY AL CHASE.

Walter Dill Scott, who will retire next fall after nineteen years as president of Northwestern university, is to be honored with a $750,000 memorial building on the Evanston campus. It will be erected by popular subscription and will be used as a student union building and community auditorium. It will be called Scott hall and will be a memorial to both Scott and his wife, Anna Miller Scott. A program to carry out this plan to honor President Scott will be launched at once by alumni, friends, and trustees of the university.

Dr. Walter Dill Scott.

Since Dr. Scott announced his intention to retire a committee of prominent Chicago and north shore citizens has been considering an appropriate memorial to signalize his contributions to the Chicago community and the university.

Decide to Erect Building.

The decision to erect Scott hall was announced last night by Harold H. Anderson, chairman of the committee and former president of the university's alumni association.

Scott hall will complete the women's east quadrangle, extending from University place to Emerson street along Sheridan road. It will be three stories high, of Wisconsin lannon stone, and will harmonize architecturally with the other quadrangle buildings.

According to tentative plans it will contain a 1,000 seat auditorium, a restaurant, private dining rooms, a recreation room, a library, and two lounges, one of which may be transformed into a ballroom for receptions and dances.

Community Center Long Needed.

Since the turn of the century such a university-community center has been badly needed. During the last twenty years there have been a number of attempts to raise funds for such a building.

"Since Scott became president of Northwestern in 1920 the university has enormously increased its educational and physical resources," said Anderson. "The number of graduate students has increased since 1920 from 1,270 to 4,291. The libraries have increased their holdings from 198,000 to 587,000 bound volumes.

"The annual budget has risen from $1,400,000 to $5,230,000. The endowment has increased from $5,625,000 to $26,700,000. The university's assets have advanced from $11,960,000 to $47,600,000."

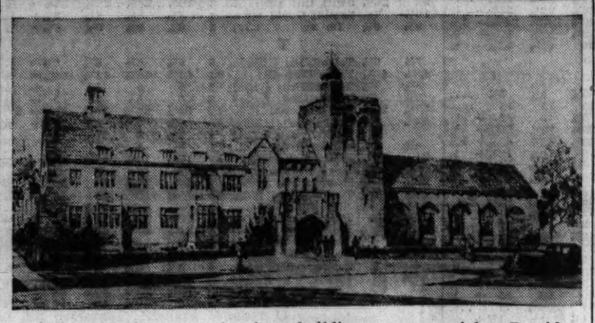
Committee Members Announced.

The members of the Scott hall committee besides Mr. Anderson are: Bertram J. Cahn, Philip R. Clarke, Robert A. Gardner, Martin M. Gridley, George B. Everitt, Silas H. Strawn, and Professors James W. Bell, F. S. Deibler, Oliver J. Lee, Samuel N. Stevens, and Theodore Koch of Northwestern's faculty.

Others on the committee are: Harold J. Clark, president of the Northwestern Alumni association, Edwin O. Blomquist, Mrs. Edson B. Fowler, Mrs. Lloyd Harrold, Mrs. Richard B. Hart, and Mrs. George A. Paddock.

The committee hopes to complete its campaign by the middle of March and to hold ground breaking ceremonies on May 1, President Scott's seventieth birthday.

Memorial to University's President



It is planned to erect the above building as a memorial to President Walter Dill Scott, who will retire as president of Northwestern university next fall. Total cost of building and its endowment will be $750,000, to be raised by popular subscription. Scott hall will round out the east women's quadrangle, extending from University place to Emerson street along Sheridan road, Evanston. It was designed by James Gamble Rogers of New York.

SEC Reports Fall of Trade in Securities

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Feb. 2.—The value of stock and bond transactions on registered exchanges declined more than 41 per cent in 1938 to a total of 13 billion 926 million dollars, the securities and exchange commission reported today.

This was the lowest annual total since the commission began its compilations in 1934. The drop from a volume of 23 billion 709 million dollars in 1937 reflected the sharp inroads cut into business and financial activity by the Roosevelt depression.

Sales of Securities Compared.

Stock sales in 1938 were valued at 12 billion 337 million dollars, against 21 billion 10 millions in 1937, a decline of 41.3 per cent. Bond volume reached 1 billion 589 million dollars, or 41.1 per cent below that for 1937, when the dollar total was 2 billion 699 millions.

The number of shares of stock traded during 1938 on the twenty-two registered exchanges totaled 537,882,281, or 35.7 per cent under the 1937 total of 836,893,847 shares.

The New York Stock and Curb exchanges accounted for 95.4 per cent of the value of all sales, 94.8 per cent of stock sales and 99.9 per cent of bond sales on all registered exchanges.

Chicago Volume of Transactions.

Sales on the Chicago Stock exchange totaled $111,139,230, compared with $190,268,069 in 1937. There were 11,337,617 shares of stock traded, against 13,568,531 in the preceding year. Bonds, with a principal value of $216,700, sold for $176,907. This compared with bond sales of $23,470 and a principal amount of $69,000 in 1937.

Chicago Curb exchange sales totaled $51,935 to the time of suspension of trading on March 14, 1938. Volume in 1937 totaled $1,310,518. The Chicago Board of Trade reported securities transactions of $250,609, against $1,310,519 in 1937.

The value of trading on seven exempt exchanges in 1938 amounted to $7,682,710, a decrease of 41.3 per cent from the 1937 total of $13,095,100.

COAL SHIPMENTS BOLSTER RAILS' FREIGHT TRAFIC

Coal shipments by rail in the week ended Jan. 28 increased 9,263 cars over those in the preceding week and 10,876 over those in the corresponding week last year. The nation's aggregate loadings increased 4,020 cars, or 0.7 per cent, over those of the preceding week and 41,203 cars, or 7.4 per cent, over those for the same week in 1938.

The association's weekly classification of loadings by commodity follows:

New York, Feb. 2.—[Special.]—Bank clearings in 22 leading cities for the week ended yesterday totaled $5,228,669,000, which was slightly above those for the preceding week and 3.2 per cent larger than in the same week last year.

The increase over last year, although small, marked the fifth consecutive week of favorable comparisons, Dun & Bradstreet reported today. The total for the 1938 week was $5,069,096,000, and in the preceding week this year the aggregate was $5,094,011,000.

McKESSON FIRM'S (CANADIAN UNIT) ASSETS ARE LOW

New York, Feb. 2.—(AP)—Rowley W. Phillips, a director of McKesson & Robbins, Inc., said in an interview today that sales of stock of McKesson & Robbins, Ltd., of Canada, with a face value of $1,020,000 had been made to the public. The Canadian concern now has tangible assets of only $68,000, he said.

In addition to these tangible assets, there are accounts receivable, English sales rights, and guarantees by the parent American company, he said.

MEXICO ACTS TO PEG PESO EXTERNAL VALUE JUST UNDER 20 CENTS

Dispatches from Mexico City yesterday reported that the Bank of Mexico had taken steps to stabilize the external value of the peso. The bank will seek to maintain a rate of exchange of slightly less than five pesos to the dollar, giving the currency a value of about 20 cents.

Before expropriation of foreign owned oil properties last March the Peso was worth 27.7 cents. The Bank of Mexico ceased to support the currency at this figure after the government issued the expropriation decree.

The peso has declined gradually since then, selling at the nominal figure of 20.25 cents on exchange transactions yesterday in New York.

In the future, it was reported, the Bank of Mexico will buy dollars when the peso's exchange rate falls to 4.985 and sell dollars when the rate rises to 4.99.

Foreign currencies were fairly steady in terms of the dollar yesterday.

ICE INDUSTRY PLANS 3 MILLION 'AD' CAMPAIGN

Atlanta, Ga., Feb. 2.—[Special.]—Guy W. Jacobs of Steubenville, O., president of the National Association of Ice Industries, today announced plans for a three year national advertising campaign which calls for expenditure of more than three million dollars.

Jacobs, who is business director of the association's national ice advertising program, addressed the golden anniversary joint convention of the Southern Ice Exchange and the Georgia Ice Manufacturers' association.

Proper advertising is necessary for the survival and progress of any industry, Jacobs declared. To illustrate the effect of advertising, Jacobs said the ice industry, as a result of its campaign during the last three years, has shown a smaller percentage of losses than any other industry.

Jacobs predicted that the new advertising campaign "will send the ice business to an all time high."

Wilmington, Del., Feb. 2.—(AP)—Chancellor W. W. An exception provided that each class B share shall be entitled to one-twentieth of the right accorded each share of common stock and that treasury stock of Mokan shall not be recognized in the distribution.

Chicago January Customs Collections Are Smaller

Customs collections of the Chicago district declined in January to $700,714, Joseph A. Ziemba, collector of customs, reported yesterday. The total was $917,606 in January, 1938, and $1,316,819 in December of last year. December collections were boosted by imports for the holiday season, Ziemba said.

UTILITIES LIGHT WAY FOR RALLY IN STOCK PRICES

Steel Group Climbs; Trading Quiet.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, Feb. 2.—Stock market prices advanced fractions to about 3 points today to recoup yesterday's losses. Easing of European war fears was said to have aided the advance.

Trading again was quiet on turnover of 698,980 shares. Of 703 issues traded, 435 advanced, 107 declined, and 161 were unchanged.

Power and light shares led an early upturn, but other sections were prominent in the afternoon. Strength in the utilities was ascribed to reports that the federal administration would seek appeasement of the industry to stimulate an expansion program.

The highest prices in these shares were posted in the morning, but they were well maintained. Among the favorites were Columbia Gas and Electric, Consolidated Edison, North American, United corporation, Stone and Webster, American Waterworks, and Electric Power and Light. Substantial fractional gains were the rule, but Consolidated Edison climbed 1⅛ points.

American Telephone Climbs.

American Telephone advanced 5⅜ points to 158½. This was its highest price in many months.

Steels were outstanding in the industrial section. United States Steel rose 2⅛ points. Bethlehem and Youngstown Sheet and Tube each added nearly 2 points. Republic gained 1. Motors also worked substantially higher. Chrysler added 2 points and General Motors 1⅝.

Leading copper, rubber, and mail order stocks showed gains reaching above 1 point. Trading in these groups was relatively light. Several railroad shares contributed gains of 1 point or more.

Airplane issues were higher. Sperry corporation featured with an advance of 1⅞ points. Douglas, Boeing, Bendix, Glenn Martin, and United Aircraft added major fractions.

Gains Nearly 3 Points.

Westinghouse, up nearly 3 points, was outstanding in the heavy machinery group. Standard Oil of New Jersey lead its group with a rise of 1 point. Building industry stocks closed mixed.

Many specialties came to the fore at various times. Loft took volume honors and climbed 1⅛ points to 10¼. Cluett Peabody also was well liked. It closed at 27⅞, up 2⅛ points.

Collateral borrowing by exchange members as of Jan. 31 totaled $666,496,877, a decrease of $50,587,452 from the Dec. 31 total. The low point since 1929 was $241,599,043 on Aug. 1, 1932. The record high was $8,549,383,979 on Oct. 1, 1929.

At the end of last month 1,235 stock issues were listed on the exchange, comprising 1,424,782,189 shares with a total market value of $44,884,288,147. At the end of 1938 a total of 1,237 stock issues of 1,424,258,369 shares with a market value of $47,490,793,969 was listed.

STANDARD GAS' REORGANIZING FEES SLASHED

Wilmington, Del., Feb. 2.—[Special.]—Federal Judge John P. Nields today allowed $360,250 of a total of $1,254,500 in fees and expenses requested in connection with the reorganization of the Standard Gas and Electric company.

Big cuts were made by the court in individual fees which were asked by lawyers and others active in the reorganization. Hagenah & Flynn, Chicago, attorneys for the corporation, were granted $75,000. They asked for $180,000. William H. Hagenah, one of the partners of the firm, was recently elected president of the Public Utility Engineering and Service corporation, the service unit of the Standard Gas organization.

Richards, Layton & Finger, Wilmington attorneys for the company, were allowed $50,000 of the $150,000 sought.

Testify AAA Is Supported by Payrollers

Washington, D. C., Feb. 2.—[Special.]—Farmer witnesses before the senate agricultural committee expressed the conviction today that the chief support given the present AAA program is coming from farmers on the government pay roll.

They testified in support of a "cost of production" farm bill sponsored by seventeen senators as a substitute for the present administration crop control program. The proposed law would fix prices to guarantee farmers their cost of production and a profit.

"I can't name a single real dirt farmer who wants a dole or a government payment," declared Russel T. Kike, a youthful, red haired farmer from Massilon, O. "The only ones who do are those now getting $4 a day under the present program."

Supported by Another Witness.

Another witness, Walter Meyne of Readlyn, Ia., asserted that the only farmers opposed to the cost of production bill are the "AAA fellows getting their $4 daily."

Senator George W. Norris [Ind., Neb.] wanted to know how many farmers were on the pay roll because of the present act. The Iowa farmer estimated there were four or five in each township.

"What do they do?" asked Norris.

"O, they drive around and measure our fields to see if we comply," Meyne replied. "And then we have the corn sealers [for federal loans], of course."

Harry Kleinert, St. Jacob, Ill., who described himself as a tenant dairyman operating in the St. Louis milk market area, said there "was deep resentment against the AAA in the Mississippi valley." He said that farm foreclosures and tenancy were increasing because of recent low farm prices.

Wheeler's View on Farmers.

Senator Burton K. Wheeler [D., Mont.], one of the sponsors of the proposed new law, declared that American farmers are in danger of being reduced to the economic status of peasants.

"After all," Wheeler said, "everything except the farmer is on a price fixing basis in this country. Labor organizations have price fixing with the help of legislation. The same is true of every large industry. Why not give the farmer the same treatment?"

While questioning a witness about his complaints against a farm coöperative Senator Wheeler declared that many city health regulations actually are a guise to put the independent farmer out of business.

The witness, Claude E. Wood of Brown City, Mich., was asked why he did not quit the coöperative of which he complained and market his own milk. He explained that city health regulations prevented this and that if he quit the coöperative he would have no market.

"Either your coöperative is in cahoots with the distributors or it is dumb," commented Senator Wheeler.

Senators to Quiz Treasury Head on Silver Program

Washington, D. C., Feb. 2.—(AP)—A special senate committee arranged today to hear testimony from Secretary Morgenthau next Tuesday on the operation of the domestic silver purchase program. The committee was created to survey the results of domestic silver purchases. Members will ask Morgenthau what benefits, if any, have accrued from the policy, under which United States producers are paid 64.64 cents an ounce for the metal. Chairman Pittman [D., Nev.] of the committee said that criticism of the purchase program had made a thorough study of the subject advisable.

THIS IS NOT SO HOT— ILLINOIS' HORSERADISH STEADILY LOSING 'PEP'

East St. Louis, Ill., Feb. 2.—[Special.]—Representatives of the horseradish industry in this district, facing losses because of diseases reducing the "power" of their crop, today were urged to import roots from other areas. Lee A. Somers, University of Illinois expert, said such importations were necessary if the potency of the radish was to be maintained.

In the last three years the strength of the horseradish produced in this area has constantly weakened. About 65 per cent of all the horseradish grown in the United States is produced here.

The solution, Somers said, was the importation of disease free roots from Cook county, Illinois, and from Michigan, Minnesota, Wisconsin, and New Jersey. This, he said, would "save the industry."

Horseradish growers from St. Clair, Madison, and Monroe counties in Illinois and St. Charles, St. Louis, and Jefferson counties in Missouri are meeting here.

SUBWAY WORK BIDS ARE CLOSE; PONTARELLI LOW

Less than $1,000 separated the two lowest contractors' bids received by the city yesterday for the building of the first section of the Dearborn street subway. The bids were opened by Ralph H. Burke, deputy subway commissioner, in the absence of Commissioner Philip H. Harrington.

Michael Pontarelli & Sons entered the lowest bid, $1,874,320, for the excavating and construction of the stretch of subway tunnel in Milwaukee avenue between Chicago and Haddon avenues. This section is 3,322 feet long.

John Marsch, Inc., was a close second with a bid of $1,875,227, and the Cooke Contracting company of Detroit was third with $1,910,500. Nine bids were entered, all of them by Chicago contractors with the exception of the Detroit company.

The Dearborn street subway will serve the Logan Square division of the elevated railways. It will make a connection with the elevated near Paulina street and bring trains underground in Milwaukee avenue to Lake and Canal streets, east in Lake to Dearborn, and south in Dearborn to Congress street.

SEARS-ROEBUCK JANUARY SALES ABOVE YEAR AGO

Sales of Sears, Roebuck & Co. in the thirteenth period of its fiscal year totaled $31,496,864, it was reported yesterday. This volume in the four weeks ended Jan. 28 was an increase of $1,862,088, or 6.3 per cent, over that in the same period a year ago.

For the entire fiscal year ended Jan. 28, the firm's turnover was $534,741,427, a decrease of $38,132,674, or 6.7 per cent, from that for the preceding fiscal year.

The sales volume for the four weeks ended Jan. 28 was next to the smallest for the fiscal year. The lowest sales were in the first period ended Feb. 26, 1938, when they totaled $30,148,610.

Young Alleges Morgan Seeks C. & O. Control

Cleveland, O., Feb. 2.—(AP)—Robert R. Young declared tonight that J. P. Morgan & Co. interests were attempting to seize control of the profitable Chesapeake and Ohio railway from him. Young, who with an associate bought controlling stocks in the Van Sweringen rail system two years ago, said "Morgan interests" were attempting to add two members to the present board.

Robert R. Young.

The New York financier recently changed C. & O.'s bond financing to an "independent group" at, he said, a $1,400,000 saving in a $30,000,000 issue. On Tuesday he sent a telegram to Senator Robert Taft [R., O.] urging that the Cincinnati Union Terminal company, of which Taft is a director, take the same step. The C. & O. owns one-seventh interest in the terminal company.

Charges Effort to Retaliate.

Asked what he meant when he said in the telegram that a "Wall street clique" was "seeking to retaliate" for the diversion of C. & O. financing to midwestern interests, Young replied:

"Last spring when they put Earle Bailie [partner in J. & W. Seligman & Co., New York], John B. Hollister [Taft's Cincinnati law partner], and John L. Dickinson [Charleston, W. Va., banker] on the C. & O. board they thought that would enable them to control the C. & O. financing, but certain directors whom they expected to be pliable proved themselves to be beyond the Morgan-Guaranty [Trust company of New York] sphere of influence.

"Immediately after the C. & O. financing went to Halsey, Stuart & Co. at a saving of $1,400,000 from the Morgan bid, Bailie launched a program to add two more directors to the C. & O. board who would be subject to Morgan influence."

Young Retains Control.

The Young-Guaranty Trust warfare broke out last spring and resulted in a proxy fight to control the C. & O. board. A compromise eventually resulted in which the three were added to the board, with control still standing with Young.

Although Young would not comment, informed sources said the present lineup was four directors standing with each group, and the other three as more or less "independents." Because one of these three is seriously ill, a swing of only one might result in a board deadlock.

Lackawanna Railway Will Order 6,000 Tons of Rails

TWO BIG STEEL CONCERNS SHOW LOSSES FOR 1938

Both Had Profits in Preceding Year.

The Republic Steel corporation and American Steel Foundries both operated at a loss in 1938, it was disclosed yesterday. In the preceding year the steel companies had substantial net incomes.

Republic Steel and subsidiaries in a preliminary report for the year ended Dec. 31, 1938, announced a net loss of $7,997,825. The big corporation, which has headquarters in Cleveland, O., had net earnings in 1937 of $9,044,147, which were equal to $1.14 a share on the outstanding common stock.

For the fourth quarter Republic Steel reported net income of $308,613, equal to $1.09 on the 6 per cent prior preference stock. In the final quarter of the preceding year the company had a net deficit of $247,323. In the quarter ended Sept. 30, 1938, net loss was $2,387,556.

Chicago Company Has Loss.

The 1938 net loss of American Steel Foundries, which has main offices in Chicago, amounted to $1,750,235, compared with net profit of $3,617,761 in 1937. The 1937 earnings equaled $2.88 a share on the common stock.

A preliminary statement of Real Silk Hosiery Mills, Inc., showed consolidated net income for the year ended Dec. 31 of $119,018. This was equal to $6.95 a share on the 7 per cent preferred stock. Net earnings, the company said, were figured without deduction for Indiana gross income taxes on interstate shipments. Provision for this tax was credited directly to surplus as a result of a decision of the United States Supreme court last year holding such tax unconstitutional, according to the company.

Earnings Compared With 1937.

In 1937 Real Silk had net profit of $20,583, equal to $1.20 a preferred share. In that year $76,155 was deducted from earnings for the Indiana tax, it was explained.

The Sun Oil company and subsidiaries reported net earnings of $3,085,119, equal to $1.07 a common share, in 1938. In the preceding year net income was $9,554,085, or $4.17 a share.

The 1938 net income of the New York Telephone company amounted to $29,377,181, or $6.97 a common share, compared with $34,415,352, or $7.96 a share, in 1937. In the December quarter net income totaled $7,903,490, or $1.87 a share. In the corresponding quarter of 1937 net earnings were $8,653,487, or $2.05 a share.

New York Bonds.

New York, Feb. 2.—(AP)—The bond market edged higher today in a continuation of the recovery from last week's slump.

There was a feeling in Wall street that the air, which had been filled with uneasiness over European peace, was clearing, at least temporarily. Boardroom tape watchers viewed approvingly the domestic business picture.

Favorite corporate loans, with the secondary rails in the van, showed gains of fractions to 1 or more. Gains of 1 or more included New York Central 55, Nickel Plate 4½s, Frisco 4½s of '78, Southern Pacific 4½s of '68, Western Union 5s of '60, and International Telephone 5s.

United States governments were strong, many issues touching new highs for a year or more. Final quotations were 16-32ds of a point higher to 3-32ds lower.

Transactions totaled $6,364,500, face value, contrasted with $4,994,300 on Wednesday.

COTTON

American cotton markets were unsettled yesterday. Mills bought the nearby deliveries, while southern interests sold the deferred months. Old crop futures closed unchanged to .04 cent higher, while the new were .01 to .04 cent a pound lower.

Uncertainty regarding the government farm program is reported to be restricting speculative activity in cotton exchanges, both here and abroad. The British government purchased 1,000,000 yards of sheetings yesterday from English mills.

Spot cotton closed unchanged, with New York 8.99 cents; New Orleans, 8.63 cents; Houston, 8.37 cents, and Galveston at 8.33 cents a pound. Prices follow:

ILLINOIS REGAINS THIRD PLACE IN MANUFACTURING

Produces About 9 Pct. of National Total.

Illinois has regained its position of third rank in state manufacturing, a compilation by the Illinois Manufacturers' association showed yesterday. The state has nosed Michigan out of that rank.

The value of goods manufactured in the state amounts to nearly 9 per cent of all the manufactured products of the country. Illinois is outranked as a manufacturing state by New York and Pennsylvania.

The compilation made by the association is based on the revised census of 1937 manufacturing released by the United States bureau of census, a division of the department of commerce.

Value Above 5 Billions.

The value of goods manufactured in Illinois in 1937 is listed at $5,305,246,319. This is a gain of $1,562,147,102, or 41 per cent, over 1935, the year on which the previous census was based. The national total is reported at $60,710,072,958.

The values placed on the manufactured products of other leading states follow: New York, $7,310,674,419; Pennsylvania, $6,032,083,003; Michigan, $5,296,100,960.

Other states in the east north central territory, in which Illinois is grouped, are listed as follows: Ohio, $5,099,816,893; Indiana, $2,497,547,946; Wisconsin, $1,772,310,417.

15 Per Cent Below 1929.

The value of goods produced by Illinois factories in 1937 was about 15 per cent below the 1929 total. In that year the state's output of manufactures was valued at $6,282,092,000. The 1937 total, however, was about 60 per cent above the 1933 total of $2,502,175,233.

QUEZON REJECTS STANDARD'S BID FOR OIL SEARCH

Manila, Feb. 2.—(AP)—President Manuel L. Quezon said today he had rejected the only bid submitted for development of possible Philippine oil resources. The bid was made by the Standard-Vacuum Oil company. Presidential Secretary Jorge B. Vargas said Quezon had decided to permit the National Development company, a government subsidiary, to do the oil prospecting.

Quezon said he objected to a clause the Standard-Vacuum company attempted to have inserted in the contract, and that his rejection was final. He said the clause would have permitted the company to suspend all development work if any one challenged the legality of the contract. He said the company itself could have instituted such a suit.

CHICAGO LIVE STOCK

The market for hogs rose 10 to 20 cents yesterday in response to an extremely light run at the Chicago stock yards. The movement from the country was curtailed both by weather conditions and the recent break in prices.

A rise of 10 to 15 cents early yesterday raised the top for slaughter lambs to $9.50, equaling the highest sale since Nov. 30. However, the stronger market did not hold later, when buyers managed to erase the first gains.

The market for steers reacted after a stronger opening yesterday, with late sales weak to 25 cents lower than the preceding day.

OIL, GAS LEASES HELD TAXABLE AS PROPERTIES

Illinois Assessments Urged at Once.

Springfield, Ill., Feb. 2.—[Special.]—Attorney General John E. Cassidy held in a formal opinion today that oil and gas leases and royalties are taxable under Illinois property tax laws. Tax officials said the ruling would subject millions of dollars worth of Illinois oil leaseholds to taxation.

Oil and gas interests, as long as they are "absolute or of indefinite duration," are real property and should be assessed as such at "their fair cash value," Cassidy said. The attorney general's opinion was written for state's attorney William Sonnemann of Vandalia.

Asks Early Assessment.

Acting Governor John Stelle, terming the opinion a "boon to central and southern Illinois counties," urged Chairman Simeon Leland of the tax commission to summon his commissioners "immediately" to assess oil and gas properties this year.

"This will mean relief to approximately forty downstate Illinois counties," Stelle said, "and will be the means of relieving financial conditions in hundreds of school districts."

The opinion means no additional tax revenue to the state government, tax officials pointed out. The state receives no part of the property taxes levied for local governmental purposes in Illinois, they said.

Royalties Regarded as Rent.

Cassidy held that royalties on oil and gas lands are rent, or "closely analogous thereto." He held that gas and oil fall under the general revenue act and laws on minerals and property.

"Our courts have held," Cassidy said, "that an oil or gas lease in the usual form conveys a freehold interest in the real estate to which it applies. The courts say this is, in effect, a sale of a part of the land and may be assessed to the lessee separately as real property."

R. H. Sweet, supervisor of property assessments for the state tax commission, said the opinion was "a big thing for the oil counties."

EXTRA DIVIDENDS ARE DECLARED BY THREE CONCERNS

Sheaffer Pen Sales 2d Best for January.

The W. A. Sheaffer Pen company, the Vick Chemical company, and the National Union Fire Insurance company yesterday declared extra dividends in addition to other disbursements.

The pen company's directors voted at Chicago to disburse 25 cents on Feb. 25 in addition to a dividend of $1 on the common shares of record Feb. 14. The last previous payment was 75 cents on Oct. 15, 1938.

The company announced that January sales were second highest for that month in its history. Sales for the month reached their peak in 1929. Turnover in November and December was the largest in nine years.

Vick Chemical Votes Extra.

Vick Chemical announced an extra dividend of 10 cents and the regular quarterly payment of 50 cents, payable March 1 on shares of record Feb. 15. Last year the firm paid four quarterly extras of 10 cents each.

An extra of $1 in addition to the semi-annual payment of $1.50 on stock of the National Union Fire Insurance company of record Feb. 6 was declared for payment Feb. 20. An additional disbursement of $1 was paid Aug. 15, 1938.

Another Chicago firm, the Chicago Towel company, voted to pay on March 20 the quarterly dividend of $1.75 on the preferred stock and $1.50 on the common stock of record March 10. The company paid $2 on the common Dec. 20.

"DIVIDEND ARREARS CERTIFICATE."

Investors' Guide: I used to own fifty shares of $6 preferred stock in the Illinois-Iowa Power company. The stock skipped its dividend in 1933, however, and has been skipping ever since. A couple of years ago the company recapitalized. The result is that instead of my old preferred I now have fifty shares of new preferred that is supposed to pay $2.50 a year and fifty shares of new common stock. Neither of these is paying dividends, so I'm not sure that the reorganization helped me much.

The company also sent me a "dividend arrears certificate" when it reorganized. This has paid nothing, either, and I should appreciate an explanation of just what it is.—R. D.

Answer: The dividend arrears certificates were issued in settlement for accumulated back dividends of $24 a share on your old preferred when Illinois-Iowa Power was recapitalized in May, 1937.

The certificates entitle you to receive up to the full amount of $24 a share in back dividends when and if such distributions are declared by directors. They are convertible into the new common stock at the rate of one common share for each $24 of accumulated dividends. The conversion privilege expires Dec. 31, 1940, which is the maturity date for the certificates. The claim of these certificates against earnings is junior to that of the new preferred stock, but prior to that of the new common.

INTEREST FROM ROME.

Investors' Guide: I am thinking of investing about $3,000 in bonds of Rome, Italy—the 6½s due in 1952. At present prices they are paying a 9 or 10 per cent return. Have these bonds ever defaulted on interest payments? How do you rate them?—B. J. B.

Answer: No. Interest has been paid regularly since the bonds were issued by Rome in 1927. The money from the issue of $30,000,000 was used for municipal utility projects. Under the sinking fund provisions, which call for setting up a fund sufficient to retire all bonds by maturity, more than $10,000,000 have already been retired.

Although interest has been paid, the bonds must be considered speculative, because of the uncertainty of Italy's ability and desire to continue to grant foreign exchange for payment of interest. The continuance of international complications throughout Europe is another factor in making the bonds a risky place for funds.

Wirephoto Brings First Original Pictures of Barcelona's Fall—Citizens Rejoice as Rebels Arrive

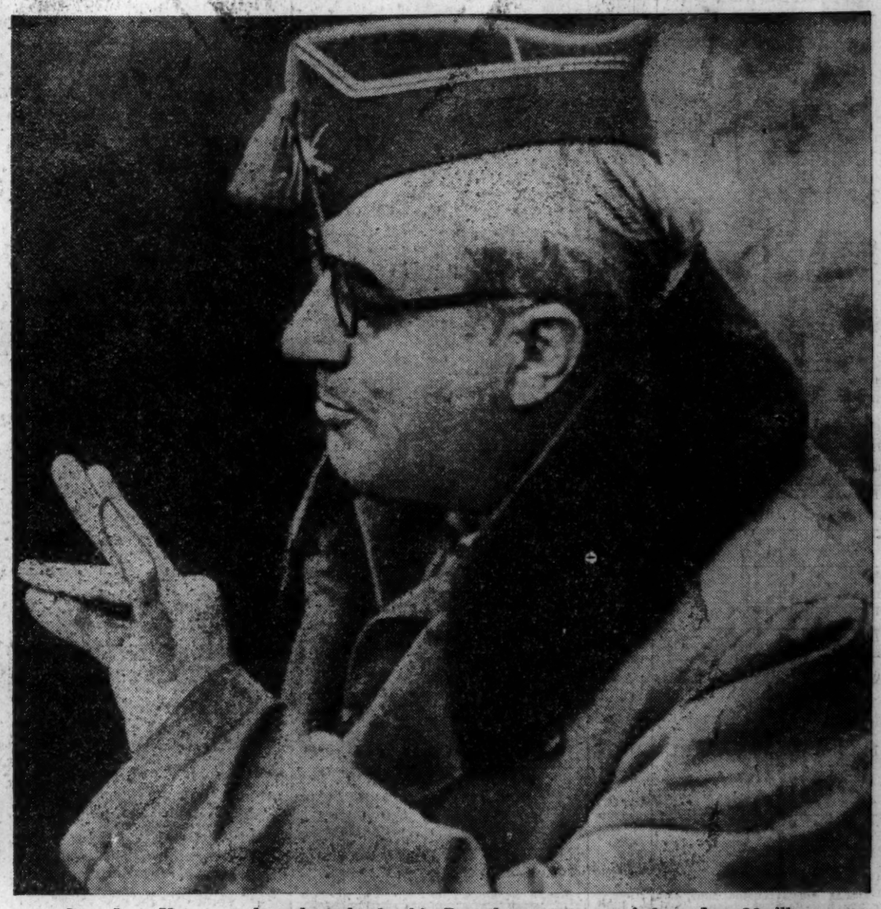
All photographs by Associated Press Wirephoto from Paramount News.

Men, women, and children greeting Spanish insurgent troops as they marched into Barcelona and down the Paseo de Colon, one of the principal streets of the captured loyalist capital. Prospect of square meals again with the coming of the rebels was one of the principal causes of rejoicing.

A young woman of Barcelona gives the hand of welcome to one of the Navarrese and Moroccan soldiers who led the bloodless entry of rebels into the city.

Instead of finding foes, the conquerors found cheering friends as they entered Barcelona at 12:30 p. m. That meant a real lunch for hungry citizens from the army's kitchens.

Two women, relief from the strain of war showing on their faces, greet a rebel trooper.



Gen. Juan Yague, under whose leadership Barcelona was occupied on Jan. 26, illustrates the "pinching" tactics by which the rebels cut off the city.

This Spanish lad, perched high on a chair, expressed his joy as the rebels swarmed into Barcelona without a shot being fired. He is getting a good look at the troops that won the biggest victory of the 2½ year war.

Proudly holding a crucifix, this devout woman was one of the thousands inside Barcelona who joined the crowds to welcome the singing rebel victors. Monarchist red and gold flags were hastily displayed for the occasion.
